Techniques and Innovations in Gastrointestinal Endoscopy

Overview

Techniques and Innovations in Gastrointestinal Endoscopy (TIGE) provides a comprehensive overview of clinical conditions and gastrointestinal endoscopic procedures. Each issue of TIGE focuses on the pathophysiology of select conditions and technical performance of gastrointestinal procedures for management of these conditions, in combination with best practices, expert opinion and innovations. Regular features include reviews and peer-reviewed original research by world-renowned experts in the field of gastrointestinal endoscopy. Videos are included to maximize the clinical applicability of TIGE’s content.

1. Applicability

These terms and conditions shall apply to offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or any agent (“the Client”) relating to the products and services of Elsevier (“the Products and/or Services”), provided that the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the “TC”). The specified any purchase terms and conditions. For the purposes of the TC Elsevier shall mean the company within the Elsevier group that is providing the Products or Services as set out in the Elsevier order acknowledgement or invoice. Where general terms and conditions and other agreements are proposed by the Client, these shall apply and the TC shall only modify any variation to the TC and any representations about the Products and Services shall have effect unless explicitly agreed in writing and signed in an authorised signature of Elsevier. Nothing in the TC shall affect or limit Elsevier’s liability for fraudulent misrepresentation. Where Products are sold to the Client that contain third party software or product such sale may be subject to additional licence terms.

2. Offer and acceptance

Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing the Products shall be supplied by Elsevier to the Client under the conditions specified in the TC. The TC shall be deemed accepted unless: (a) the Client returns written notice of rejection within 14 days of receipt of the TC; or (b) the Client places an order for the Products or Services. If the Client does not accept the TC within the aforementioned periods Elsevier may terminate the contract. Where the Client is required to make an advance payment, Elsevier shall be entitled to terminate the contract if the Client fails to make such advance payment.

3. Execution and modification of the order

For products that are delivered in a quoted volume, Elsevier shall return to the Client any amount overpaid by the Client. Orders specifying positions are accepted subject to availability and may be reduced by Elsevier to the extent that any of Client’s advertising and/or terminate this TC if Elsevier determines, in its sole discretion, that the Advertising copy is incorrect or that the Client is in breach of any of the terms set forth in this TC. If no dates are so specified, delivery/performance will be within a reasonable time. Services in connection with the performance of the TC, Elsevier shall act in the name of, to the account of, and at the Client’s sole risk. The Client shall procure and maintain insurance for all risks arising from the TC until such advance payment has been received. Where the Client is indebted to Elsevier for any other consideration, Elsevier shall be entitled to terminate the TC if the Client becomes insolvent or does not pay any sums due to Elsevier. The Client shall remain liable for any undisputed part of such invoice. Elsevier shall be entitled, at its sole discretion, to demand payment in advance and may suspend its obligations arising from the TC until such advance payment has been received. Where the Client procures advertising for others, Elsevier shall not be liable for actions of or omissions of any third party.
