1. Applicability

These terms and conditions shall apply to offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent(s) ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") unless the data for an order or proposal specifically requests Elsevier to deliver at the Client's place of business or expressly states exceptions to the terms and conditions. Elsevier reserves the right to vary the terms and conditions at any time which shall become effective upon delivery of the goods/services. For all transactions not specifically specified herein, Elsevier's general terms of purchase and sale prevail. These terms and conditions shall be also binding on the Client's employees, agents and contractors. The Client acknowledges that the liability of Elsevier is to be limited in accordance with these terms and conditions and the Client shall be deemed to have waived all other remedies against Elsevier. The Client has entered into this TC in reliance upon the representation and warranty that Elsevier shall perform its obligations under this TC in accordance with the above terms and conditions. Nothing in this TC shall be construed as creating an obligation to indemnify the other party against the other party's own negligence. The parties agree that the liability of Elsevier for goods sold or supplied to the Client in the course of a trade or business is limited to the price paid and/or value-added tax charged thereon and that Elsevier's liability for any delivery of defective or non-conforming goods is limited to the price paid for such goods.

2. Offer and acceptance/ Description

Each order for the Products and Services by the Client from Elsevier shall be deemed to be an offer by the Client to purchase the Products and Services subject to the TC. The order shall be deemed accepted until a written acknowledgement of order is issued by Elsevier or Elsevier delivers the Products or issues the invoice to the Client. The Client may cancel any purchase order or request delivery of any part of the Products or Services by giving written notice to Elsevier. Any such cancellation notice shall be given not later than the date on which the Products or Services are due or the date on which the TC is signed, whichever is the earlier. Any cancellations made by the Client shall be subject to a cancellation fee. If the Client cancels an order either fully or partially, a cancellation fee may be charged. All cancellations must be in writing and be signed by an authorized representative of the Client. The Client acknowledges that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations. The parties agree that the liability of Elsevier for goods sold or supplied to the Client in the course of a trade or business is limited to the price paid for such goods.

3. Execution and modification of the order

Any modifications to the agreed product or service description, budget or schedule, or in any other respect, in order to make the Client's payment obligations and performance under this TC or any other agreement or transaction with Elsevier possible, shall be binding on the Client

4. Price, taxes and currency

Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing, the price for the Products and Services shall be the price specified in Elsevier's current price list (whether point or online). All such price/tax/fee shall be exclusive of any handling, packing, freight, transport and insurance charges unless agreed to by the Client and Elsevier and shall be exclusive of any local, state or federal sales, use or other taxes levied by any governmental authority. The Client shall receive a proforma invoice for all such taxes or fees prior to the date of delivery. The Client acknowledges that Elsevier is required to charge sales tax in all states and jurisdictions where it has nexus, unless the Client is a tax-exempt entity. The Client shall be responsible for any sales or use taxes and shall pay amounts specified in the invoice. All prices are subject to change without notice. If the Client does not object to the final invoice within fifteen (15) days of receipt, the invoice will be deemed accepted. If the Client objects to the invoice, it must provide its objection to Elsevier in writing within five (5) days of receipt of the invoice. If the Client objects to the invoice, it shall pay the amount of the invoice less the amount of the objection. The Client acknowledges that any payments in respect of the invoice are subject to the Client's payment obligations and performance under this TC or any other agreement or transaction with Elsevier.

5. Payment

All payments due under the TC shall be made within thirty (30) days from the due date of the invoice for the Products or Services. The Client acknowledges that the liability of Elsevier is to be limited in accordance with these terms and conditions and the Client shall be deemed to have waived all other remedies against Elsevier. The Client acknowledges that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations. The parties agree that the liability of Elsevier for goods sold or supplied to the Client in the course of a trade or business is limited to the price paid for such goods.

6. Distribution

If the Client cancels an order either fully or partially, a cancellation fee may be charged. All cancellations must be in writing and be signed by an authorized representative of the Client. The Client acknowledges that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations. The parties agree that the liability of Elsevier for goods sold or supplied to the Client in the course of a trade or business is limited to the price paid for such goods.
