Journal of Cartilage & Joint Preservation

Overview

The Journal of Cartilage & Joint Preservation will capture the best clinical, translational and basic science articles in this rapidly growing area of discovery and expertise. JCJP will publish peer-reviewed original research articles and state-of-the-art reviews, as well as techniques videos showing the applications of new findings to the care of patients in need of cartilage repair and joint preservation.

Because it sits at the intersection of basic and applied research, JCJP will bring important new findings to the toolbox of all researchers and clinicians involved in cartilage repair, development, function, degeneration, transplantation and rehabilitation, and with a strong new emphasis on joint preservation, including cartilage restoration techniques such as microfracture surgery, drilling, abrasion arthroplasty, autologous chondrocyte implementation, osteochondral autograft transplantation and osteochondral allograft transplantation.

1. Applicability

These terms and conditions shall apply to all proposals, offers and agreements made by Elsevier and to any third party or its agent(s) (“the Client”) relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier (“the Products and/or Services”) and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the “TC”). They supersedes any previous supply terms and conditions. For the purposes of the TC, “Products” and “Services” are defined as set out in the Elsevier order acknowledgement. The TC shall be subject to all applicable laws, statutes, orders and regulations in force in the country in which the Client is located.

2. Offer and acceptance

Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing, all proposals, offers and agreements made by Elsevier shall be subject to acceptance by the Client. Each order placed by the Client shall be accepted or declined by Elsevier in writing. If the Client accepts the proposal, offer or agreement, it shall constitute a binding contract between the Client and Elsevier. The Client shall be responsible for ensuring that all orders placed are correct and complete.

3. Execution and modification of the order

The Client shall not be entitled to cancel an order for any reason or to make any modifications to the order, without the prior written consent of Elsevier. Elsevier will have the right to implement any changes to the order in a manner that it deems necessary to comply with any applicable laws, orders, or regulations.

4. Liability and claims

Any claims for non-delivery, or for delivery of defective goods, must be notified to Elsevier within a period of 28 days from the date of delivery. Failure to do so shall entitle Elsevier to refuse any claim. All claims for shortage of goods must be made within a period of 28 days from the date of delivery.

5. Payment

The Client shall pay for the Products and Services in advance, unless otherwise agreed in writing by Elsevier. Payment terms will be based on the credit rating of the Client. Payment shall be made in the currency specified in the order acknowledgement. All amounts are exclusive of any applicable taxes and duties.

6. Distribution

The Client shall at all times comply with all laws and regulations, and shall be responsible for ensuring that the Products and Services are distributed in accordance with all applicable laws, orders, and regulations.

7. Force majeure

Neither party shall be liable for any failure or delay in the performance of its obligations under the TC arising from circumstances beyond its control, including acts of God, any event or circumstances not in its control, or any event other than its own negligence.

8. General

Any changes to these terms and conditions shall be binding on the Client and the TC will be governed by the laws of the country in which the Client is located. The Client shall not assign the TC or any part of it without the prior written consent of Elsevier. Elsevier shall be entitled to assign its rights under the TC.

9. Applicable Law

The formation, existence, construction, performance, validity and all aspects of the TC shall be governed by the law of the corporate domicile of the Elsevier company which is providing the Products or Services. The parties agree that any dispute arising from the TC shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the courts of the country in which Elsevier is located.

10. Amendments

Any amendments to these terms and conditions will be binding on the Client and shall be effective from the date of acceptance by Elsevier. The Client shall be responsible for ensuring that any changes to these terms and conditions are known to all relevant personnel within the Client's organization.
