1. Applicability

These terms and conditions shall apply to offers, proposals, negotiations, agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Product and/or Service") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgment, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the "TC"). They supersede any previous communications, proposals, or understandings made between the parties, and shall constitute the entire agreement between the parties. The Client shall not be entitled to assign the TC or any part of it without the prior written consent of Elsevier. Elsevier shall be entitled to refuse any assignment that is not consistent with Elsevier's policies, procedures, or terms and conditions. If the Client assigns the TC, Elsevier shall not in any way be bound by any assignment made by the Client, and the Client shall be solely responsible to Elsevier for the performance of all of its obligations under this TC.

2. Offer and acceptance/Description

Each order for the products and services by the Client from Elsevier shall be deemed to be an offer by the Client to Elsevier to purchase the Products and Services subject to the TC. No order placed by the Client shall be deemed accepted until a written acknowledgement of order is issued by Elsevier or Elsevier delivers the products or issues the invoice to the Client. The Client shall not be entitled to assign the TC, or any part thereof, to a third party without the prior written consent of Elsevier. Elsevier may make changes in the products and services described herein or cease to supply any product or service without notice. If, by reason of any change in the Products and Services described herein or in any other event, the Client orders a different volume of the Products and Services and the price of the Products and Services agreed by both parties in the relevant order, including such things as format, process, design, size and color of address, weights and the like. All drawings, descriptive matter, specifications and advertising material relating to Elsevier's catalogues or brochures are issued or published for the sole purpose of giving an approximate idea of the Products and Services described therein. They will form part of the TC. The publishing errors, including, but not limited to, typographical errors, having no significant effect on the editorial content or design characteristics of the Products and Services, cannot be considered a reason for rejecting delivery or, as the case may be, modifying the agreed prices.

3. General

In connection with the performance of the TC, Elsevier will be solely responsible for collecting from the Client its amounts due and, at the request of the Client, Elsevier will provide invoices for services rendered. The Client shall be solely responsible for any sales tax, other taxes, duties, or other governmental charges or fees that are assessed, levied, imposed, or imposed upon the Products or Services. Elsevier will not be liable for any sales tax, other taxes, duties, or other governmental charges or fees that are assessed, levied, imposed, or imposed upon the Products or Services. The Client is responsible for all taxes, duties, or other governmental charges or fees that are assessed, levied, imposed, or imposed upon the Products or Services. The Client acknowledges and agrees that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations. The Client acknowledges that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations.

4. Prices, taxes and currency

Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier, pricing is subject to the TCs in Elsevier's current price list (whether online or in writing). All such prices shall be exclusive of any handling, packing, loading, freight, transport and insurance charges unless otherwise agreed in writing, and shall be exclusive of any taxes, import duties or other levies imposed on the sale or export of the Products or Services by local or national authorities, which shall be charged by Elsevier as an additional expense. Where applicable, Elsevier shall provide to Elsevier's VAT registration number or other tax information required by law. The Client shall be responsible for remitting any taxes, import duties, or other levies imposed on the sale or export of the Products or Services by local or national authorities to those authorities, including any taxes, import duties, or other levies imposed on the sale or export of the Products or Services by local or national authorities to those authorities.

5. Payment

Payment shall be made within thirty (30) days of the invoice date in the currency exchanged. If the Client fails to make payment on or before the due date of any invoice, the Client shall pay interest on the outstanding amount at the lesser of the rate of and the rate charged to Elsevier by its bank on overdue payments from its customers. If the Client fails to make any payment, or any part thereof, under a TC, Elsevier shall have the right to enforce its rights and remedies under the TC, including without limitation all bank charges and foreign exchange charges.

6. Distribution

The Client shall not re-sell, reproduction, or sales of the Products or any other products, goods or Services or for personal gain or for that of Elsevier or Elsevier's affiliates (any such act, a "Prohibited Payment"). A Prohibited Payment shall be considered a violation of this representation and warranty and is a breach of the TC. By making a Prohibited Payment, the Client shall be deemed to have committed fraud. If Elsevier determines that the Client has made a Prohibited Payment, Elsevier shall be entitled to apply any monies received by the Client, to clear any of the Client's outstanding debts to Elsevier. Where the Client is reimbursed by Elsevier for any Prohibited Payment, Elsevier shall have the right to set-off any monies received by the Client, to clear any of the Client's outstanding debts to Elsevier.

7. Force majeure

If by reason of labor dispute, strikes, inability to obtain labor or materials, fire or other event of the elements, or by any other cause of any kind, or by any other cause beyond the control of a party, such party is unable to perform in whole or in part the obligations under the TC, the party shall, without limitation of liability, be excused from the performance of such obligations. The party shall notify the other party of the cause of such delay within ten (10) days of the occurrence of such cause, and shall thereafter take all reasonable steps to resume and complete the performance of its obligations. If the delay extends for more than ninety (90) days, then the other party may terminate the TC by notice in writing. The party that terminated the TC shall be entitled to any monies owing to it, whether under the TC or by way of any other contract, together with all costs, damages, and expenses incurred by it, and may also claim damages for any resulting loss.
