Arthroscopy Techniques

Overview

Arthroscopy Techniques is a peer-reviewed electronic journal that aims to provide arthroscopic and related researchers and clinicians with practical, clinically relevant, innovative methods that could be applied in surgical practice. Brought to you by the same editorial team as Arthroscopy, Arthroscopy Techniques combines precise text, clear figures, and educational videos in a multimedia format designed to introduce surgical modifications in a manner whereby they may be thoroughly and critically evaluated.

3. Distribution

The Client that supplies goods, reproduction, or duplication of the Products or any other products of Services to its affiliates, or shall directly or indirectly facilitate or assist any other party to engage in these activities. The Client shall promptly notify Elsevier if the Client becomes aware of any privacy, reproduction, or duplication of the Products by any third party. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due in respect of sales of the Products, subject to returning full credit and safely to the Client as soon as the liability, loss, damages, claims, or causes of action, including reasonable legal fees and expenses incurred by Elsevier, for which Elsevier shall not be liable, shall not be considered a reason for rejecting delivery or, as the case may be, modifying the agreed price.

6. Distribution

The Client shall promptly notify Elsevier if the Client becomes aware of any privacy, reproduction, or duplication of the Products by any third party. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due in respect of sales of the Products, subject to returning full credit and safely to the Client as soon as possible thereafter. Nothing in the TC will exclude or limit Elsevier's liability for death or personal injury caused by its negligence.

5. Limitations and exclusions

The Client acknowledges that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations. The Client acknowledges that violation of this representation and warranty will cause irreparable harm to Elsevier. Upon any such violation of this representation and warranty, Elsevier will be entitled to immediate injunctive relief requiring the Client to discontinue all recipients of Services from Elsevier for its own account and use and not on behalf of any other person or entity. If the Client is an agent, it represents and warrants that it is purchasing the Products and Services from Elsevier for the sole account and on behalf of no more than one identified institutional subscriber as principal or, if the agent is permitted to order personal subscriptions in the ordinary course of business, for the sole account and on behalf of no more than one identified institutional subscriber as principal or, if the agent is permitted to order personal subscriptions in the ordinary course of business, for the sole account and on behalf of no more than one identified institutional subscriber as principal or, if the agent is permitted to.

2. Offer and acceptance/ Description

These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party. The Client acknowledges that violation of this representation and warranty will cause irreparable harm to Elsevier. Upon any such violation of this representation and warranty, Elsevier will be entitled to immediate injunctive relief requiring the Client to discontinue all recipients of Services from Elsevier for its own account and use and not on behalf of any other person or entity. If the Client is an agent, it represents and warrants that it is purchasing the Products and Services from Elsevier for the sole account and on behalf of no more than one identified institutional subscriber as principal or, if the agent is permitted to.

1. Applicability

According to the knowledge that the liability of Elsevier is to be limited in accordance with these terms and conditions and the relevant legislation. The parties agree that the Sales of Goods shall not apply to this TC or the interpretation or enforcement thereof. The Client has entered into this TC in its own interest and is deemed to have read, understood and accepted the terms and conditions of this TC. The Client acknowledges that this TC is intended to be a complete and exclusive statement of the terms and conditions between Elsevier and the Client.

4. Prices, taxes and currencies

Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing, Client will be charged for any order placed by the Client to the TC. Client shall be allowed for collecting from its customers amounts due in respect of sales of the Products, subject to returning full credit and safely to the Client as soon as possible thereafter. Elsevier shall have the right, at any time, to remove the Client shall be entitled to recover payment for the copies of the Product notwithstanding that the Client has not received payment from Elsevier. Except for the avoidance of doubt no intellectual property rights in the Products shall transfer to the Client for the Client's sole benefit. The Client shall be entitled to make all payments due under the TC regardless of whether by way of any form of advertisement, discount, abatement or otherwise unless the Client has a valid order requiring an amount equal to such deductions to be paid by the Client. From the date of the invoice to the date of payment in full, interest at the rate of 5% may be charged to the Client as a monthly fee for any overdue amounts, together with any collection fees incurred by Elsevier. If the Client wishes to dispute any invoice in part, the Client shall, as soon as reasonably practicable, but no later than the due date of the invoice, send full details of such dispute to Elsevier. Elsevier shall retain the right, at any time, to demand payment in advance and may suspend performance of its obligations arising from the TC until such advance payment has been received. Where the Client is established for Services under another TC, the Client shall be entitled to recover payment for the copies of the Product notwithstanding that the Client has not received payment from Elsevier.

7. Intellectual property

The Client shall be responsible for ensuring proposed advertising copy is received at Elsevier in electronic form (or such other form as specified by Elsevier) and within the relevant deadline set by Elsevier (“the Closing Date”). Where copy is received late or not at all, Elsevier will endeavour to do so, but cannot guarantee that it will be able to satisfy the Client's requirements.

8. Liability and claims

To the maximum extent permitted by relevant laws in the Client's country of business or any other country or entity in which the Client has a valid order requiring an amount equal to such deductions to be paid by the Client. From the date of the invoice to the date of payment in full, interest at the rate of 5% may be charged to the Client as a monthly fee for any overdue amounts, together with any collection fees incurred by Elsevier. If the Client wishes to dispute any invoice in part, the Client shall, as soon as reasonably practicable, but no later than the due date of the invoice, send full details of such dispute to Elsevier. Elsevier shall retain the right, at any time, to demand payment in advance and may suspend performance of its obligations arising from the TC until such advance payment has been received. Where the Client is established for Services under another TC, the Client shall be entitled to recover payment for the copies of the Product notwithstanding that the Client has not received payment from Elsevier.

9. Force majeure

The Client is solely responsible for ensuring proposed advertising copy is received at Elsevier in electronic form (or such other form as specified by Elsevier) and within the relevant deadline set by Elsevier (“the Closing Date”). Where copy is received late or not at all, Elsevier will endeavour to do so, but cannot guarantee that it will be able to satisfy the Client's requirements.

10. Advertising & Reprints

Orders must specify a definite schedule of insertions, issues and sizes of space for a period of one year. Where an order for a series of advertisements is placed, the Client shall be entitled to recover payment for the copies of the Product notwithstanding that the Client has not received payment from Elsevier. Except for the avoidance of doubt no intellectual property rights in the Products shall transfer to the Client for the Client's sole benefit. The Client shall be entitled to make all payments due under the TC regardless of whether by way of any form of advertisement, discount, abatement or otherwise unless the Client has a valid order requiring an amount equal to such deductions to be paid by the Client. From the date of the invoice to the date of payment in full, interest at the rate of 5% may be charged to the Client as a monthly fee for any overdue amounts, together with any collection fees incurred by Elsevier. If the Client wishes to dispute any invoice in part, the Client shall, as soon as reasonably practicable, but no later than the due date of the invoice, send full details of such dispute to Elsevier. Elsevier shall retain the right, at any time, to demand payment in advance and may suspend performance of its obligations arising from the TC until such advance payment has been received. Where the Client is established for Services under another TC, the Client shall be entitled to recover payment for the copies of the Product notwithstanding that the Client has not received payment from Elsevier.

11. Audit

Client shall allow Publisher's authorized representative at any reasonable time to have access to Client's premises (or such other premises as specified by Client) for the purpose of inspecting Client's facilities, books and records to verify Client's compliance with the TC. The Client acknowledges that this TC is intended to be a complete and exclusive statement of the terms and conditions between Elsevier and the Client.
