Overview

Resuscitation is a monthly international and interdisciplinary medical journal. The papers published deal with the aetiology, pathophysiology and prevention of cardiac arrest, resuscitation training, clinical resuscitation, and experimental resuscitation research, although papers relating to animal studies will be published only if they are of exceptional interest and related directly to clinical cardiopulmonary resuscitation. Papers relating to trauma are published occasionally but the majority of these concern traumatic cardiac arrest.
Affiliation

• The European Resuscitation Council • The American Heart Association • The Australian Resuscitation Council • The New Zealand Resuscitation Council • The Resuscitation Council of Southern Africa • The Japan Resuscitation Council

Audience

The journal content will be of interest to healthcare professionals working in critical care, emergency medicine, acute medicine, anaesthesia, cardiology, paediatrics, and neonatology.

1. Applicability

These terms and conditions shall apply to the offer, proposals, and agreements made by Elsevier to and between any and all parties to its order ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties for the TC. They supersede any previous written or oral discussions between the parties. For the purposes of this TC, "the Client" shall mean the person, firm or company which is purchasing the Products or Services as set out in the Elsevier order acknowledgement or invoice. Where products are supplied to Subscribers, Subscribers are third party products or services such a sale may be subject to additional terms.

2. Offer and acceptance Descriptions

Elsevier shall be deemed to have accepted the order placed by the Client if Elsevier delivers the Products or issues the invoice to the Client or commences performance of the Services for the Client. All orders accepted are subject to availability of the ordered Products. Unless otherwise expressly agreed by Elsevier in writing, Client represents and warrants that it is purchasing Products and Services from Elsevier for its own use and not and for and on behalf of and in relation to or in connection with a company, organization or authority as defined by any applicable laws, rules, codes, regulations, and generally prevailing customs and practices. Client agrees to indemnify Elsevier in and against any claims, actions or suits (whether arising out of and related to the advertising content or Client’s breach or alleged breach of any of the foregoing representations and warranties) and to pay, offer, give, promise or authorize the payment, directly or indirectly, of any such damages, costs or expenses to any person, firm or corporation by any court, tribunal or administrative body of competent jurisdiction to be wholly or partly illegal, invalid, void, unenforceable, impracticable or voidable or voidable for any reason.

3. Liability and claims

Neither party shall be liable for any loss or damage, whether direct, indirect or consequential, including, but not limited to, loss of profits, loss of anticipated savings or any other damages whether caused by any breach on the part of Elsevier; AND (ii) NEITHER PARTY SHALL BE RESPONSIBLE FOR death OR PERSONAL INJURY OR PROPERTY DAMAGE OR LOSS CAUSED BY THE NEGLIGENCE OR WILFUL INTENT OR THE NEGLIGENCE OF ITS EMPLOYEES OR OTHERS FOR WHOM THE PARTY IS LEGALLY RESPONSIBLE.

4. Payment

Failure or delay by Elsevier in enforcing or collecting any part of any payment owed to Elsevier shall not cause the Client to become liable to Elsevier for any part of such payment.

5. Interpretation

"Elsevier" means Elsevier, including Elsevier’s divisions, subsidiaries, or affiliates, unless any such person, firm or company as defined by any applicable laws, rules, codes, regulations, and generally prevailing customs and practices.

6. Terms

The formation, existence, construction, performance, validity and all aspects of the TC shall be governed by the law of the corporate domicile of the Elsevier company which is providing the Products or Services. The parties agree to submit to the jurisdiction of the courts of any State, or jurisdiction, in which Elsevier is situated, and to any courts having jurisdiction over any Person as defined by any applicable laws, rules, codes, regulations, and generally prevailing customs and practices. Arbitration is subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

7. Force majeure

If the Client cancels an order either fully or partially, a cancellation fee may be charged. All cancellations must be in writing and must be received by Elsevier no later than 30 days before the due date of the invoice. A cancellation fee will be calculated to cover any external or internal costs which have been incurred or committed up to and including the time of cancellation.

8. Cancellations & Returns

If no dates are so specified, delivery/performance will be within a reasonable time.

9. Data protection

The formation, existence, construction, performance, validity and all aspects of the TC shall be governed by the law of the corporate domicile of the Elsevier company which is providing the Products or Services. The parties agree to submit to the jurisdiction of the courts of any State, or jurisdiction, in which Elsevier is situated, and to any courts having jurisdiction over any Person as defined by any applicable laws, rules, codes, regulations, and generally prevailing customs and practices. Arbitration is subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

10. Advertising & Reprints

This fee will be calculated to cover any external or internal costs which have been incurred or committed up to and including the time of cancellation. If no dates are so specified, delivery/performance will be within a reasonable time.

11. Cancellation

All orders placed by the Client shall be deemed accepted until a written acknowledgement of order is issued by Elsevier or [Federal] Elsevier delivers the Products or issues an invoice to the Client or commences performance of the Services for the Client. All orders accepted are subject to availability of the ordered Products. Unless otherwise expressly agreed by Elsevier in writing, Client represents and warrants that it is purchasing Products and Services from Elsevier for its own use and not and for and on behalf of and in relation to a company, organization or authority as defined by any applicable laws, rules, codes, regulations, and generally prevailing customs and practices. Client agrees to indemnify Elsevier in and against any claims, actions or suits (whether arising out of and related to the advertising content or Client’s breach of any of the foregoing representations and warranties) and to pay, offer, give, promise or authorize the payment, directly or indirectly, of any such damages, costs or expenses to any person, firm or corporation by any court, tribunal or administrative body of competent jurisdiction to be wholly or partly illegal, invalid, void, unenforceable, impracticable or voidable or voidable for any reason.

12. Contractual terms

The Client is solely responsible for ensuring proposed advertising copy is received at Elsevier in electronic form (or such other form as specified by Elsevier) and within the relevant deadline set by Elsevier (the "Closing Date"). Where copy is received late or not at all, Elsevier will endeavour to do so on the Client's behalf but does not accept any responsibility for late delivery or non-delivery.

13. Cancellations & Returns

Each order for the Products and Services by the Client from Elsevier shall be deemed to be an offer by the Client to Elsevier to supply the Products or Services as set out in the order acknowledgement, subject to the Client's obligation to make payment to Elsevier under clause 5. If the Client is given a discounted rate for volume by Elsevier, and the Client does not order the quoted volume, Elsevier shall return to the Client any amount overpaid by the Client. Orders specifying positions are subject to modify the space or alter the date or position of insertion or make any other alteration, the Client will have the right to request a full refund of any amount paid.

14. Services

The Client shall not acquire any intellectual property rights in the Products. No part of the Elsevier proposals, publications or print run might be reproduced, adapted, translated, transmitted, stored in a retrieval system, or used in any form or by any means electronic, mechanical, by photocopying, recording, or in any other manner or form, without the specific written permission of Elsevier.

15. Financial transactions

If the Client cancels an order either fully or partially, a cancellation fee may be charged. All cancellations must be in writing and must be received by Elsevier no later than 30 days before the due date of the invoice. A cancellation fee will be calculated to cover any external or internal costs which have been incurred or committed up to and including the time of cancellation.

16. Services in connection with a call to action

The formation, existence, construction, performance, validity and all aspects of the TC shall be governed by the law of the corporate domicile of the Elsevier company which is providing the Products or Services. The parties agree to submit to the jurisdiction of the courts of any State, or jurisdiction, in which Elsevier is situated, and to any courts having jurisdiction over any Person as defined by any applicable laws, rules, codes, regulations, and generally prevailing customs and practices. Arbitration is subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

17. Cancellations & Returns

If no dates are so specified, delivery/performance will be within a reasonable time.
