The Journal of Pain

Overview

The Journal of Pain publishes original articles on all aspects of pain, including clinical and basic research, patient care, education, and health policy. Articles selected for publication in the Journal are most commonly reports of original clinical research or reports of original basic research. In addition, invited critical reviews, including meta analyses of drugs for pain management, invited commentaries on reviews, and exceptional case studies are published in the Journal. The mission of the Journal is to improve the care of patients in pain by providing a forum for clinical researchers, basic scientists, clinicians, and other health professionals to publish original research. 2018 Impact Factor 5.424

1. Applicability
This document contains the terms and conditions for the supply of Products and Services by Elsevier to the Client. The terms and conditions shall apply to any order placed by the Client or any third party on its behalf for the supply of Products and Services. The Client is deemed to have accepted these terms and conditions by placing an order for the supply of Products and Services. Any modification of these terms and conditions or any additional terms or conditions included in any order form or acceptance of an order in writing shall not be binding on Elsevier unless and until accepted in writing by Elsevier in its discretion. To the extent of any conflict between these terms and conditions and the terms and conditions of any purchase order or other document submitted to Elsevier, these terms and conditions shall prevail.

2. Execution and modification of the order
The Client acknowledges that the Products and Services shall be supplied in accordance with the instructions contained in the order. Any request for modifications to the order must be made in writing by the Client to Elsevier. Elsevier shall not be bound to accept any such request unless and until Elsevier has confirmed in writing its agreement to accept such modification.

3. Cancellations & Returns
The Client shall have the right to cancel the order for any reason, or to return any Products or Services, at any time prior to the date of delivery. The Client shall notify Elsevier in writing of any request for cancellation or return and Elsevier shall have the right to refuse any such request in its discretion. The Client shall be liable for any costs incurred by Elsevier in connection with such cancellation or return.

4. Prices, taxes and currencies
The prices quoted by Elsevier are exclusive of any taxes, duties or levies imposed on the sale of the Products or Services. The Client shall pay all taxes, duties or levies imposed on the sale of the Products or Services, including, without limitation, any sales, use, value added or other similar taxes, duties or levies. The prices quoted are in the currency specified on the invoice and are exclusive of any taxes, duties or levies imposed on the sale of the Products or Services.

5. Payment
The Client shall pay for the Products and Services in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth on the invoice. Failure to pay any amount due shall result in interest being charged at the rate of 5% per annum or such other rate as may be applicable, until paid in full.

6. Delivery
The Client shall ensure that it is properly identified by Elsevier and has the authority to accept the Products and Services delivered to it. The Client shall receive the Products and Services in good order and condition and shall check the delivery for any apparent damage or shortage.

7. Warranty
The Client acknowledges that the Products and Services are not warranted and that the Client bears all risks with respect to the Products and Services, including the risk of loss or damage from fire, theft, acts of God or other causes beyond the Client's control. The Client shall be responsible for inspecting the Products and Services at the time of delivery and shall promptly report any defects or discrepancies.

8. Compliance with laws
The Client represents and warrants that it is purchasing the Products and Services for its own internal use and will not use or sell to any business entity (including, without limitation, state run universities, hospitals and libraries), or any individual or entity (including any of the Client's officers, directors, employees or agents) that performs or controls any foreign exchange-related activity in the territory that are necessary to avoid the effects of such event to the extent possible.

9. Force majeure
If by reason of labor dispute, strikes, inability to obtain labor or materials, fire or other action of the elements, earthquake, war (whether declared or undeclared), embargo or appropriation or other causes beyond the control of a party, such party is unable to perform in whole or in part its obligations set forth in this TC, then such party shall be relieved of those obligations to the extent it is prevented from doing so by such event of force majeure. The party subject to an event of force majeure shall use good faith efforts to comply as closely as possible with its obligations under this TC until such time as it is able to perform its obligations.

10. Advertising & Reprints
Unless otherwise agreed in writing, no new external space closing date, but in the event that any cancellations are made after such date, Elsevier shall be entitled to charge the full cost of space closing date, but in the event that any cancellations are made after such date, Elsevier shall be entitled to charge the full cost of

11. General
These terms and conditions constitute the entire agreement between the parties and supersede all prior agreements and understandings with respect to the supply of Products and Services. These terms and conditions cannot be modified, cancelled or amended except in writing by both parties.

12. Compliance with laws
The Client represents and warrants that it is purchasing the Products and Services for its own internal use and will not use or sell to any business entity (including, without limitation, state run universities, hospitals and libraries), or any individual or entity (including any of the Client's officers, directors, employees or agents) that performs or controls any foreign exchange-related activity in the territory that are necessary to avoid the effects of such event to the extent possible.

13. Cancellations & Returns
The Client shall have the right to cancel the order for any reason, or to return any Products or Services, at any time prior to the date of delivery.
