1. Applicability

These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements between Elsevier and any third party to an order ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order, supersede all prior and contemporaneous proposals, agreements and communications between Elsevier and the Client. These terms and conditions shall be binding on each party and shall be governed by the laws of the country where Elsevier has its principal place of business, unless prior written consent of Elsevier is obtained.

2. Definitions

For the purposes of the TC, Elsevier shall mean the company within the Elsevier group that is providing the Products and Services as set out on the Elsevier order acknowledgement or invoice. Where general terms and conditions of business are prepared by the Client, these shall not apply and the TC shall prevail. Any variation to the TC and any representations and warranties made by Elsevier shall not be effective unless expressly agreed in writing on an order and shall only be effective in respect of that order and shall not prejudice any rights created as to other contracts. Where Products are sold to the Client that contain third party products or software such a sale may subject to additional licence terms.

3. Offer and acceptance

Each order for the Products and Services by the Client from Elsevier shall be deemed to be an offer to the Client of the Terms and Conditions and Service subject to the TC. No order placed by the Client shall be deemed accepted until a written confirmation of acceptance has been given by Elsevier. In the event of a conflict of terms and conditions, the provisions of the TC shall govern.

4. Prices, taxes and currencies

Prices quoted are exclusive of VAT (where applicable) and any other costs and expenses, which are directly related to the promotion, demonstration or explanation of Products or Services or the publication of advertising material. The Client shall allow Elsevier’s authorized representative at any reasonable time to have access to Client’s premises (or to other relevant premises) for the purpose of inspecting Client’s facilities, books and records to verify the accuracy of any advertisement supplied by the Client. Elsevier may terminate this TC at any time in the event of a breach by the Client of any of its obligations under the TC. If the Client cancels an order either fully or partially, a cancellation fee may be charged. All cancellations must be in writing and are subject to a minimum charge of 20% of the original order value.

5. Payment

Unless otherwise agreed in writing, payments shall be effected within thirty (30) days of the invoice date in the currency invoiced. Time for payment shall be of the essence. Elsever may add any cost or fees to any Client account and shall be entitled to refuse to supply any Products or Services until payment is made. Where the Client is in arrears, then interest at the rate of 1% per month may be charged. Payment of the invoice is subject to verification of all payments. If payment is not made within the time stipulated by Elsevier, the invoice amount will be increased to cover any external or internal costs which have been incurred or committed up to and after the date of invoice.

6. Distribution

The Client shall not engage in piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products or any other products of Elsevier or its affiliates, nor shall it directly or indirectly facilitate any other party to engage in those activities. The Client shall promptly notify Elsevier if it becomes aware of any such piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products by any third party. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from any third party the amounts due to it for the sale of its Products, excluding full credit control and solely bearing all of its own losses resulting from any uncollected amounts. Default or failure in obtaining such payments will not affect the Client’s obligation to make payments to Elsevier under clause 5.

7. Intellectual property

Copyright and other intellectual property rights in all Elsevier proposals, publications and other Products and Services shall remain with Elsevier unless agreed in writing. The Client shall not freely assign, sell, transfer, duplicate, grant any right of use in or with respect to, or otherwise dispose of any of the Products and Services, or any part of them, except as permitted by law. The Client is solely responsible for ensuring that proposed advertising copy is received at Elsevier in electronic form (or such other form as specified by Elsevier) and within the relevant deadline set by Elsevier (the “Closing Date”). Where copyright is reused or not at all, otherwise agreed in writing, Elsevier may use the Products for other purposes, including the incorporation of advertising material.

8. Liability and compensation

Elsevier shall not be liable for any of the following losses which may arise by reason of breach of this TC or any implied warranty, condition or other term, any representation or any duty of any kind imposed on Elsevier by operation of law (a) any loss of anticipated profits or expected future business; (b) any loss of reputation or goodwill; (c) any damages, costs or expenses payable by Elsevier to any third party; (d) any loss of any order or contract; (e) any loss that was not foreseen or reasonably predictable by the Client at the time Elsevier and the Client entered into this TC and was not avoidable by a reasonable course of action; or (f) any indirect or consequential or other loss or damage, howsoever caused, which is not a direct loss or expense.

9. Force majeure

If by reason of labor dispute, strikes, inability to obtain labor or materials, fire or other action of the elements, acts of war, acts of God, governmental action, governmental restrictions or any other causes beyond the control of a party, such party is unable to perform in whole or in part its obligations set forth in this TC, then such party shall be relieved of its obligations under this TC. The Client agrees to indemnify and to hold Elsevier harmless from any and all actions, including reasonable legal fees and expenses incurred by Elsevier, arising out of or related to the Advertising Materials, including the Canadian Parliament.

10. Audits

The Client will allow Publisher’s authorized representative at any reasonable time to have access to Client’s premises (or to other relevant premises) for the purpose of inspecting Client’s facilities, books and records to verify the accuracy of any advertisement supplied by the Client. Elsevier may terminate this TC at any time in the event of a breach by the Client of any of its obligations under the TC. All cancellations must be in writing and are subject to a minimum charge of 20% of the original order value.
