1. Applicability

These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties for the "TC". They supersede any previous supply terms and conditions, save as regard the Client's specific agreeable terms as set out in the Elsevier order acknowledgement, and must be read in conjunction with the full text of the TC. The Client shall not be entitled to assign the TC or any part of it without the prior written consent of Elsevier. Elsevier reserves the right to cancel or modify any TC at any time and for any reason and in its sole discretion. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due and payable to Elsevier, net of all taxes, equal to the amount actually remitted to Elsevier, net of all taxes, equals the amount invoiced or otherwise due. The Client will be required to provide evidence of tax exemption to Elsevier at the time of placing its order. If, under the laws of the territory in which the Client is operating, it is required to pay tax under the TC, then the amount of the payment will be automatically increased to fully offset such tax, so that the Client shall not be entitled to reclaim such tax under the TC.

2. Offer and acceptance/ Description

Each order for the Products and Services by the Client from Elsevier shall be deemed to be an offer by the Client to purchase the Products and/or Services as set out on the Elsevier order acknowledgement, subject to the Client's agreeable terms as set out in the Elsevier order acknowledgement. The Client shall have entered into this TC in full knowledge that the liability of Elsevier is to be limited in accordance with these terms and conditions and the Client acknowledges that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations. The parties agree that the Client's existing legal or statutory rights where it is acting as a consumer. The parties agree that the General Conditions of Goods shall not apply to this TC or the interpretation or enforcement thereof. The Client acknowledges that higher prices may be payable for the Products or Services under any order or to any party other than the Client subject to a force majeure event. Further, if the Client cancels an order either fully or partially, a cancellation fee may be charged. All cancellations must be notified in writing to Elsevier as soon as reasonably practicable, but no later than the due date of such invoice. In the event of partial cancellation, Elsevier shall be entitled to withdraw the unfulfilled part of the order.

3. Cancellations & Returns

The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due and payable to Elsevier, net of all taxes, equals the amount invoiced or otherwise due. The Client shall not be entitled to assign the TC or any part of it without the prior written consent of Elsevier. Elsevier reserves the right to cancel or modify any TC at any time and for any reason and in its sole discretion. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due and payable to Elsevier, net of all taxes, equals the amount invoiced or otherwise due. The Client will be required to provide evidence of tax exemption to Elsevier at the time of placing its order. If, under the laws of the territory in which the Client is operating, it is required to pay tax under the TC, then the amount of the payment will be automatically increased to fully offset such tax, so that the Client shall not be entitled to reclaim such tax under the TC.
