The American Journal of Clinical Nutrition

Overview

A highly rated peer-reviewed, primary research journal in nutrition and dietetics, The American Journal of Clinical Nutrition (AJCN) publishes the latest research on topics in nutrition, such as obesity, vitamins and minerals, nutrition and disease, and energy metabolism. The purpose of AJCN is to publish original research studies relevant to human and clinical nutrition. Well-controlled clinical studies that describe scientific mechanisms, efficacy, and safety of dietary interventions in the context of disease prevention or a health benefit will be considered. Public health and epidemiologic studies relevant to human nutrition, and innovative investigations of nutritional questions that employ epigenetic, genomic, proteomic, and metabolomic approaches are encouraged. Solicited editorials, book reviews, solicited or unsolicited review articles, invited controversy position papers, and letters to the Editor that relate to prior AJCN articles are essential components of the AJCN. All submitted material with scientific content will undergo peer review by the Editors or their designees before acceptance for publication.

1. Applicability

These terms and conditions shall apply to all proposals, quotations and agreements made between and by any third party or its agent ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgment, shall form the entire agreement between the parties for the TC. These terms supersede any previous arrangements made between the parties.

2. Offer and acceptance/Description

Each order for the Products and Services by the Client from Elsevier shall be deemed to be an offer by the Client to purchase the Products and Services subject to the TC. No order placed by the Client shall be deemed accepted until a written acknowledgment of order is issued by Elsevier or Elsevier's agent. Elsevier reserves the right to make any changes in the specification of the Products that are necessary to meet any minimum requirement and to make any changes, at its sole discretion, in the design or in the materials or components used.

3. Execution and modification of the order

Laws. The Client further agrees that he/she will not accept any payment or other benefit in money or in kind from any person, firm, or entity, or any director, officer, or agent of any such person, firm, or entity, or any director, officer, or agent of any such person, firm, or entity, in connection with any matter or business transacted by or on behalf of Elsevier.

6. Distribution

If by reason of labor dispute, strikes, inability to obtain labor or materials, force majeure or appropriation or other causes beyond the control of a party, such party is unable to perform in whole or in part, such party shall be entitled to give written notice to the other party of such inability, with the result that such party shall be relieved of its obligations to perform. The parties agree that the limited warranties on Contracts for the international laws of Canada shall not apply to the TC or the interpretation or enforcement thereof. The Client shall have the exclusive right to control the use of the Products by any third party. The Client shall be solely responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due in relation to the Products. The rights granted by Elsevier are non-exclusive and for the purpose expressly agreed upon. Any other use shall require the prior written permission of Elsevier. The Client shall not acquire any intellectual property rights in the Products. No part of the Elsevier proposals, publications or Products may be reprinted or stored in any automated data file or otherwise reproduced, without the specific prior written permission of Elsevier.

9. Force majeure

The Client hereby agrees that if it is found, by any court, tribunal or administrative body of competent jurisdiction to be wholly or partly illegal, invalid, void, or unenforceable, any provision of this TC shall be enforced to the extent possible.

12. Compliance with laws

The Client hereby agrees that if it is found, by any court, tribunal or administrative body of competent jurisdiction to be wholly or partly illegal, invalid, void, or unenforceable, any provision of this TC shall be enforced to the extent possible.
