Contact your sales representative for all digital advertising rates and opportunities.
1. Applicability
These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent (the "Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the "TC").

2. Offer and acceptance/ Description
Any modifications to the agreed product or service description, budget, schedule or set out in the order acknowledgement, may result in an adjustment to the final price and/or delivery schedule at Elsevier's discretion.

3. Prices, taxes and currencies
Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing, it is the Client's responsibility to ensure that it is purchasing Products or Services from Elsevier for its own account and use and not on behalf of any other person or entity. If Client is an agent, it represents and warrants that it is purchasing the Products or Services from Elsevier for the account and use of no more than one identifiable institutional subscriber as principal or, if it is permitted to order personal subscriptions in a representative capacity, for the account of and use of no more than one identifiable eligible individual subscriber for personal use. Client acknowledges that violation of this representation and warranty will cause irrevocable harm to Elsevier. Upon any violation of this representation and warranty, Elsevier shall be entitled to immediate injunctive relief requiring Client to discontinue all recipients of Elsevier's Products and Services from Client, including all actual recipients that have not been previously properly identified by Client. Elsevier shall use commercially reasonable efforts to comply with the provisions of the TC and Services agreed by both parties in the relevant order, including such things as format, printing, technical design, size and kind of address file, style and the like. All drawings, descriptive matter, specifications and advertising issued by Elsevier or any descriptions or illustrations contained in Elsevier's catalogues or brochures are issued as published for the sole purpose of giving an approximate description of the Products and Services described in them. They will not form part of the TC. Publishing errors, including, but not limited to, typographical errors, having no significant effect on the editorial content or design character of the Products and Services, cannot be considered a reason for repudiation of the TC, as the case may be, to the exclusion of any other price.

4. Force majeure
If by reason of labor dispute, strikes, riots, to be obtained by any other means of actions, accidents, weather or communications failure, customs delays, governmental restrictions or appropriation or other causes beyond the control of a party, such party is unable to perform in whole or in part its obligations set forth in this TC, then such party shall be relieved of its obligation to perform, and such inability to perform shall not make such party liable to any other party. The party subject to an event of force majeure shall notify the affected party of the nature and duration of the force majeure and the reason therefore within twenty (20) days of its occurrence. The party subject to an event of force majeure shall make reasonable efforts to eliminate, mitigate or terminate the force majeure event as quickly as possible.

5. Payment
Unless otherwise agreed in writing, payments shall be effected within thirty (30) days of the date of invoice. In time payment shall be of the essence. Elsevier may set and vary credit limits for any Client account and shall be entitled to refuse to supply any Client who has exceeded its current credit limit. Legal and title benefit in any tangible Products supplied by Elsevier to the Client shall remain with Elsevier until Elsevier has received in full (net of cleared fund) all sums due to it in respect of the Products and all other sums which are or may become due to Elsevier from the Client on account of any dealings with the Client. The Client may only retain the ownership in the Products if the full amount for the Products is paid to Elsevier. A Prohibited Payment does not include a payment of reasonable and bona fide expenditures, such as travel or lodging expenses incurred by the Client or any other party to whom the Client has given such funds, for the purpose of performing the Services for the Client. The Client acknowledges that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations.

6. Payment terms
Where it is acting as a consumer. The parties agree that the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods (the "UCG") shall not apply to this Agreement. Any disputes arising out of or relating to the Information Services shall be subject to the International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes ("ICSID") or a similar arbitration body agreed in writing by the parties. Elsevier and the Client agree that the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods, will apply unless the Client has a valid court order requiring an amount equal to such deduction to be paid by Elsevier to the Client. The Client's use of the Services is subject to the terms set out in the TC.

7. Liability and claims
Where a Prohibited Payment does not include a payment of reasonable and bona fide expenditures, such as travel or lodging expenses incurred by the Client or any other party to whom the Client has given such funds, for the purpose of performing the Services for the Client. The Client acknowledges that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations. Where a Prohibited Payment does not include a payment of reasonable and bona fide expenditures, such as travel or lodging expenses incurred by the Client or any other party to whom the Client has given such funds, for the purpose of performing the Services for the Client. The Client acknowledges that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations. Where a Prohibited Payment does not include a payment of reasonable and bona fide expenditures, such as travel or lodging expenses incurred by the Client or any other party to whom the Client has given such funds, for the purpose of performing the Services for the Client. The Client acknowledges that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations.
