Arthroscopy Techniques

Overview

Arthroscopy Techniques is a peer-reviewed electronic journal that aims to provide arthroscopic and related researchers and clinicians with practical, clinically relevant, innovative methods that could be applied in surgical practice. Brought to you by the same editorial team as Arthroscopy, Arthroscopy Techniques combines precise text, clear figures, and educational videos in a multimedia format designed to introduce surgical modifications in a manner whereby they may be thoroughly and critically evaluated.

Contact your sales representative for all digital advertising rates and opportunities.
1. Applicability
Terms and conditions apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made between the Client and the Company ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the "TC"). These terms supersede any previous supplies terms and conditions and all other communications between the Client and Elsevier relating to the sale of the Products and/or Services. The terms and conditions of business are those published by Elsevier from time to time, unless agreed in writing and signed by an authorised signatory of Elsevier. Nothing in the TC will exclude or limit Elsevier’s Liability for fraudulent misrepresentation.

2. Offer and acceptance
Descriptions of products and services by the Client from Elsevier shall be deemed to be offered to the Client to purchase the Products and Services subject to the TC. No offer placed by the Client shall be deemed accepted until written acknowledgement of order is issued by Elsevier or (for client) Elsevier delivers the Products or issues the invoice to the Client or confirms performance of the Services for the Client. All products are subject to availability. If any term of the TC is invalid, illegal or unenforceable it is void to the extent of such invalidity, illegality or unenforceability, and the remaining terms remain in full force and effect. If a party makes any offers or contracts for the sale or purchase of the Products or Services which require more than a single performance, the Client shall be entitled to correct any error or omission in the estimate which will result in a reduction of the price and the time for performance.

3. Force majeure
In the event of any event of force majeure the party affected shall give written notice to the other party of the nature and extent of the circumstances of the event of force majeure and the extent to which the party is unable to perform in whole or in part its obligations set forth in this TC, then such party shall be relieved of those obligations to the extent it is unable to perform. The party subject to an event of force majeure shall use good faith efforts to comply as closely as possible with the obligations set forth in this TC. The Client’s and Elsevier's liabilities and obligations shall not be affected by the other party’s inability to perform due to an event of force majeure.

4. Intellectual property
Copyright and other intellectual property rights in all Elsevier publications and other Products and Services shall remain with Elsevier unless agreed otherwise in writing. The Client shall be solely responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due in respect of its sales of the Products and/or Services. The Client may not use or disclose any Confidential Information or the Confidential Information will not be used in any manner prohibited by law.

5. Payment
Payment does not include a payment of reasonable and bona fide expenditures, such as travel or lodging expenses, which the Client is entitled to recover from Elsevier and which the Client can demonstrate have been required by the Client’s business operations. The Client acknowledges that it is a condition precedent to Elsevier’s obligations under the TC to receive payment in full for the Products and Services. If the Client fails to pay amounts due within the time specified, Elsevier may charge interest at the rate of 1% per month on any outstanding part of such invoice, together with any collection fees or costs incurred. No advertising order will be accepted for periods longer than one year. Where an order for a series of advertisements is given, all cancellations must be in writing prior to the relevant ad space closing date, but in the event that any cancellations are made after such date, Elsevier shall be entitled to charge the full cost of the space to the Client. If by reason of labor dispute, strikes, inability to obtain labor or materials, fire or other action of the elements, or appropriation or other causes beyond the control of a party, such party is unable to perform in whole or in part its obligations set forth in this TC, then such party shall be relieved of those obligations to the extent it is unable to perform. The party subject to an event of force majeure shall use good faith efforts to comply as closely as possible with the provisions of this TC and to the extent of the effects to such event.

6. Distribution
The Client shall not engage in reproduction, rephrasing of the Products or any other products of Elsevier or its affiliates, nor shall it directly or indirectly facilitate or allow any other parties to engage in these activities. The Client shall promptly notify Elsevier if it becomes aware of any piracy, unauthorized reproduction or use of the Products or Services by any third party. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due in respect of its sales of the Products and/or Services. The Client may not use or disclose any Confidential Information or the Confidential Information will not be used in any manner prohibited by law.

7. Force majeure
If by reason of labor dispute, strikes, inability to obtain labor or materials, fire or other action of the elements, or appropriation or other causes beyond the control of a party, such party is unable to perform in whole or in part its obligations set forth in this TC, then such party shall be relieved of those obligations to the extent it is unable to perform. The party subject to an event of force majeure shall use good faith efforts to comply as closely as possible with the provisions of this TC and to the extent of the effects to such event.
