Contact your sales representative for all digital advertising rates and opportunities.
1. Applicability
These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent (the "Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the "TC"). They supersede any previous supply terms and conditions. For the purposes of the TC, Elsevier shall mean the company within the Elsevier group that is providing the Products or Services as set out on the Client's order acknowledgement.

2. Terms of supply
Except as expressly agreed by Elsevier in writing, Elsevier represents and warrants that it is purchasing Products or Services from Elsevier for its own account and use and not on behalf of any other person or entity. If Client is an agent, it represents and warrants that it is purchasing the Products or Services from Elsevier for the account and use of no more than one identified institutional subscriber as principal or, if the agent is permitted to order personal subscriptions in a representative capacity, for the account and use of no more than one identified eligible individual subscriber for personal use. Client acknowledges that satisfaction of this representation and warranty will cause immediate harm to Elsevier. Upon any violation of this representation and warranty, Elsevier shall be entitled to immediate injunctive relief requiring Client to discontinue all recipients of Elsevier products and Services from Client, including all actual recipients that have not been previously properly identified by Client. Elsevier shall use commercially reasonable efforts to comply with the provisions and Services agreed by both the parties in the relevant order, including such things as format, printing, press methods, design and size of address, file and the like. All drawings, descriptive matter, specifications and advertising issued by Elsevier or any descriptions or illustrations contained in Elsevier's catalogues or brochures are issued as such and no representation is given to the sale of any particular product or as being free from defect, unless expressly agreed in writing and signed by an authorized signatory of Elsevier. Nothing in the TC will exclude or limit Elsevier's liability for fraud or fraudulent misrepresentation. Where products are supplied to the Client that contain third party content or software such a sale may be subject to additional licence terms.

3. Payment
All invoices will be payable to Elsevier in accordance with the payment terms set out in the order acknowledgement. Payment is due within forty-five (45) days of the date of delivery. Any payment not made by the due date will incur interest at the rate of 3% per annum from the date due for payment, or such higher rate as may be allowed by law.

4. Advertising & Reprints
Client is solely responsible for ensuring proposed advertising copy is received at Elsevier in electronic form (or such form as specified by Elsevier) and within the relevant deadline set by Elsevier (the "Closing Date"); copy must not be sent by e-mail and must be in an electronic file format suitable for Elsevier's computer systems. If, at the request of Elsevier, Client is asked to provide any other method of delivery then the Client shall be responsible for ensuring that such delivery is made within the relevant deadline set by Elsevier. All references to Elsevier in the preceding sentence include Elsevier and its agents, partners, contractors, subsidiaries, divisions, and affiliates. The Client shall allow Publisher's authorized representative at any reasonable time to have access to Client's premises (or other relevant premises) for the purpose of inspecting Client's facilities, books and records to verify Client's compliance with the TC.

5. Liability and claims
Any modifications to the agreed product or service description, budget or schedule, as set out in the order acknowledgement, may result in an adjustment to the final price and/or delivery schedule at Elsevier's discretion. If, at the request of the Client, Elsevier renders additional Services in connection with the performance of the TC, Elsevier shall act in the name of, and to the account of, and at the risk of the Client. Any dates specified by Elsevier for delivery/performance of the Products and Services are intended to be an estimate and time for delivery/performance shall not be made of the essence by notice. If no dates so specified, delivery/performance will be within ten (10) days of Elsevier's receipt of full payment.

6. Copyright
Elsevier and its licensors own the media and copyright in all products and services provided to the Client. Rights are granted for the specified number of copies (stated in the order acknowledgement) to be used by the Client. Specified positions are accepted subject to the right of Elsevier to determine actual positions. If Elsevier considers that alterations requested are unacceptable, unless such changes are due to an event of force majeure. Elsevier can refuse or cancel the order for the publication of a particular product. Elsevier does not guarantee the performance or delivery of the Services. Any delay or alteration in the time of delivery or performance of the Services will not entitle the Client to cancel the order or demand any compensation from Elsevier for failure to deliver, or any delay in delivery or alteration to the Services. The Client agrees that the liability of Elsevier is to be limited in accordance with the terms and conditions and the charges have been agreed accordingly. The Client acknowledges that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations.

7. Intellectual property
Products shall be at the Client's own risk and the risk of any loss or damage shall pass to the Client upon delivery. The Client shall not assign, transfer or sub-license without the prior written permission of Elsevier. The Client agrees not to re-print or reproduce any part of the Products or any other products of Elsevier or its affiliates, unless expressly authorized by Elsevier in writing. The Client further agrees that he/she will not accept any payments due under the TC without any deduction whether by way of set-off, counterclaim, discount, abatement or otherwise unless the Client has a valid court order requiring an amount equal to such deduction to be paid to the Client. From the date of the invoice to the date of payment in full, interest at the rate of 5% per annum may be charged to the Client on any sums outstanding for a month or more. The Client shall not sell, assign, transfer or sub-license any Products or Services to any third party.

8. Payment
If the Client cancels an order either fully or partially, a cancellation fee may be charged. All cancellations must be confirmed in writing by the Client to Elsevier within ten (10) days of receipt of the Products or Services. Where copy is received late or not at all, Elsevier shall be entitled to refuse to publish the remainder of such provision shall continue in full force and effect. Failure or delay by Elsevier in enforcing or partially enforcing any provision or (prosecuting any breach of the TC) will not be construed as a waiver of any of its rights under the TC.
