1. Applicability
These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the "TC"). They supersede any previous supply terms and conditions. For the purposes of the TC, Elsevier shall mean the company within the Elsevier group that is providing the Products or Services set out on the invoice. The Products and Services shall be those that are identified on the invoice or any undated document which Elsevier may issue to the Client. The TC and any order acknowledgement shall be deemed to contain a representation by the Client that it has read and understood the TC and is in agreement with them.

2. Offer and acceptance/ Description
Any modifications to the agreed product or service description, budget, schedule or set out in the order acknowledgement, may result in an adjustment to the final price and/or delivery schedule at Elsevier's discretion. If, at the request of the Client, Elsevier renders additional Services in connection with the performance of the TC, Elsevier shall invoice the Client for the costs incurred (inclusive of any value added tax) at the then current rate set out in Elsevier's Rate Card, which is available on Elsevier's website at ratecard.elsevier.com.

3. Execution and modification of order
Any modifications to the agreed product or service description, budget, schedule or set out in the order acknowledgement, may result in an adjustment to the final price and/or delivery schedule at Elsevier's discretion. If, at the request of the Client, Elsevier renders additional Services in connection with the performance of the TC, Elsevier shall invoice the Client for the costs incurred (inclusive of any value added tax) at the then current rate set out in Elsevier's Rate Card, which is available on Elsevier's website at ratecard.elsevier.com.

4. Price, terms and currency
Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing the prices for the Products and Services shall be set out in Elsevier's then current price list (whether print or online). All such prices shall be exclusive of any handling, packing, loading, freight, insurance, transport and insurance charges unless otherwise agreed in writing, and shall also be exclusive of any taxes, import duties or other levies imposed on the sale or import of the Products or Services by local or national authorities, which shall be charged by Elsevier as applicable. Applicable taxes shall be those determined by the relevant taxing authority at the time of the transaction and may vary from time to time. The Client acknowledges that these taxes will be applicable to the purchase price of the Goods/services and to the Client or its assignee. All amounts payable by the Client under the TC shall accrue interest at the highest interest rate applicable in the country where business is being conducted and/or the Client's place of business. All payments shall be made in full and free of all charges in a currency acceptable to Elsevier and received by Elsevier in accordance with any express terms stated on the invoice.

5. Payment
Unless otherwise agreed in writing, payments shall be effected within thirty (30) days of the invoice date. In time of payment shall be of the essence. Elsevier may set any payment limit for any Client account and shall be entitled to refuse to supply any Client who has exceeded its current credit limit. Legal and beneficial title in any tangible Products supplied by Elsevier to the Client shall remain with Elsevier until Elsevier has received in full (net of any cleared or dueable) all sums due to it in respect of the Products and all other sums which are or which become due to Elsevier from the Client on account of other transactions.

6. Distribution
The Client shall not engage in piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products or any other Products or Services of Elsevier or its affiliates, nor shall it directly or indirectly facilitate any other party to engage in those activities. The Client shall promptly notify Elsevier if it becomes aware of any piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism by any other party. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers any amounts due in respect of its sales of the Products, exercising full credit control and solely bearing all of its losses resulting from any uncollections. Delays or failures in obtaining such collections shall not relieve the Client of its obligation to make prompt payments to Elsevier under the TC.

7. Intellectual property
Copyright and other intellectual property rights to Elsevier's proposals, publications and other Services or Services shall remain with Elsevier unless otherwise agreed in writing. The rights granted by Elsevier are restricted to the Client and may not be assigned, transferred or sublicensed without the prior written permission of Elsevier. The rights granted by Elsevier are non-exclusive and for the purpose expressly agreed upon. Any other use shall require the prior written permission of Elsevier. The Client shall not acquire any rights to modify or adapt the Works or Services in any way.

8. Liability and claims
The Client shall have the right to apply for a refund to the extent of reasonable and usual losses incurred in the normal course of business by the Client. The Client shall have the right to have the Goods/services re-worked or re-delivered at Elsevier's expense. The Client shall have the right to be reimbursed for any losses directly attributable to the performance of the TC which are covered by insurance. The Client may have the right to sue Elsevier for any loss or damage. The Client agrees to indemnify Elsevier and to hold Elsevier harmless from any and all claims, demands, actions, suits or proceedings, whether brought by third parties or in its own right, arising out of or relating to any act or omission by the Client, its employees or agents, or the Goods/services, in connection with the TC.

9. Legal and jurisdiction
The formation, existence, construction, performance, validity and all aspects of the TC shall be governed by the law of the corporate domicile of the Elsevier company which is providing the Products or Services. The parties agree to submit to the jurisdiction of the courts having jurisdiction in the corporate domicile of the Elsevier company which is providing the Products or Services. The TC shall be binding upon the parties and their successors in title and assigns.

10. Force majeure
If by reason of labor dispute, strikes, inability to obtain labor or materials, fire or any other action of the elements, accidents, war or communications failure, customs delays, governmental restrictions or appropriation or other causes beyond the control of a party, such parties is unable to perform in whole or in part its obligations set forth in the TC, then such party shall be relieved of its obligations hereunder to the extent possible by reasonable efforts to avoid the effects of such event to the extent possible. The party subject to an event of force majeure shall use good faith efforts to comply as closely as possible with the provisions of this TC and to avoid the effects of such event to the extent possible. If a party is unable to perform in whole or in part its obligations set forth in this TC, then such party shall be relieved of its obligations hereunder to the extent possible by reasonable efforts to avoid the effects of such event to the extent possible. The party subject to an event of force majeure shall use good faith efforts to comply as closely as possible with the provisions of this TC and to avoid the effects of such event to the extent possible.

11. Offer and acceptance/ Description
Each offer for the Products and Services by the Client from Elsevier shall be deemed to be an offer by the Client to purchase the Products and Services subject to the TC. No order placed by the Client shall be deemed accepted until a written order acknowledgement is issued by Elsevier or (if earlier) Elsevier delivers the Products or issues the invoice to the Client or commences delivery or performance of the Services. For all Products, all orders are accepted subject to availability of the ordered Products. Unless otherwise expressly agreed by Elsevier in writing, client represents and warrants that it is purchasing Products or Services from Elsevier for its own account and use and not on behalf of any other person or entity. If Client is an agent, it represents and warrants that it is purchasing the Products and Services from Elsevier for the account and use of no more than one identified institutional subscriber as principal or, if the agent is permitted to order personal subscriptions in a representative capacity, for the account and use of no more than one identified individual subscriber for personal use.

12. Limitation of liability
Elsevier shall not be liable for any damage, costs, or expenses due to the Client or any third party for any breach of this TC or of any implied warranty, condition or other term, any representation or any duty of any kind, which is not caused by the fault of Elsevier or its employees.

13. General
These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the "TC"). They supersede any previous supply terms and conditions. For the purposes of the TC, Elsevier shall mean the company within the Elsevier group that is providing the Products or Services set out on the invoice. The Products and Services shall be those that are identified on the invoice or any undated document which Elsevier may issue to the Client. The TC and any order acknowledgement shall be deemed to contain a representation by the Client that it has read and understood the TC and is in agreement with them.
