1. Applicability of the Terms and Conditions

The Terms and Conditions are applicable to all orders and sales of all Products and Services by Elsevier to the Client. The Client agrees to be bound by the Terms and Conditions. The Terms and Conditions replace any previous agreement with the Client and are the entire agreement between the parties.

2. Offer and acceptance/Description

Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing, your submission of an order is an offer to purchase Products and Services from Elsevier. Elsevier may accept your order in writing, by telephone or by email. Acceptance is not automatic and Elsevier reserves the right not to pursue any order. The Client shall be bound by the offer of Elsevier only if accepted by Elsevier in writing. A confirmation of order shall be dispatched to the Client as soon as the order is accepted, but in any event as soon as possible and in any event within 14 days of order acceptance.

3. Execution and modification of the order

Orders may be modified in writing by the Client only. All modifications or additions to orders will be binding only if accepted in writing by Elsevier.

4. Prices, taxes and currencies

Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing, the price/rates for the Products and Services shall be those set out in the applicable Rate Card or as otherwise agreed in writing between the parties. The price/rates stated in the Rate Card or other document include any applicable taxes that apply in the territory of delivery. Any taxes other than VAT (e.g., local sales tax or excise tax) that are imposed on the Buyer that are not included in the price/rates stated in the Rate Card or other document will be charged to the Buyer.

5. Payment

Payment terms are specified in the Rate Card or other document. Payment terms are subject to change. The Client may make payment by credit card (only if specified in the Rate Card or other document) or bank transfer. Where applicable, the Client is required to make payment within the agreed payment terms. Failure to make payment may result in the cancellation of the order.

6. Distribution

The Client shall be responsible for all costs of distribution, including storage, insurance, and transportation. The Client shall be responsible for all claims and losses arising out of or in connection with the Products or Services delivered to the Client.

7. Intellectual property

The Client shall not use any of the Products or Services for any purpose other than those contemplated in these Terms and Conditions. The Client shall indemnify Elsevier against any claims or damages arising out of or in connection with the Client’s use of the Products or Services.

8. Liability and claims

Except as otherwise agreed in writing by the parties, Elsevier shall not be liable to the Client for any loss, damage, or expense, whether direct or indirect, incidental, special, or consequential, whether in contract, tort (including negligence), or otherwise, arising out of or in connection with the Products or Services, including but not limited to (a) any loss of data; (b) any loss of anticipated profits or expected future business; (c) any damage to reputation or goodwill; (d) any damages, costs or expenses payable by Elsevier to any third party; (e) any losses or expenses reasonably incurred by Elsevier in connection with the Client’s failure to perform its obligations under these Terms and Conditions; or (f) any loss that was not foreseeable by the Client and Elsevier at the time these Terms and Conditions were entered into.

9. Waiver

Any waiver by Elsevier of any breach of these Terms and Conditions shall not be deemed a waiver of any prior or subsequent breach by the Client. Any waiver by Elsevier shall be in writing.

10. Advertising & Reprints

(1) The Client shall be solely responsible for ensuring that proposed advertising copy is received at Elsevier in electronic form (or such other form as Elsevier may have specified in writing) and within the relevant deadline set out in the Copy Delivery Date. Where copy is received on or before the closing date, which is 30 days prior to the agreed schedule for publication, then there will be no additional charge for the printing. If the Client wishes to discontinue its advertising after the closing date, it shall be charged at the rate of 200% of the standard rate then in force.

(2) To the extent that Elsevier omits the display of the advertising matter, it shall be deemed to be a breach of contract by Elsevier and the Client shall be entitled to a proportionate refund of the advertising charge.

11. Force majeure

If the normal course of business is interrupted by any cause (a) which is beyond the reasonable control of the affected party, or (b) which is not reasonably preventable or insurable, then the affected party shall be relieved of its obligations under the terms of these Terms and Conditions during the period of the event or events also beyond its control.

12. Compliance with laws

The Client shall not violate any law or regulation in connection with its use of the Products or Services. The Client shall indemnify Elsevier against any claim or liability arising out of the Client’s violation of any law or regulation.

13. Disputes

Any dispute, controversy or claim arising out of or relating to the Terms and Conditions shall be settled by arbitration administered by the American Arbitration Association under its Commercial Arbitration Rules. The arbitration shall take place in New York, New York or in any other location agreed upon by the parties. The arbitration shall be conducted in English, and the decision of the arbitrator shall be final and binding on the parties.

14. General

The period of validity of these Terms and Conditions is five years from the date of first use of the Products or Services by the Client. These Terms and Conditions shall be governed by the laws of the State of New York, and shall be construed and enforced in accordance with the laws of the State of New York.
