Research and Practice in Thrombosis and Haemostasis

Overview

Research and Practice in Thrombosis and Haemostasis (RPTH) is the Open Access journal of the International Society on Thrombosis and Haemostasis (ISTH) and the newest journal in the field of thrombosis and hemostasis. Complementing its flagship journal, the Journal of Thrombosis and Haemostasis (JTH), RPTH provides a dedicated Open Access home for science and discourse among researchers, clinicians, nurses, allied health professionals, and patients. RPTH is a “living journal” and serves as a jumping point for digital discussion. It also reflects the current era of inter-disciplinary scientific discovery and new methods of knowledge dissemination and the wide reach of ISTH by featuring articles from all corners of the globe. RPTH provides rigorous, rapid peer review and immediate dissemination of research reports from basic, clinical, translational and population or public health science. The Journal is interested in quality, outcomes, dissemination and implementation science, seeking studies and trials on novel care delivery, including in areas of resource constraint around the world.

1. Applicability

These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent (the “Client”) relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier (the “Products and/or Services”) and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties for that order. They supersede any previous supply terms and conditions and if there is any conflict between these terms and conditions and any written or oral representations made by Elsevier or its representatives or agents, the provisions of these terms and conditions shall prevail. Any variation to the TC and any representations about the Products and Services shall have no effect unless expressly agreed in writing and signed by an authorized signature of Elsevier. Nothing in the TC will exclude or limit Elsevier’s Liability for death or personal injury caused by Elsevier’s negligence.

2. Definitions

Unless otherwise agreed in writing, all terms and expressions used in these terms and conditions shall have the following meanings:

- eTOC Metrics: 12 Month Average of eTOC sends - July 2022 to June 2023.
- eTOC: Electronic Table of Contents.
- Client: The party for whom Elsevier is to supply the Products and/or Services as set out on the Elsevier order acknowledgement or invoice. Where general terms and conditions of business are applied to the Client’s order, any such application is subject to the additional terms of these terms and conditions.
- Products: The products (physical and/or digital) and/or any related add-on services ordered by the Client under this TC.
- Services: The services ordered by the Client under this TC.
- Price: The price as agreed between Elsevier and the Client for the Products and/or Services under this TC.
- Order: The order number as set out on the Elsevier order acknowledgement or invoice.
- Invoice: The invoice number as set out on the Elsevier order acknowledgement or invoice.
- Due Date: The due date of the invoice as set out on the Elsevier order acknowledgement or invoice.
- Invoice Value: The invoice value as set out on the Elsevier order acknowledgement or invoice.
- Invoiced Amount: The invoiced amount as set out on the Elsevier order acknowledgement or invoice.
- Terms and Conditions: Elsevier’s terms and conditions of supply.
- Agreement: The agreement between the parties (the “TC”). They supersede any previous supply terms and conditions. For the purposes of these terms and conditions, the “Agreement” shall mean the Products or Services as set out on the Elsevier order acknowledgement or invoice. Where general terms and conditions of business are applied to the Client’s order, any such application is subject to the additional terms of these terms and conditions.

3. Cancellations & Returns

Any cancellations or returns shall be subject to the provisions of each order and any order acceptance by Elsevier. The Client shall notify Elsevier in writing of any cancellation or return of Products and/or Services. Where no such notification has been given, Elsevier shall be deemed to have been accepted as having received the whole of the Products and Services as ordered.

4. Payment

Payment shall be made no later than the due date of the invoice as specified by Elsevier. Elsevier will not accept any order unless it is accompanied by the Client’s payment. If the Client fails to make any payment in full of an invoice, or a portion of an invoice, by the due date, Elsevier may, in its discretion, cancel the affected order. All unpaid invoices and payments shall be subject to interest at 1% per month or the highest rate allowed by law. Elsevier may, at its discretion, refuse any order from a Client who is not in full standing with Elsevier. All costs incurred in recovering any sums outstanding shall be charged to the Client as part of the invoice value for the Products and/or Services,

5. Overdue Invoices

In the event of non-payment of any of Elsevier’s invoices within the stipulated due dates, Elsevier may charge interest at the rate of 1% per month or the highest rate allowed by law. If the Client fails to pay any invoice on demand, Elsevier may, in its discretion, cancel the affected order. All unpaid invoices and payments shall be subject to interest at 1% per month or the highest rate allowed by law. Elsevier may, at its discretion, refuse any order from a Client who is not in full standing with Elsevier. All costs incurred in recovering any sums outstanding shall be charged to the Client as part of the invoice value for the Products and/or Services.

6. Distribution

The Client shall be responsible for the distribution of the Products and/or Services to the final consumers and shall ensure that such distribution is carried out in accordance with the instructions and guidelines provided by Elsevier.

7. Intellectual Property

The Client shall not resell the Products or Services for the purpose of exploitation of the same by a third party or by another person.

8. Liability

Except in respect of liability under the following headings, Elsevier shall not be liable to the Client (or to any third party on behalf of the Client) for any loss or damage of any kind (whether direct or indirect, including loss of profits, goodwill or opportunity or any other economic loss), howsoever caused and whether in contract, tort (including negligence) or otherwise or whether the loss or damage is attributable to the Products or Services being defective or not being delivered at all or being delivered otherwise than as agreed.

9. Audit

Elsevier may visit any Client’s establishment and may inspect any records, accounts and premises for the purpose of verifying the accuracy of figures or information contained in invoices, delivery notes, or otherwise for any purpose connected with the Products or Services without giving prior notice to the Client.

10. Disputes

Any disputes or claims arising out of or in connection with the TC shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the courts of the country where the Client is located, and the Client shall submit to the jurisdiction of the courts of the country where the Client is located.

11. Force Majeure

Elsevier shall not be liable for any delay in delivery of Products or Services or failure to perform any of its obligations under the TC if the delay or failure was due to any cause beyond its reasonable control including any act of God, strike, lockout, lockout, war, civil insurrection or any law or governmental action or any contingency or other event beyond its control.

12. Transfer of Rights

The Client shall not be entitled to assign the TC or any part of it without the prior written consent of Elsevier. Elsevier may assign the TC to any third party at any time without the Client’s consent.

13. Governing Law and Jurisdiction

The formation, existence, construction, performance, validity and all aspects of the TC shall be governed by the law of the country in which Elsevier has its principal place of business. The parties agree to submit to the jurisdiction of the courts of the country in which Elsevier has its principal place of business for the purpose of enforcing or defending any rights or remedies which may arise in connection with the TC.

14. General

If any part of these terms and conditions is held to be unenforceable or invalid, the remainder of such provision shall continue in full force and effect. Failure or delay by Elsevier in enforcing or partially enforcing any provision (or passing any notice of breach of any of its rights under the TC) shall not be construed as a waiver of any of its rights under the TC.

15. Cancellations & Returns

Any cancellations or returns shall be subject to the provisions of each order and any order acceptance by Elsevier. The Client shall notify Elsevier in writing of any cancellation or return of Products and/or Services. Where no such notification has been given, Elsevier shall be deemed to have been accepted as having received the whole of the Products and Services as ordered.

16. Distribution

The Client shall be responsible for the distribution of the Products and/or Services to the final consumers and shall ensure that such distribution is carried out in accordance with the instructions and guidelines provided by Elsevier.

17. Intellectual Property

The Client shall not resell the Products or Services for the purpose of exploitation of the same by a third party or by another person.

18. Liability

Except in respect of liability under the following headings, Elsevier shall not be liable to the Client (or to any third party on behalf of the Client) for any loss or damage of any kind (whether direct or indirect, including loss of profits, goodwill or opportunity or any other economic loss), howsoever caused and whether in contract, tort (including negligence) or otherwise or whether the loss or damage is attributable to the Products or Services being defective or not being delivered at all or being delivered otherwise than as agreed.

19. Audit

Elsevier may visit any Client’s establishment and may inspect any records, accounts and premises for the purpose of verifying the accuracy of figures or information contained in invoices, delivery notes, or otherwise for any purpose connected with the Products or Services without giving prior notice to the Client.

20. Disputes

Any disputes or claims arising out of or in connection with the TC shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the courts of the country where the Client is located, and the Client shall submit to the jurisdiction of the courts of the country where the Client is located.

21. Force Majeure

Elsevier shall not be liable for any delay in delivery of Products or Services or failure to perform any of its obligations under the TC if the delay or failure was due to any cause beyond its reasonable control including any act of God, strike, lockout, lockout, war, civil insurrection or any law or governmental action or any contingency or other event beyond its control.

22. Transfer of Rights

The Client shall not be entitled to assign the TC or any part of it without the prior written consent of Elsevier. Elsevier may assign the TC to any third party at any time without the Client’s consent.

23. Governing Law and Jurisdiction

The formation, existence, construction, performance, validity and all aspects of the TC shall be governed by the law of the country in which Elsevier has its principal place of business. The parties agree to submit to the jurisdiction of the courts of the country in which Elsevier has its principal place of business for the purpose of enforcing or defending any rights or remedies which may arise in connection with the TC.

24. General

If any part of these terms and conditions is held to be unenforceable or invalid, the remainder of such provision shall continue in full force and effect. Failure or delay by Elsevier in enforcing or partially enforcing any provision (or passing any notice of breach of any of its rights under the TC) shall not be construed as a waiver of any of its rights under the TC.
