The Journal of Pain

Overview

The Journal of Pain publishes original articles on all aspects of pain, including clinical and basic research, patient care, education, and health policy. Articles selected for publication in the Journal are most commonly reports of original clinical research or reports of original basic research. In addition, invited critical reviews, including meta analyses of drugs for pain management, invited commentaries on reviews, and exceptional case studies are published in the Journal. The mission of the Journal is to improve the care of patients in pain by providing a forum for clinical researchers, basic scientists, clinicians, and other health professionals to publish original research. 2018 Impact Factor 5.424

1. Applicability
These terms and conditions apply to all proposals, offers or agreements made by Elsevier and any third party or its agent ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the "TC"). They supersede any previous verbal agreement or understanding relating to the purchase of the Products and Services.

2. Distribution
Except as otherwise agreed in writing, all Products and Services shall be delivered to the Client, or its agent, at the address stated in the order. Any delivery dates specified in the TC are approximate only and shall not be final dates of delivery. If delivery cannot be made within the stated period due to circumstances beyond Elsevier’s control, delivery shall be made as soon as practicable, but no later than the due date of such invoice. In such event, neither party shall incur any liability to the other due to breach of contract.

3. Execution and modification of the order
Any modifications to the order or the products or services, shall be subject to written agreement by both parties. Any such modifications will be effected under the relevant terms of the TC, including without limitation all delivery dates and charges, and any such modifications will be effective only upon written confirmation by Elsevier.

4. Liability and claims
Parties shall not be held liable for any late delivery of the Products or Services, due to any cause whatsoever and under any circumstances and in no event will the Client be entitled to any claim, compensation or any other remedy for any delay or non-delivery of the Products or Services. The Client shall have no right to cancel the contract if the delay is due to any cause beyond Elsevier’s control. In such event, the Client shall not be entitled to any compensation for any delay or non-delivery of the Products or Services, or any other claim or demand against Elsevier relating to such delay or non-delivery. In no event shall Elsevier be liable for any indirect or consequential loss or damage, whether or not foreseeable. These limitations shall not apply to liability for death or personal injury caused by Elsevier’s negligence.

5. Payment
Payment shall be made in accordance with the methods of payment specified by Elsevier. A surcharge of 1% may be charged to the Client on a monthly basis for any sums outstanding, together with any collection fees or costs incurred by Elsevier. In the event of non-payment, Elsevier reserves the right to suspend further deliveries of the Products or Services and to recover all unpaid amounts together with interest and any other costs or expenses incurred by Elsevier in connection therewith.

6. Intellectual property
Copyright and other intellectual property rights in all Elsevier proposals, publications and other Products or Services shall remain with Elsevier unless otherwise agreed in writing. The Client shall be solely responsible for obtaining from its customers any necessary rights of reproduction or adaptation, or to any other right of use in or on the Client’s own Products.

7. Force majeure
Neither party shall be liable for any breach of the TC where the same is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the party ("Force Majeure"). These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the "TC"). They supersede any previous verbal agreement or understanding relating to the purchase of the Products and Services.

8. Copyright and other intellectual property rights to all Elsevier proposals, publications and other Products and/or Services are restricted to use solely by the Client and may not be assigned, transferred or sublicensed without the prior written permission of Elsevier. The rights granted by Elsevier are non-exclusive and for the purpose expressly agreed upon. Any other use that requires the prior written permission of Elsevier. The Client shall not acquire any intellectual property rights in the Products. No part of the Elsevier proposal, publications or Products may be reprinted in any form, translated into another language, reverse工程施工, or reproduced, whether electronically, mechanically, by photo copying, recording or in any other manner or form, without the specific prior written permission of Elsevier.

9. Data protection
The Client shall be solely responsible for collecting from its customers any necessary rights of reproduction or adaptation, or to any other right of use in or on the Client’s own Products.

10. Business representation
The Client shall be solely responsible for collecting from its customers any necessary rights of reproduction or adaptation, or to any other right of use in or on the Client’s own Products.

11. Compliance with laws
The Client agrees to comply with all applicable laws, regulations, and standards, including, but not limited to, those pertaining to data protection, antitrust, competition, consumer protection, export controls, and sanctions.

12. Disputes
Disputes arising out of or relating to the TC shall be resolved by arbitration in accordance with the rules of the International Centre for Dispute Resolution ("ICDR") as then in effect. Any such arbitration shall be held in London, and the parties shall be entitled to representation by counsel.

13. Cancellations & Returns
Any cancellations or returns of the Products or Services must be requested in writing and approved by Elsevier. Returns shall be made at the Client's expense and are subject to a 25% restocking fee. No returns will be accepted if the Products or Services have been altered, modified, or damaged.

14. Applicable law
The formation, existence, performance, validity and all aspects of the TC shall be governed by the law of the party's corporate domicile. The parties agree to submit to the jurisdiction of the courts of that party's corporate domicile. The Client agrees to comply with all applicable laws, regulations, and standards, including, but not limited to, those pertaining to data protection, antitrust, competition, consumer protection, export controls, and sanctions.

15. Delivery dates
The Client shall be responsible for accepting delivery of the Products and Services as soon as practicable, but no later than the due date of such invoice. In such event, neither party shall incur any liability to the other due to breach of contract.

16. Audit
Audit shall provide Elsevier’s authorized representative at a reasonable time to have access to the Client's premises to verify the information provided by the Client in its application for service or to obtain information or documentation provided.

17. Compliance with laws
The Client agrees to comply with all applicable laws, regulations, and standards applicable to the receipt and use of the Products and Services, including those pertaining to data protection, antitrust, competition, consumer protection, export controls, and sanctions.

18. Compliance with laws
The Client agrees to comply with all applicable laws, regulations, and standards applicable to the receipt and use of the Products and Services, including those pertaining to data protection, antitrust, competition, consumer protection, export controls, and sanctions.

19. Force majeure
Neither party shall be liable for any breach of the TC where the same is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the party ("Force Majeure"). These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the "TC"). They supersede any previous verbal agreement or understanding relating to the purchase of the Products and Services.
