ELSEVIER TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF SUPPLY

1. Applicability
   These terms and conditions shall only apply to proposals, offers, purchases and agreements made between the Publisher ("the Publisher") and the Client ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the "TC"). They supersede any previous supply terms and conditions. For the purposes of these Terms and Conditions, any order acknowledgement, any invoice or any verbal or written confirmation or order placed by the Client shall be deemed to be an acceptance of these Terms and Conditions. In the event of any inconsistency, these Terms and Conditions shall prevail. Any variation to the TC and any representations about the Products and Services shall have no effect unless expressly agreed in writing and signed by an authorised signatory of Elsevier. Nothing in the TC will exclude or limit Elsevier's Liability for death or personal injury caused by its negligence.

2. Order and acceptance
   The Client shall place its order and/or request for service by the Client from Elsevier shall be deemed to be an offer to the Publisher to supply the Products and Services subject to the TC. No order placed by the Client shall be deemed accepted until a written acknowledgement of order is issued by Elsevier (or Elsevier's agent). Elsevier reserves the right to accept, reject or vary any order or request for supply without giving any reason. The terms of delivery, payment, service, price, description, quality, quantity and any other matter concerning the order shall be governed by the TC. The TC only applies to the Products and Services ordered in the order acknowledgement. If a term in the order acknowledgement is inconsistent with the terms of the TC, it may be adjusted to the final price and/or delivery schedule at Elsevier’s discretion.

3. General
   The Client shall not engage, reproduce, plagiarize the Products or any other products of Elsevier in or on behalf of any other person or entity. The Client may not resell the Products before ownership has passed to it provided that any sale shall be effected in the ordinary course of the Client’s business at full market value and no sale shall be a sale of Elsevier’s property on the Client’s own behalf and shall be dealt with and so treated as if it were a sale of Elsevier’s property.

4. Intellectual property
   Copyright and other intellectual property rights to all Elsevier proposals, publications and other Products or Services shall remain with Elsevier unless otherwise agreed in writing. The rights granted by Elsevier are not assignable, sellable, transferable or sublicensable in any manner without Elsevier’s prior written permission.

5. Liability and claims
   To the MAXIMUM EXTENT PERMITTED BY LAW, THEN ELSEVIER SHALL NOT BE LIABLE for any of the following which may arise by reason of any breach of contract, tort (including negligence), breach of duty or any other representation or warranty. (a) all loss or damage of whatever nature (including, but not limited to, damages for loss of profits, loss of business, loss of anticipated savings or other benefits and any other pecuniary or economic loss) however caused, which are suffered or incurred by any person or entity in connection with the TC or its subject matter and which are not caused by a breach of the TC by Elsevier; (b) any representation and/or warranty stated in the TC; (c) any other representation or warranty (whether oral or written) and/or any failure by Elsevier to perform its obligations under the TC or any other contract; (d) any loss or damage of whatever nature (including, but not limited to, damages for loss of profits, loss of business, loss of anticipated savings or other benefits and any other pecuniary or economic loss) however caused, which are suffered or incurred by any person or entity in connection with the TC or its subject matter and which are not caused by a breach of the TC by Elsevier.

6. Distribution
   Except in so far as it is not in the reasonable judgment of Elsevier to do so, the Client shall be responsible for collecting from its customers in the amount due to it from the sale of the Products or the Services or from the publication of the Products or Services.

7. Force Majeure
   The formation, existence, construction, performance, validity and all aspects of the TC shall be governed by the laws of the corporate domicile of the Elsevier company which is providing the Products or Services. The parties agree to submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of that same corporate domicile. The Publisher shall be entitled to vary any terms incorporated into the TC by virtue of the order acknowledgement or by any other written notice to the Client.

8. Cancellations & Returns
   To the extent of such illegality, invalidity, voidness, voidability, force majeure or other event, the offending provision or provisions shall be severed and the remainder of such provision shall continue in full force and effect. Failure or delay in exercising any provision or possessing any of the TC will not constitute a waiver of any of its rights under the TC.
