International Journal of Obstetric Anaesthesia

Overview

The International Journal of Obstetric Anaesthesia is the only journal publishing original articles devoted exclusively to obstetric anesthesia and bringing together all three of its principal components; anesthesia care for operative delivery and the perioperative period, pain relief in labour and care of the critically ill obstetric patient. • Original research (both clinical and laboratory), short reports and case reports will be considered. • The journal also publishes invited review articles and debates on topical and controversial subjects in the area of obstetric anesthesia. • Articles on related topics such as perinatal physiology and pharmacology and all subjects of importance to obstetric anaesthetists/anesthesiologists are also welcome.

1. Applicability—These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals, and agreements made between the Client and Elsevier relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgment, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the "TC"). They supersede any previous agreement between the parties for the TC. Failure to agree to any provision of the TC shall result in such provision being voidable, unenforceable or unreasonable. If any provision of the TC is deemed invalid, illegal, unenforceable or void, to the extent of such illegality, invalidity, voidness, voidability, or unenforceability, such provision shall be severed and the remainder of such provision shall continue in full force and effect. Failure or delay by Elsevier in enforcing or claiming any right under the TC shall not be construed as a waiver of any such right under the TC.

2. Offer and acceptance—Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing, the Products or services to be sold shall be delivered to the Client pursuant to the TC. All order acknowledgments, except orders, proposals, and agreements made in connection with the Products or Services subject to the TC, shall be in writing. The Client shall be deemed to have accepted and agreed to the relevant terms and conditions of the TC in full if the Client does not dispute any acceptance of the TC in writing within forty-eight (48) hours of receipt of the TC by the Client or if the Client fails to make payment in full to Elsevier under the TC. Failure or delay by Elsevier in fulfilling or performing any provision of the TC shall not be construed as a waiver by Elsevier of any such right under the TC. If the Client uses the Products or Services in any manner inconsistent with the terms and conditions of the TC, Elsevier may require the Client to return the Products and Services to Elsevier at the Client’s sole expense.

3. Commissions—The Client shall not, directly or indirectly, pay, offer, give, promise or authorize the payment, directly or indirectly, of any commission, fee, bonus, travel or any other consideration or inducement to any person or entity, including, without limitation, any employee, agent, contractor, distributor, dealer, or other representative of the Client, who solicits, recruits, or employs any employee, agent, contractor, distributor, dealer, or other representative of Elsevier, with respect to the sale or purchase of the Products or Services, unless such commission, fee, bonus, travel or any other consideration or inducement is authorized in writing by Elsevier.

4. Cooperation and services—Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing, the Client shall cooperate with Elsevier in the performance of the TC. Elsevier shall not be liable for any delay or failure to provide the Products or Services if the delay or failure is caused by the Client’s failure to cooperate with Elsevier in the performance of the TC. The Client shall pay Elsevier for all payments due under the TC, including without limitation all bank charges and foreign exchange charges.

5. Payment—Unless otherwise agreed in writing, payment shall be made within thirty (30) days of the invoice date in the currency prevailing. Invoices for services rendered shall be payable as soon as due and in accordance with the terms and conditions of the TC. If any payment is delinquent, Elsevier shall have the right to suspend such delinquent part of the TC until the delinquent invoice is paid. Payment does not include a payment of reasonable and bona fide expenditures, such as travel or lodging expenses, which are not properly allocable to the TC and which are not properly allocable to the Client. The Client shall pay for all taxes, license fees, duties, and other similar charges levied upon the Products or Services, whether or not referred to in the invoices. If any payment is delinquent, Elsevier shall have the right to charge interest on such delinquent amount at the rate of one and one-half percent (1½%) per month or the highest rate permitted by law, whichever is less. Payment of any delinquent amounts shall be made when due and shall accrue from the date due without notice.

6. Rights and remedies—Appeal or dispute—In the event of a dispute arising out of or related to the Products or Services, the Client shall give Elsevier written notice of the dispute within thirty (30) days of receipt of the Products or Services. If the dispute is not resolved by negotiation, Elsevier and the Client shall attempt to resolve the dispute by good faith mediation. If the dispute is not resolved by mediation, Elsevier and the Client shall arbitrate the dispute in accordance with the terms of the arbitration provision set forth in the TC. The arbitration shall be conducted in the English language and shall be in accordance with the rules of the American Arbitration Association. The decision of the arbitrator shall be binding on the parties and final and conclusive, except that either party may appeal the decision to a court of competent jurisdiction. The arbitrator shall have the power to award all remedies, including, but not limited to, injunctive relief. The cost of the arbitration shall be borne equally by the parties unless the arbitrator finds that a party is the prevailing party.

7. Intellectual property—Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing, the Client shall be responsible for obtaining all necessary licenses, clearances, and consents to use or display the Products or Services. The Client shall indemnify Elsevier against any loss, expense, liability, or damage arising from or caused by the breach or alleged breach by the Client of any intellectual property rights of Elsevier or any other person or entity. The Client shall indemnify Elsevier against any loss, expense, liability, or damage arising from or caused by the breach or alleged breach by the Client of any confidentiality, nondisclosure, or non-solicitation agreements of any kind.

8. Liabilities—The Client shall indemnify Elsevier against any loss, expense, liability, or damage arising from or caused by the breach or alleged breach by the Client of any confidentiality, nondisclosure, or non-solicitation agreements of any kind.

9. Limitations—The Client shall indemnify Elsevier against any loss, expense, liability, or damage arising from or caused by the breach or alleged breach by the Client of any confidentiality, nondisclosure, or non-solicitation agreements of any kind.

10. Advertising & Reprints—The Client shall be responsible for collecting from its customers the amount due from its customers and maintaining accurate records, including, without limitation, all claims and disputes, based on the Client’s own internal controls. The Client shall indemnify Elsevier against any loss, expense, liability, or damage arising from or caused by the breach or alleged breach by the Client of any confidentiality, nondisclosure, or non-solicitation agreements of any kind.

11. Applicability—These terms and conditions shall not apply to any dispute arising out of or related to the Products or Services provided under a separate agreement between the Client and Elsevier.

12. Definitions—In these terms and conditions, the terms "Agreement," "Contract," "Client," "Elsevier," "Products," "Services," and "TC" shall have the meanings as defined in the TC.

13. Governing law—The Client shall be responsible for obtaining all necessary licenses, clearances, and consents to use or display the Products or Services. The Client shall indemnify Elsevier against any loss, expense, liability, or damage arising from or caused by the breach or alleged breach by the Client of any confidentiality, nondisclosure, or non-solicitation agreements of any kind.

14. Force majeure—In the event that Elsevier is unable to perform any of its obligations under the TC due to force majeure, the obligation shall be suspended for the duration of the force majeure and the date of resumption of performance shall be extended accordingly. The force majeure shall be deemed to have occurred if, at the time of the force majeure, Elsevier is unable to perform its obligations under the TC.

15. Breach of contract—If the Client breaches any provision of the TC, Elsevier may, at its sole discretion, terminate the TC without prejudice to any other remedy to which Elsevier may be entitled under law or in equity. In the event of a breach of contract, Elsevier may also require the Client to pay damages or to indemnify Elsevier against any loss, expense, liability, or damage arising from or caused by the breach or alleged breach by the Client of any confidentiality, nondisclosure, or non-solicitation agreements of any kind.

16. Termination—Either party may terminate the TC if the other party fails to make a payment of the amount due and outstanding under the TC or if the other party breaches any provision of the TC and such breach is not cured within thirty (30) days of notice from the non-breaching party. In the event of such termination, the Client shall pay Elsevier for all payments due under the TC, including without limitation all bank charges and foreign exchange charges.

17. Waiver—Any waiver by Elsevier of any provision of the TC shall not be deemed a waiver of any other provision or of the same provision at any other time.

18. Severability—If any provision of the TC is held to be invalid, unenforceable, or ineffective for any reason, such provision shall be severed and the remaining provisions of the TC shall continue in force and effect. Failure or delay by Elsevier in enforcing or partially enforcing any provision (or any breach of the TC) shall not be construed as a waiver of any of its rights under the TC.
