ELSEVIER TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF SUPPLY

1. Applicability
   These terms and conditions apply to all proposals, offers, agreements and any third party order ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the "TC"). They supersede any previous understandings and agreements between the parties.

2. Offer and acceptance
   (a) Every order for the supply of Products must be accompanied by a duly completed order form or purchase order mutually accepted by the parties. An order for the supply of Products will not be accepted unless it is signed by an authorized representative of the Client.

3. Payment
   (i) Payment terms are not negotiable, and payment is due upon receipt of invoice. Any invoice may be submitted at the end of each month, or for goods/services delivered in accordance with a purchase order or contract. Payment is due within 30 days of receipt of an invoice.
   (ii) If any term of the TC is held to be void, unenforceable or unreasonable (including, without limitation, due to any illegality, invalidity, voidness, voidability, illegality, invalidity, or unenforceability of any part of the TC), then the parties shall negotiate in good faith to amend the TC in order to comply with all applicable laws, so that as far as possible the remainder of such provision shall continue in full force and effect.

4. Cancellations & Returns
   (a) If the Client cancels an order on or after the Closing Date, a cancellation fee may be charged. All cancellations must be notified to Elsevier in writing within 14 days of the Closing Date. This fee will be calculated to cover any external or internal costs which have been incurred or committed up to and including the time of the cancellation.
   (b) No advertising orders will be accepted for periods longer than one year. Where an order for a series of advertisements in consecutive issues is received after the deadline for the insertion of such advertisements, Elsevier shall be entitled to cancel such order and refund to the Client a pro rata portion of the fee which the Client has paid to Elsevier for display of the Advertising Content.

5. Liability and claims
   (a) Elsevier shall not be liable for any of the following losses which may arise by reason of any breach of this TC or any implied warranty, condition, or other representation or any duty of any kind imposed on Elsevier by operation of law (a) loss or damage to data or programs; (b) damage to equipment or property; (c) loss of profits; (d) loss of data; (e) loss of any kind or any kind or any other loss or damage which the Client has sustained howsoever arising;

6. Force majeure
   The formation, existence, construction, performance, validity and all aspects of the TC shall be governed by the law of the corporate domicile of the Elsevier company which is providing the Products or Services. The parties agree to submit to the jurisdiction of that court for any dispute or claim arising out of or relating to the TC or the interpretation or enforcement thereof.

7. Intellectual property
   The Client is solely responsible at its own cost for completing any foreign exchange-related procedures in the said territory that are necessary to make payments to Elsevier under the TC, including without limitation all bank charges and foreign exchange charges.

8. Advertising & Reprints
   All reprints ordered at the time of placing a reprint order shall be charged on a per-copy basis. Reprint orders must be placed under the authority of the Principal Investigator or his/her designated representative for the principal investigator's project. Reprints will be invoiced to the Client at the time of manuscript submission. Reprints are available in quantities of 100 or more. No partial reprints are available for purchase. The Client shall be responsible for all costs associated with the reproduction and mailing of reprints.

9. Force majeure
   The Client shall be liable for any losses or damages caused by circumstances beyond its control, including, but not limited to, acts of God, war, strikes, lockouts, riots, civil disturbances, government action, acts of terrorism, or any other cause beyond the Client's control.

10. Advertising & Reprints
   (a) Advertising orders are subject to space availability. Orders for advertisements in consecutive issues must be received before the deadline for insertion of such advertisements. Elsevier reserves the right to substitute any advertisement received late or not at all for any advertisement accepted for publication at a later date.

11. Cancellations & Returns
   (a) If the Client cancels an order either fully or partially, a cancellation fee may be charged. All cancellations must be notified to Elsevier in writing within 14 days of the Closing Date. This fee will be calculated to cover any external or internal costs which have been incurred or committed up to and including the time of the cancellation.

12. Payment
   (a) Payment terms are not negotiable, and payment is due upon receipt of invoice. Any invoice may be submitted at the end of each month, or for goods/services delivered in accordance with a purchase order or contract. Payment is due within 30 days of receipt of an invoice.

13. Use of personal data
   Elsevier shall have the exclusive right to use and exploit the Advertising Content. The Client represents and warrants that (i) Client holds the necessary rights in the Advertising Content to grant Elsevier the rights granted under this TC; and (ii) Elsevier may sublicense the Advertising Content to any third party.

14. General
   (a) Any right or remedy under this TC which is given to the Client and/or the User is intended to be in addition to any other right or remedy.
