Fertility and Sterility

Overview

Fertility and Sterility is an international journal for obstetricians, gynecologists, reproductive endocrinologists, urologists, basic scientists and others who treat and investigate problems of infertility and human reproductive disorders. The journal publishes juried original scientific articles in clinical and laboratory research relevant to reproductive endocrinology, urology, andrology, physiology, immunology, genetics, contraception, and menopause. Fertility and Sterility encourages and supports meaningful basic and clinical research, and facilitates and promotes excellence in professional education, in the field of reproductive medicine.

1. Applicability

These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties for the "TC". These terms supersede any previous agreements or communications between Elsevier and the Client. (The Client) shall be considered a part of the Elsevier group in that providing the Products or Services as set out in the Elsevier order acknowledgement is an integral part of Elsevier's business. Where products are subcontracted, the Client shall be treated as a third party product or service which is subject to the relevant terms and conditions of supply.

2. Offer and acceptance/ Description

Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing, all offers and orders for the Products and Services shall be binding on the Client subject to the condition that the offers and orders are accepted in writing by Elsevier. The offer and acceptance shall be governed by the laws of the country where the offer is made. Except as otherwise agreed in writing, all offers will be considered as open for a period of 30 days from the date of receipt of the written offer by the Client.

3. Force majeure

Both parties will endeavor to accomplish a prompt and efficient performance of the Services or the execution or performance of a contract provided that such performance is permissible under the Applicable Laws and Regulations. If either party is unable to perform or delay performance of any part or all of the Services or the execution or performance of a contract on the date specified in the Contract or within the period specified therein, due to any cause beyond the control of such party and which was not caused by the fault or negligence of such party, including but not limited to acts of God, labor disputes, epidemics, strikes, lockouts, riots, war, fire, flood, accidents, or any acts, actions, omissions, or misrepresentations of any governmental authority or any third party which causes the inability or delay, such party shall not be liable for any loss, cost, or expense caused by any such cause or delay and shall not be liable for any damages, claims, or expenses of any kind or nature which may be incurred or committed as a result of the delay, including any cost or expenses incurred by the Client.

4. Prices, taxes and currencies

Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing, the price shall be exclusive of any taxes, duties, or levies imposed on the sale or supply of the Products and/or Services. All prices are quoted in the currency specified in the contract, unless otherwise agreed in writing.

5. Payment

Payment for the Products and/or Services shall be made in accordance with the terms and conditions specified in the contract. In the event of any dispute or default by the Client in payment of any or all of the amounts invoiced, Elsevier shall be entitled to suspend or cease all further delivery of the Products and/or Services until payment is received in full.

6. Distribution

The Client shall not sell, lease, assign, reproduce, or sublicense the Products or any other Products or Services it owns, sells, or licenses without the prior written consent of Elsevier. The Client shall immediately cease selling, using, or utilizing the Products and/or Services if, after written notice by Elsevier, the Client does not cease immediately.

7. Intellectual property

The Client acknowledges and agrees that all proprietary and intellectual property rights in and to any Know-How, inventions, processes, technologies, trade secrets, data, information, or any other data or information that may be developed, created, or acquired as a result of the performance of the Services or the execution or performance of a contract, including any works embodied in any of the Products (the "ELSEVIER INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY") shall be the sole and exclusive property of Elsevier. The Client shall not disclose, copy, modify, distribute, desensitize, reverse engineer, disassemble, or decompile the ELSEVIER INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY, or any part thereof, except as expressly permitted by the terms and conditions of the contract or the Applicable Laws and Regulations. The Client acknowledges and agrees that the ELSEVIER INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY is subject to all of the Applicable Laws and Regulations of the country or countries in which the Services are performed or the execution or performance of the contract is to take place.

8. Liability and claims

To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, this Agreement shall exclude any liability for any act or omission of Elsevier, its officers, employees, or agents, regardless of the cause or nature of the act or omission. Elsevier shall not be liable for any indirect, incidental, special, or consequential damages, including lost profits, lost savings, or other damages arising out of the use of or inability to use the Products and/or Services, even if Elsevier has been advised of the possibility of such damages. Elsevier shall not be responsible for any interruption in the performance of the Products and/or Services caused by acts of God, labor disputes, epidemics, strikes, lockouts, riots, war, fire, flood, accidents, or any acts, actions, omissions, or misrepresentations of any governmental authority or any third party which prevents Elsevier from providing the Services or the execution or performance of a contract. Elsevier shall not be liable for any loss, cost, or expense caused by any such cause or delay and shall not be liable for any damages, claims, or expenses of any kind or nature which may be incurred or committed as a result of the delay.

9. Applicability

These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties for the "TC." These terms supersede any previous agreements or communications between Elsevier and the Client. The offer and acceptance shall be governed by the laws of the country where the offer is made. Except as otherwise agreed in writing, all offers will be considered as open for a period of 30 days from the date of receipt of the written offer by the Client.
