Overview

Resuscitation is a monthly international and interdisciplinary medical journal. The papers published deal with the aetiology, pathophysiology and prevention of cardiac arrest, resuscitation training, clinical resuscitation, and experimental resuscitation research, although papers relating to animal studies will be published only if they are of exceptional interest and related directly to clinical cardiopulmonary resuscitation. Papers relating to trauma are published occasionally but the majority of these concern traumatic cardiac arrest.

Where general terms and conditions of business are produced by the Client, these shall apply and the TC shall prevail. Any variation to the TC and any representations about the Products and Services shall have no effect unless expressly agreed in writing and signed by an authorized signature of Elsevier. Nothing in the TC will exclude or limit Elsevier’s Liability for fraud or fraudulent misrepresentation.

Any personal representation or contract made by the Client shall be in the name and on behalf of the Client and not as or on behalf of any other person or entity.

3. Execution and modification of the order

Any modifications to the order specified on the Client’s order acknowledgment or description of the products or services, shall be subject to the Client’s written agreement. If the order acknowledgment or description of the products or services, shall be subject to the Client’s written agreement. If the order acknowledgment is in any way inconsistent with the TC, it shall be subject to the provisions of the TC, unless the Client has confirmed in writing to Elsevier that the Client will accept to proceed with the order as acknowledged.

11. Audit

Elsevier shall inspect the Client’s accounting records, books, and other documents to verify the amounts due to Elsevier, as required by law or by the Agreement. Elsevier shall not have the right to audit the Client’s books and records in a manner that is unreasonable or burdensome.

12. Limitation of liability

Nothing in the TC shall be construed as creating an obligation to indemnify the other party against the other party’s own negligence.
