Clinical Simulation in Nursing

Overview

Clinical Simulation in Nursing (CSN) is an international, peer-reviewed journal published online monthly. CSN is the official journal of the International Nursing Association for Clinical Simulation & Learning (INACSL) and reflects the mission of INACSL to advance the science of healthcare simulation.

The journal accepts the following types of manuscripts:

— Research articles and literature reviews (e.g. systematic, scoping, umbrella, integrative, etc.) about simulation

— Innovative teaching/learning strategies using simulation

— Articles updating guidelines, regulations, and legislative policies that impact simulation

— Leadership for simulation

— Simulation operations

— Clinical and academic uses of simulation

1. Applicability

These terms and conditions apply to all offers, proposals, agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agents or representatives ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgment, shall form the entire agreement between the parties for the "TC". They supersede any previous agreement between the parties for the TC. None of the provisions of this TC shall be modified, examined, supplemented or amended except by an agreement signed by authorized representatives of the parties.

2. Distribution

The obligations of the parties in respect of the products and services ordered by the Client shall be as set out in the relevant order acknowledgment. All orders are subject to availability of the products and services described therein. Delivery of the Products and Services shall be made in accordance with clauses 3 and 4.

3. Execution and modification of the order

Any modifications to the products or services described in the solicitation are subject to written approval by Elsevier. Such approval may be rendered at its own discretion and shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed. In the event of delays caused by the Client, payment for the agreed portion of the order shall be made on delivery. Delivery dates are estimates only and are intended for information purposes and may be changed by mutual agreement. If any third party product or service is used or incorporated in the final work, it may be subject to additional terms and conditions.

4. Prices, taxes and currency

Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing, all prices and terms for the products and services shall be those set out in the relevant order acknowledgment or as otherwise agreed in writing. Delivery charges, if any, shall be charged to the Client. All prices are exclusive of local sales tax and such tax shall be paid by the Client. All payments shall be made in the currency and in the manner agreed upon between the parties and in accordance with the terms of the TC. Any payment made by the Client shall be deemed to be a payment towards all sums due to Elsevier under this TC. Elsevier shall be entitled to offset any amounts owed to the Client against any amounts owed to the Client. All amounts shall be paid in full and free of any taxes, duties or other charges.

5. Right to reject or modify the supply

No order for the Products and Services by the Client shall be deemed to be an offer to Elsevier for the purpose of this TC. Any offer to supply the Products and Services by the Client shall be deemed to be a request for a quotation and Elsevier shall be free to accept or reject any offer and to cancel any order at any time for any reason.

6. Payment

Amounts payable shall be due and payable on receipt of an invoice. Except as agreed in writing between the parties, payment shall be made by the Client within 30 days of the date of invoice. Any amount which remains unpaid after the due date will be subject to interest at a rate of 1% per month or the maximum rate permitted by law, whichever is less. If the Client defaults in any payment, Elsevier may, at its discretion, suspend or terminate the TC or any part thereof. The Client shall pay all costs and charges incurred by Elsevier in connection with any default by the Client and any action taken by Elsevier to enforce its rights under this TC.

7. Intellectual property

Copyright and other intellectual property rights to all Elsevier proposals, publications and other Products are reserved by Elsevier unless otherwise agreed in writing. Any rights granted by Elsevier are non-exclusive and for the purpose expressly agreed upon. Any other use shall require the prior written permission of Elsevier. The Client shall not acquire any intellectual property rights in the Products. No part of the Elsevier proposals, publications or Products may be reprinted, translated, transmitted, or reproduced in any manner without the prior written permission of Elsevier. The rights granted by Elsevier are non-exclusive and for the purpose expressly agreed upon. Any other use shall require the prior written permission of Elsevier. The Client shall not acquire any intellectual property rights in the Products. No part of the Elsevier proposals, publications or Products may be reprinted, translated, transmitted, or reproduced in any manner without the prior written permission of Elsevier.

8. Liability and claims

The maximum extent PERMITTED BY RELEVANT LAW, Elsevier shall not be liable for any damage if applicable, including but not limited to, damages, costs or expenses, loss or damage, including but not limited to, loss of profits, loss of data, loss of business, or any other indirect, special, incidental, punitive or consequential damages, arising out of the use of, or inability to use, or reliance on, or inability to use, the Products and/or Services, or any part thereof.

9. Force majeure

The Client shall not be held liable for any failure or delay in the performance of its obligations under this TC if the failure or delay is caused by circumstances beyond its reasonable control, including but not limited to, acts of war, terrorism, riot, civil unrest, strike, lockout, or any act of God, including, without limitation, any governmental act, including, without limitation, any governmental act, law, order, statute, rule, regulation, or action.

10. Force majeure

In the event that the Client is unable to perform any of its obligations due to circumstances beyond its reasonable control, the Client shall not be liable for any failure or delay in the performance of its obligations under this TC. The provisions of this TC shall continue to be binding on the parties and shall remain in full force and effect.

11. Audit

Regardless of whether or not the Client has made payment for the Products and Services, Elsevier shall be entitled to conduct an audit of the Client's books and records at any time during the term of this TC. The Client shall provide Elsevier with all necessary information and access to its facilities for such audit. The results of the audit shall be binding on the Client.

12. Compliance with laws

All orders for articles or services must be made in accordance with all applicable laws, rules and regulations, including, without limitation, any laws governing the publication of books or articles, the provision of services, or the use of any products.

13. Indemnification

Nothing in the TC shall be construed as creating an obligation to indemnify the other party against the other party's own negligence. Elsevier's liability for any other loss, including loss of profit, shall be limited to the invoiced value of the part of the TC which is impossible to perform.

14. Governing law and jurisdiction

This TC shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the [specify jurisdiction], and the [specify jurisdiction] courts shall have exclusive jurisdiction over all disputes arising from or in connection with the TC. If any provision of this TC is held to be invalid or unenforceable, that provision shall be construed in all respects as if it had never been included.

15. Entire agreement

This TC and any subsequent order acknowledgment signed by authorized representatives of the parties shall constitute the entire agreement between the parties and supersedes all prior and contemporaneous communications and agreements, whether oral or written, regarding the subject matter of this TC.

16. Miscellaneous

This TC and any subsequent order acknowledgment signed by authorized representatives of the parties shall constitute the entire agreement between the parties and supersedes all prior and contemporaneous communications and agreements, whether oral or written, regarding the subject matter of this TC.
