CASE

Overview

CASE, an international cardiovascular imaging case reports journal, is committed to encouraging excellence in cardiovascular ultrasound worldwide and its application to patient care. This journal supports the mission of the American Society of Echocardiography by publishing peer-reviewed case reports that make teaching points or scientific observations about echocardiography in the clinical setting.

2. Applicability

These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgment, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the "TC"). They supersede any previous terms and conditions. For the purposes of the TC, Elsevier shall mean the company within the Elsevier group that is providing the Products or Services as set out on the TC or is identified by Elsevier as the party responsible for the Product or Service. All references to "Elsevier" in these terms and conditions shall be deemed to refer to the TC and any relevant order agreement.

3. Execution and modification of the order

Any modifications to the agreed product or service description, budget, or schedule, as set out in the order acknowledgment, may result in an adjustment to the final price and/or delivery schedule at Elsevier's discretion. If, at the request of the Client, Elsevier renders additional Services in connection with the performance of the TC, Elsevier shall act in the name of, to the account of, and at the risk of the Client. Any dates specified by Elsevier for delivery/performance of the Products and Services are intended to be an estimate and time for delivery/performance shall not be made of the essence by notice. If no dates are so specified, delivery/performance will be made at Elsevier's discretion.

4. Prices, taxes and currencies

Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing, prices shall be as set out in Elsevier's current price list (whether print or online). All such prices shall be exclusive of any handling, packing, loading, freight, insurance, transport and import or export taxes, duties or other similar charges, unless otherwise stated in writing. All prices are subject to change at any time without notice. Invoices shall be denominated in the currency of the invoice, unless otherwise agreed in writing. All payments will be made in such currency and in accordance with the payment terms set out in the TC or as otherwise agreed by the parties in writing. Any interest payable on outstanding amounts will be calculated at the rate of interest applicable to the extent that all or any part of such amount is late in payment and will accrue daily from the due date until payment is made.

5. Payment

Unless otherwise agreed in writing, payments shall be made within thirty (30) days of the invoice date in the currency invoiced. Time for payment shall be of the essence. Elsevier may set any credit limits for any Client account and shall be entitled to refuse to supply any Client who has exceeded its current credit limit. Legal and legitimate title to any tangible Products supplied by Elsevier to the Client shall remain with Elsevier until Elsevier has received in full (full and cleared funds) all sums due to it in respect of the Products and all other amounts which are or which become due to Elsevier from the Client on account. The Client may retain the Products for delivery on behalf of the Client so that a sale may be effected in the ordinary course of the Client's business if full market value and any such sale shall be a sale of Elsevier on the Client's own behalf and shall be dealt as principal when making such a sale. The Client shall be entitled to recover payment for the reproduction of any, the Client's original, the Client's derivative works and/or any modifications thereto. The Client shall make all payments due under the TC without any deduction whether by way of set-off, counterclaim, discount, abatement or otherwise unless the Client has a valid court order mandating an equal amount to be deducted to such deduction to be paid to Elsevier from the Client. From the due date of the invoice to the date of payment in full, interest at the rate of 5% per annum may be charged on the Client's outstanding balance. If the Client is found by a court of law to be in default, Elsevier shall be entitled to retain any security, including the Products delivered, and shall be entitled to such other amount as the court may determine. The Client shall be entitled to seek alternative payment methods at any time.

6. Liability and claims

To the maximum extent permissible by law, Client shall not be entitled to claim for any of the following losses which may arise by reason of any breach of this TC or any implied warranty, condition or other term, any representation or any duty of any kind imposed on Elsevier by operation of law (including the loss of anticipated profits or expected future business); (i) damage to reputation or goodwill; (ii) any damage, costs or expenses payable by Elsevier to any third party; (ii) loss or damage caused by either party's negligence or breach of this TC or any implied warranty; (iii) any damages, costs or expenses payable by Elsevier to any third party; (iv) any damage, costs or expenses payable by Elsevier to any third party; (v) loss or damage caused by either party's negligence or breach of this TC or any implied warranty; (vi) any damages, costs or expenses payable by Elsevier to any third party; (vii) any damages, costs or expenses payable by Elsevier to any third party; (viii) any damages, costs or expenses payable by Elsevier to any third party. Elsevier shall not be liable for any indirect or consequential loss or damage. Any liability which Elsevier may have to the Client shall be limited to the purchase price paid for the Products and Services. Nothing in this TC shall limit the Client's existing legal or statutory rights. Nothing in this TC shall be construed as creating an obligation to indemnify the other party against the other party's own negligence, strict liability, or intentional tort. Elsevier's entire liability and Client's entire remedy for any loss or damage arising from the performance of this TC shall be limited to the purchase price paid for the Products and Services.

7. Cancellations & Returns

Except as set out in the TC, no cancellations are made after such date, Elsevier shall be entitled to charge the full cost of the advertisement. Any cancellations must be made in writing by the Client and must be received by Elsevier at least fifteen (15) working days prior to the date of issue. If Client cancels an order either fully or partially, a cancellation fee may be charged. All cancellations must be received in writing and signed by an authorized signatory of Elsevier. Nothing in the TC or any condition or liability for fraud or misrepresentation. Where Products are sold to the Client that contain third party software or other such sale may be subject to additional license terms.

8. Offer and acceptance/ Description

Elsevier shall be deemed to be an offer by the Client to purchase the Products and Services subject to the TC. No order placed by the Client shall be deemed accepted until a written acknowledgment of order is issued by Elsevier (or its parent company) Elsevier delivers the Products or issues the invoice to the Client or commences performance of the Services for the Client. For all Product orders, the Client is accepted subject to availability of the ordered Products. Unless otherwise expressly agreed by Elsevier in writing, Client represents and warrants that it is purchasing Products or Services from Elsevier for its own account and use and not on behalf of any other person or entity. If Client is an agent, it represents and warrants that it is purchasing the Products and Services from Elsevier for the account and use of no more than one identified institutional subscriber as principal or, if it is permitted to order personal subscriptions in a representative capacity, for the account and use of no more than one identified institutional subscriber for personal subscription. Client acknowledges that satisfaction of this representation and warranty will cause irrevocable harm to Elsevier. Upon Client's failure to immediately injunctive relief requiring Client to disable all recipients of any Products or Services or services from Elsevier, including all actual recipients that have not previously been properly identified by Client. Elsevier shall commercially reasonable efforts to comply with descriptions of the Products and Services agreed by both parties in the relevant order, including such things as format, printing processes, technical design, size and kind of address file, weights and the like. All drawings, descriptive matter, specifications and advertising issued by Elsevier or any descriptions or illustrations contained in Elsevier's catalogues or brochures are issued or published for the sole purpose of giving an approximate description of the Products and Services described therein. They will not form part of the TC. Publishing errors, including, but not limited to, typographical errors, having no significant effect on the editorial content or design character of the Products and Services, cannot be considered a reason for repudiating the contract, as the case may be, and shall not affect price.
