1. Applicability
These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made by or on behalf of Elsevier and any third party or its agent ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the "TC"). They supersede any previous agreements and discussions between the parties.

2. Offer and acceptance/Description
The Client shall be bound by the offer to purchase the Products and Services subject to the TC. No order placed by the Client shall be deemed accepted until written acknowledgement of order is issued by Elsevier or Elsevier delivers the products or issues the invoice to the Client or performance of Services for the Client. In the event of any dispute or uncertainty regarding the TC, the written version issued by Elsevier shall be the controlling version.

3. Execution and modification of the order
Any modifications to the terms of the order, description, budget or schedule, as set out in the order acknowledgement, may result in an adjustment to the final price and/or delivery schedule at Elsevier’s discretion. If, at the request of the Client, Elsevier renders additional Services in connection with the performance of the TC, Elsevier shall act in the name of, to the account of, and at the risk of the Client. All expense and cost of performance shall be at the cost of the Client. To the extent that any work is required by the Client or which Elsevier is compelled to perform at the request of the Client or which is necessary to avoid the loss of any benefit, Elsevier shall be entitled to claim payment of any costs, expenses or benefits reasonably incurred or committed up to and including the date of such request, together with interest thereon at the Bank of England base rate plus 3% per annum.

4. Prices, taxes and currencies
Prices are exclusive of taxes, duties, levies and other governmental assessments except where indicated otherwise. Prices shall be subject to change without notice. If by reason of labor dispute, strikes, inability to obtain labor or materials, fire or other action of the elements, shortage of supplies, or any other cause beyond the control of a party, such party is unable to perform in whole or in part, the party shall give written notice of such cause to the other party, and the affected party shall have the right to rescind or modify the TC at any time and for any reason.

5. Liability and claims
The Client shall not engage in piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products or any other products of Elsevier or its affiliates, nor shall it directly or indirectly facilitate any other party to engage in these activities. The Client shall promptly notify Elsevier of any piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products by any third party. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers damus due to fit of the sale of its products, exercising full control and carefully of all loss or losses resulting from any unanticipated delays. Delays or failures in obtaining such payments will not affect the Client’s obligation to pay to Elsevier under clause 6.

6. Distribution
The Client shall use reasonable efforts to sell and distribute the Products or the Services at its own expense and at the Client’s own risk and shall be fully liable for all losses and expenses attributable to the Client’s performance under the TC. The Client shall be liable for the cost of advertising and promoting the Products or Services, and the Client shall act as principal when making such sales. A Client shall be entitled to recover payment for the copies of the Products not resubmitted for any reason.

7. Payment
Payment under the TC is due in accordance with the terms set forth in the order acknowledgment. Payment shall be made in full and without deduction. Payment is due within 30 days of the invoice date, or sooner if required by law.

8. Cancellations & Returns
Partial or full non-performance of the TC by Elsevier or the Client for reasons of force majeure shall not be construed as a waiver of any of its rights under the TC.

9. Force majeure
Force majeure includes, without limitation, but not by way of limitation, any act of God, war, act of government, riot, civil commotion, earthquake, flood, fire, shortage of supplies, transportation, labor, or governmental restrictions or restraints, and such other causes beyond the control of the party affected as may hereinafter be determined or otherwise agreed by the parties. In the event of force majeure, the affected party, acting reasonably and in good faith, shall give written notice thereof to the other party, and such affected party’s failure to perform, in whole or in part, as a result of the force majeure event or events, shall not be construed as a breach of the TC. Force majeure shall not affect the other terms of the TC.

10. Arbitration
Any dispute, controversy or claim arising out of or relates to the TC or the breach thereof shall be settled by arbitration in accordance with the rules of the American Arbitration Association. The arbitration shall be conducted in English and shall be held in New York, New York, unless otherwise agreed by the parties. The parties agree that any award including interest thereon shall be final, conclusive and binding upon both parties.

11. Governing law
Unless otherwise specifically agreed in writing, the TC shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of New York, and the parties hereby submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of the State of New York, including the United States Federal Courts for the Southern District of New York. Nothing in this section shall affect the rights of Elsevier to enforce the TC in any other courts of any other jurisdictions.

12. General
Any offer of Elsevier is subject to all relevant laws, statutes, rules and regulations and any other provisions in any applicable agreement or order with the Client.

13. Cancellations & Returns
Payment does not include a payment of reasonable and bona fide expenditures, such as travel or lodging expenses, which are incurred in connection with the performance of the TC. Services or the execution or performance of a contract provided that such payments are permissible under the Applicable Laws.

14. General
Parties agree that they shall not engage in piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products or Services agreed by both parties in the relevant order, including such things as plagiarism, technical details, design and/or of address, file names and the like. All drawings, descriptive matter, specifications and advertising material in Elsevier’s catalogues or brochures are published for the purpose of giving an approximate idea of the Products and Services described therein. They will form part of the TC. The Publishing errors, including, but not limited to, typographical errors, having no significant affect on the editorial content as defined characteristics of the Products and Services, can be considered a reason for requesting delivery or, as the case may be, modifying the order.

15. Transmission of Services
In circumstances where the TC is not the name, the address, and the mail of the Client. Any dates specified by Elsevier for delivery of the Products and Services are intended to be an estimate and at the time of delivery/pickup shall not be liable for any mistake in the name, address or mail of the Client.

16. Prices, taxes and currencies
Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing, the Products and Services are referred to in Elsevier’s current price list (whether printed or online). All such prices shall be exclusive of any handling, packing, loading, freight, transport and insurance charges unless otherwise agreed in writing, and shall not be exclusive of any import duties or other levies imposed on the sale or export of the Products or Services by local or national authorities, which shall be charged by Elsevier as appropriate. Where applicable, Elsevier shall provide to Elsevier’s VAT registration number or other information which Elsevier shall request in order to facilitate the charging of VAT. Where applicable, this fee will be calculated to cover any external or internal costs which have been incurred or committed up to and including the date of such request, together with interest thereon at the Bank of England base rate plus 3% per annum.

17. Liability and claims
The Client shall not engage in piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products or any other products of Elsevier or its affiliates, nor shall it directly or indirectly facilitate any other party to engage in these activities. The Client shall promptly notify Elsevier of any piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products by any third party. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers damus due to fit of the sale of its products, exercising full control and carefully of all loss or losses resulting from any unanticipated delays. Delays or failures in obtaining such payments will not affect the Client’s obligation to pay to Elsevier under clause 6.

18. Intellectual property
Client shall acquire no right, title or interest in or to the Products or Services by virtue of the TC. The Client’s title to the Products and Services or any other products or Services of Elsevier shall be limited only to its rights as authorized herein. The Client may not assign or transfer any of its rights, duties or obligations hereunder without the prior written consent of Elsevier. The Client shall require any such assignment or transfer to be made in accordance with the provisions of the TC. The Client shall require any such assignment or transfer to be made in accordance with the provisions of the TC.

19. Liability and claims
The Client shall have no right, title or interest in or to the Products or Services by virtue of the TC. The Client shall have no right, title or interest in or to the Products or Services or any other products or Services of Elsevier, which shall be acquired by the Client only to the extent that the Client acquires any right, title or interest in or to the Products or Services or any other products or Services of Elsevier.

20. Distribution
The Client shall use all reasonable efforts to sell and distribute the Products or the Services at its own expense and at the Client’s own risk and shall be fully liable for all losses and expenses attributable to the Client’s performance under the TC. The Client shall be liable for the cost of advertising and promoting the Products or Services, and the Client shall act as principal when making such sales. A Client shall be entitled to recover payment for the copies of the Products not resubmitted for any reason.

21. Payment
Payment under the TC is due in accordance with the terms set forth in the order acknowledgment. Payment shall be made in full and without deduction. Payment is due within 30 days of the invoice date, or sooner if required by law.

22. Cancellations & Returns
Partial or full non-performance of the TC by Elsevier or the Client for reasons of force majeure shall not be construed as a waiver of any of its rights under the TC. To the extent that any work is required by the Client or which Elsevier is compelled to perform at the request of the Client or which is necessary to avoid the loss of any benefit, Elsevier shall be entitled to claim payment of any costs, expenses or benefits reasonably incurred or committed up to and including the date of such request, together with interest thereon at the Bank of England base rate plus 3% per annum.

23. Force majeure
Force majeure includes, without limitation, but not by way of limitation, any act of God, war, act of government, riot, civil commotion, earthquake, flood, shortage of supplies, transportation, labor, or governmental restrictions or restraints, and such other causes beyond the control of the party affected as may hereinafter be determined or otherwise agreed by the parties. In the event of force majeure, the affected party, acting reasonably and in good faith, shall give written notice thereof to the other party, and such affected party’s failure to perform, in whole or in part, as a result of the force majeure event or events, shall not be construed as a breach of the TC. Force majeure shall not affect the other terms of the TC.

24. Governing law
Unless otherwise specifically agreed in writing, the TC shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of New York, and the parties hereby submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of the State of New York, including the United States Federal Courts for the Southern District of New York. Nothing in this section shall affect the rights of Elsevier to enforce the TC in any other courts of any other jurisdictions.

25. General
Any offer of Elsevier is subject to all relevant laws, statutes, rules and regulations and any other provisions in any applicable agreement or order with the Client.
