Overview

CMGH is the newest peer-reviewed journal published by the American Gastroenterological Association (AGA), joining Gastroenterology and Clinical Gastroenterology and Hepatology. The mission of CMGH is to publish impactful digestive biology research that ranges from mechanisms of normal function to pathobiology and covers a broad spectrum of themes in gastroenterology, hepatology, and pancreatology. The journal reports the latest advances in cell biology, immunology, physiology, microbiology, genetics, and neurobiology of gastrointestinal, hepatobiliary, and pancreatic health and disease. The research CMGH publishes is hypothesis driven, mechanistically novel, and appropriately designed and powered. Studies published in CMGH address important questions using tissues or cells from patients or animal models in order to make fundamental discoveries and translate them to human disease.

In an effort to distribute its content to the widest audience possible, CMGH is an open access, all-digital journal.

1. Applicability
These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals, agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its/those/third party/third parties ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Service") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties for the TC. These terms apply only to proposals and agreements made by or on behalf of Elsevier. The Client shall not enter into any agreement with Elsevier to the extent that such agreement败于 any of the terms and conditions of this TC or any other terms and conditions applicable to the Client's business. If a Client enters into any such agreement with Elsevier, Elsevier shall have the right to enforce the terms and conditions of this TC against the Client.

2. Offer and acceptance/ Description
No order placed by the Client shall be deemed to be accepted until a written acknowledgement of order is issued by Elsevier or its authorized representative. Elsevier is at all times entitled to decline to accept any order or to vary the quantity ordered. Any variation to the TC and any such variation to any order accepted by the Client shall be in writing and signed by an authorized signatory of Elsevier. Nothing contained herein shall be construed as exclusions, exceptions, or limitations on the rights and liabilities of either Party. The Client shall be bound by this TC from the date of the acknowledgement of the order until the date of the receipt of the last invoice for delivery of the goods/services to the Client. Any order not accepted by Elsevier in writing shall be deemed rejected.

3. Force majeure
Force majeure shall include events beyond the reasonable control of the parties, including but not limited to acts of God, fire, flood, storm, terrorism, war, civil commotion, strike, lock-out, Act of Parliament, dishonesty, theft, robbery, pilferage, or damage to the goods in transit, or any act or omission which the party affected has no reasonable cause to prevent. For the purpose of this paragraph, the term "Act of Parliament" shall include any Act of Parliament, Royal Commission, or other public authority action that is in force at the relevant time. If either Party is prevented by reason of force majeure from performing any of its obligations under this TC, such preventable shall be extended by a period equal to the duration of the force majeure event.

4. Prices, taxes and currencies
Prices quoted are exclusive of all taxes and duties (including, but not limited to, any local, state, or federal sales taxes, value-added taxes, or other similar taxes or duties) and shall not be subject to any additional taxes or duties at the time of delivery, unless such item or service is subject to tax.

5. Transit and returns
Shipment of the Products shall be made FOB (Free On Board) destination. Any claim for damage in transit or shortage must be made by the Client immediately upon delivery. Any claim for shortage must be made by the Client immediately upon delivery and any claim for damage in transit must be made by the Client immediately upon delivery.

6. Distribution
All publications are produced and distributed in black and white, unless otherwise agreed in writing, and no liability is accepted for the production of any other color except for any color specified in the order.

7. Intellectual property
The Client shall not use any of the Intellectual Property Rights, except in accordance with the license granted by Elsevier. The Client shall, at all times, maintain proper records of use and shall provide Elsevier with such information as Elsevier may reasonably request. The Client shall not disclose any of the Intellectual Property Rights to any third party without the prior written consent of Elsevier. The Client shall not assign, license, or sublicense any of the Intellectual Property Rights without the prior written consent of Elsevier.

8. Liability and claims
The maximum extent permitted by relevant local laws, Elsevier shall not be liable for any indirect, special, or consequential damages arising out of or related to the Products and/or Services, including, but not limited to, lost profits, business interruption, or the loss of data or information.

9. Force majeure
Force majeure shall include events beyond the reasonable control of the parties, including but not limited to acts of God, fire, flood, storm, terrorism, war, civil commotion, strike, lock-out, Act of Parliament, dishonesty, theft, robbery, pilferage, or damage to the goods in transit, or any act or omission which the party affected has no reasonable cause to prevent. For the purpose of this paragraph, the term "Act of Parliament" shall include any Act of Parliament, Royal Commission, or other public authority action that is in force at the relevant time. If either Party is prevented by reason of force majeure from performing any of its obligations under this TC, such preventable shall be extended by a period equal to the duration of the force majeure event.

10. Advertising & Reprints
Orders for ads must be cancelled in writing prior to the relevant ad date. No advertising orders will be accepted for periods longer than one year. Where an order for a series of advertisements is placed, the Client shall be responsible for providing Elsevier with a complete schedule of insertions, issues, and sizes of space for a full year. Orders must specify a definite schedule of insertions, issues and sizes of space for a full year. No advertising orders will be accepted for periods longer than one year. Where an order for a series of advertisements is placed, the Client shall be responsible for providing Elsevier with a complete schedule of insertions, issues, and sizes of space for a full year.

11. Audit
Client shall allow Publisher’s authorized representative at any reasonable time to have access to Client’s premises (or such other premises as specified by Elsevier) and within the relevant timelines set by Elsevier (the "Closing Date"). Where no premises is named or not at all, Elsevier will endeavor to do so. The Client shall provide, at its own expense, all reasonable assistance and co-operation which Elsevier reasonably requires, to enable Publisher’s representative to inspect Client’s records and to verify Client’s compliance with the TC. The Client will be responsible for all costs incurred in connection with any such inspection, which may include, without limitation, the cost of any foreign exchange-related procedures in the said territory.

12. Cancellations & Returns
Cancellations for publications or products shall be made in writing. The Client shall specify the date by when the cancellations have to be received. No cancellations will be accepted for publications or products once they have been shipped. Cancellations must be made in writing before the order has shipped. If any cancellations are made after the order has shipped, the Client shall be responsible for paying for any portion of the order that has been delivered or shipped.

13. Other terms
Nothing in this document will be deemed to create a contract, agency, partnership, or joint venture between Elsevier and the Client. The Client acknowledges that the terms of this document are for information purposes only and do not create a contract, agreement, or any other relationship between Elsevier and the Client.
