Modern Pathology

Overview

Modern Pathology is an international journal owned by The United States & Canadian Academy of Pathology (USCAP). Modern Pathology aims to provide an authoritative platform for publishing the highest quality clinical and translational research studies in pathology. Original manuscripts are the main focus of Modern Pathology. Our scientific communication is enriched by high impact editorials, reviews, and practice guidelines that relate to all aspects of precision diagnostics in human pathology. As such, Modern Pathology’s scope encompasses advances in the molecular diagnostics and genomic classifications of disease as well as discoveries in immune-oncology, computational science and applied bioinformatics, and digital pathology.

1. Applicability
These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent (the “Client”) relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the "TC").

2. Liability and claims
Except as specifically provided in the TC and as otherwise expressly agreed by Elsevier in writing, Elsevier shall not be liable for any actions or omissions except for fraud, negligence, breach of contract or any other actions at law or equity including actions for personal injury or property damage or death (except for its own negligence or willful conduct), to the extent permitted by applicable law. In any event,Elsevier's entire liability and the Client's exclusive remedy shall be limited to the amount actually paid to Elsevier thereunder.

3. General
If any of the provisions provided for herein is by any court of competent jurisdiction held to be invalid or unenforceable, such provision shall as far as practicable be construed so as to be valid and enforceable. If such provision cannot be so construed, it shall be severed from the remaining provisions of the TC and the remaining provisions shall continue in full force and effect.

4. Information and specifications
Notwithstanding any other provision, the Client shall be solely responsible for the accuracy of all information and specifications submitted to Elsevier. Concepts, ideas, or know-how that are furnished to Elsevier in writing and which subsequently appear in the final advertisement shall be deemed forfeited by the Client and Elsevier shall be entitled to use such information in its sole discretion, subject to the Client's rights under applicable law.

5. Payment
In respect of advertisements, payment shall be made within thirty (30) days of the date of invoice. Payment for subscriptions shall be due on publication of each issue. Payment for other printed products shall be due within thirty (30) days of receipt of invoice. Advertisements, subscriptions and other printed products for which Elsevier has not received full payment by the agreed due date shall be cancelled without notice. All payments are net of any value added tax imposed by the relevant tax authority and shall be made within the agreed due date specified in the invoice to Elsevier in respect of the relevant advertisement, subscription or printed product.

6. Non-acceptance
If, in these terms and conditions, Elsevier becomes aware of any piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of any part of the Products or any other products or communications by any third party or its affiliates, it shall not be directly or indirectly facilitated any other party to engage in those activities. Elsevier shall promptly notify Elsevier if it becomes aware of any piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of any part of the Products or any other products or communications by any third party. Elsevier shall solely be responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due in respect of its sales of the Products, exercising full credit control and solely bearing all of its losses resulting from any non-collectable amounts. Elsevier may, at its option, pursue any remedies available to it, including criminal prosecution, action for damages, or other remedies at law or in equity. Nothing in these terms and conditions shall be construed to create an obligation to indemnify the other party against the other party's own losses.

7. Confidentiality
Each party shall maintain the confidentiality of any Confidential Information received from the other party, provided that the party receiving such Information agrees that it shall not disclose such Confidential Information except to its employees and agents who have a need to know the same in connection with the performance of the Services. Except as agreed byElsevier in writing, the party receiving such Confidential Information agrees to use reasonable efforts to prevent the disclosure of such Confidential Information by such employees and agents. Each party shall return or destroy all copies of such Confidential Information in its possession or under its control upon request by the other party. Each party shall ensure that its officers, employees, and agents comply with the confidentiality provisions of this Agreement. Each party shall ensure that any information shared with its employees or agents in connection with the Services is in compliance with applicable law.

8. Termination
Either party may terminate the TC without prejudice to any other right or remedy and subject to the performance of all obligations that have accrued prior to the termination, on written notice to the other party:

(a) if the other party, or any of its Affiliates, becomes insolvent, is wound up, or has any action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil or criminal, commenced or instituted against it involving, or in respect of any of its legal or equitable rights, by or before any court or other authority in any part of the world that has the power, jurisdiction, or authority to effect the dissolution, winding up, or liquidation of any of its assets or affairs;

(b) if the other party, or any of its Affiliates, is unable to pay its debts as they fall due or is unable to pay its debts or make any part of them when they become due;

(c) if the other party, or any of its Affiliates, makes an assignment for the benefit of its creditors or any arrangement with its creditors;

(d) if the other party, or any of its Affiliates, has a winding up or similar proceeding, voluntary or otherwise, commenced or instituted against it;

(e) if the other party, or any of its Affiliates, is wound up or liquidated or dissolved;

(f) if the other party, or any of its Affiliates, is subject to the administration or control of any person for the purposes of, or in connection with, the administration or control of its affairs or business;

(g) if the other party, or any of its Affiliates, is sold, transferred, or merged with or into any other person or entity;

(h) if the other party, or any of its Affiliates, or any other person that is legally responsible for the performance of its obligations hereunder, ceases to be legally responsible or is legally demolished or dissolved;

(i) if the other party is the subject of any bankruptcy or insolvency proceedings in any part of the world; or

(j) if the other party or any of its Affiliates or any person with whom it has or had a business relationship is unable to pay its debts or any part of them when they become due;

In the event of termination of the TC, the Client shall be responsible for any expenses incurred by Elsevier in connection with the termination, including reasonable attorney's fees. Termination shall not affect the rights and obligations of the parties to any prior breach of the TC, including the obligations to pay amounts owed hereunder.

9. Force Majeure
In the event of force majeure (such as fire, flood, or earthquake), the Client shall use all reasonable efforts to minimize any delay or other inconvenience caused by force majeure. Except as otherwise agreed in writing, Elsevier shall not be liable for any delay or other inconvenience caused by force majeure.

10. Advertising & Reprints
In respect of advertisements, reprints are made after such date, Elsevier shall be entitled to charge the full cost of the advertisement. Any reprints ordered by a Client shall be invoiced to the Client and paid for in full. Any change of copy shall be received by Elsevier before the Closing Date. Change of copy is subject to the availability of space. If a Client is unable to supply advertisements of the required content, quality or format, Elsevier may suggest alternative advertisements, subject to the approval of the Client. Change of copy is not permitted after the Closing Date. The Client shall be responsible for any fees incurred by Elsevier in connection with any change of copy.

11. Copyright
Copyright and other intellectual property rights in all electronic products shall pass to Elsevier. Elsevier shall use reasonable efforts to prevent the unauthorized reproduction of the Products and Services. Elsevier also reserves the right to terminate this TC if Elsevier determines, in its sole discretion, that the Advertising Content provided by the Client does not conform to its standards, or if Elsevier determines that the Advertising Content is not in accordance with applicable laws, regulations, industry codes, or industry standards. The Client shall not use the Products and Services for any purpose not permitted by the TC or in any manner not consistent with the Client's rights under the TC.

12. Intellectual property
Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing, the rights granted by Elsevier shall not be assignable, transferable or sublicensable without the prior written permission of Elsevier. The Client shall not acquire any intellectual property rights in the Products. The non-exclusivity and non-transferability of the rights granted by Elsevier shall not affect the rights of Elsevier under the TC, including the right to sublicense the Products or Services. The Client shall be responsible for any costs or expenses incurred by Elsevier in connection with any breach of the Client's obligations under the TC.

13. Data Protection
Elsevier shall comply with all applicable data protection and privacy laws and regulations in respect of any Personal Data it processes on behalf of the Client. Elsevier shall not use, disclose, or retain any Personal Data except as required for the performance of its obligations under the TC. Elsevier shall use reasonable efforts to prevent the unauthorized access, use, disclosure, or destruction of Personal Data. Elsevier shall not be liable for any breach of this Section caused by any third party to whom Elsevier has disclosed the Personal Data in connection with the performance of its obligations under the TC.

14. General
Nothing contained in the TC will prejudice Elsevier's rights or remedies in any other document or agreement. Any failure or delay by Elsevier in exercising any right, power or remedy provided by the TC or in any other document or agreement between the Client and Elsevier will not constitute a waiver of any such right, power or remedy. No right or remedy in respect of any breach of the TC will affect any other right or remedy in respect of any other breach.
