1. Applicability
These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent (the “Client”) relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgment, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the “TC”). They supersede any previous terms and conditions. For the purposes of the TC, Elsevier shall mean the company within the Elsevier group that is providing the Products or Services as set out on the order acknowledgment.

2. Payment

(a) Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing, Client shall allow Publisher’s authorized representative at any reasonable time to have access to Client’s premises (or any other premises in the Client’s care, custody or control) for the purpose of inspecting Client’s facilities, books and records to verify Client’s compliance with these terms and conditions. The right to request such inspections of the Client’s premises is not transferable.

(b) No part of the Elsevier proposals, publications or Products may be stored or used in any automated data base or electronic retrieval system, or may be reproduced, recorded, or stored in any way, or form, without the specific prior written permission of Elsevier. The rights granted by Elsevier are restricted to use solely by the Client and may not be assigned, transferred or sublicensed without the prior written permission of Elsevier. The rights granted by Elsevier are non-exclusive and for the purpose expressly agreed upon. Any other use shall require the prior written permission of Elsevier. The Client shall not acquire any intellectual property rights in the Products. In no event shall the Client or its agents or licensees have the right to resell, assign, sublicense, or otherwise make use of the Products and Services for any purpose other than those expressly agreed upon.

3. Distribution
The Client shall not engage in piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products or any other products or services of Elsevier or its affiliates, nor shall it directly or indirectly facilitate any other party to engage in those activities. The Client shall promptly notify Elsevier if it becomes aware of any piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products by any third party. The right is solely responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due in respect of its sales of the Products, exercising full credit control and solely bearing all of its own losses resulting from any uncollected amounts. Default or failure in obtaining such payments will not affect the Client’s obligation to make payments to Elsevier under these terms.

4. Intellectual property
Copyright and other intellectual property rights to all Elsevier proposals, publications and other Products and or Services shall remain with Elsevier unless agreed otherwise in writing. The rights granted by Elsevier are restricted to use solely by the Client and may not be assigned, transferred or sublicensed without the prior written permission of Elsevier. The Client agrees that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations.

5. Force majeure
If by reason of labor dispute, strikes, riot, inability to obtain labor or materials, fire or any other action of the elements, accidents, war or telecommunications failure, customs delays, governmental restrictions or appropriation or other causes beyond the control of a party, such party is unable to perform in whole or in part in any obligation set forth in this TC, then such party shall be relieved of those obligations to the extent it is thereby unable to perform, and such inability to perform shall not make such party liable to any other party. The subject matter of the force majeure shall use good faith efforts to continue until such time as the provisions of the TC and this event are to be affected by the effects of such event to the extent possible.

6. Advertising & Reprints

(a) The Client shall take all steps reasonably practicable to ensure that the Client’s advertising and/or promotion is clear and fair and is presented in an appropriate manner.

(b) The Client shall keep Elsevier informed of all advertising and/or promotional activity planned and shall ensure that no advice or information forthcoming from Elsevier (including the approved artwork or proofs) is altered, rearranged, rephotographed or otherwise modified in any way without Elsevier’s written consent. If any part of the Content received by the Client is considered by Elsevier to be unacceptable, the Client shall return the unsuitable Content to Elsevier and repeat the proofing process. Elsevier shall not be liable for any delay or failure to publish the unsuitable Content.

7. Responsibilities of the Client

(a) The Client must supply Elsevier with all necessary information so that Elsevier can provide the agreed Product or Service.

(b) The Client is responsible for ensuring that all information and material furnished to Elsevier conforms to the requirements of all laws, regulations, codes and guidelines that apply to it.

(c) The Client shall provide Elsevier with all necessary permission for the use of such information and material in any part of the Products.

(d) The Client shall make all payments to Elsevier and pay all sums due under the TC in full. The Client shall not deduct from any such sum any amount which the Client considers to be due from Elsevier to the Client.

8. Liability and claims

(a) Except as provided in this TC, Elsevier shall not be liable for any loss or damage of any kind imposed on Elsevier by operation of law or equity, (b) any breach of contract or warranty, (c) any loss of profit or anticipated savings, (d) any costs or expenses payable by Elsevier to any third party, (e) any loss sustained by any person or company that was not a party to this TC, (f) any loss of goodwill or damage to reputation, (g) any claims of any third party or any claim against the Client or any payment made by elsevier to any third party or any claims or actions for breach of contract or tort, including negligence, (h) any loss of profits or any other economic loss, (i) any indirect or consequential loss, (j) indirect or consequential loss, (k) any indirect or consequential loss, or (l) any loss that is otherwise payable by Elsevier. The Client shall be responsible for the payment of all sums due to Elsevier under the TC in full. The amount actually required to be paid by the Client under the TC shall be determined by Elsevier and the Client shall be responsible for all expenses and costs incurred by Elsevier in connection with the collection of any amounts due from the Client.

9. Force majeure
If by reason of labor dispute, strikes, riot, inability to obtain labor or materials, fire or any other action of the elements, accidents, war or telecommunications failure, customs delays, governmental restrictions or appropriation or other causes beyond the control of a party, such party is unable to perform in whole or in part in any obligation set forth in this TC, then such party shall be relieved of those obligations to the extent it is thereby unable to perform, and such inability to perform shall not make such party liable to any other party. The subject matter of the force majeure shall use good faith efforts to continue until such time as the provisions of the TC and this event are to be affected by the effects of such event to the extent possible.

10. Advertising & Reprints

(a) Unless otherwise expressly agreed by Elsevier in writing, Client represents and warrants that it is purchasing Products or Services from Elsevier for its own account and use and not on behalf of any other person or entity. If Client is an agent, it represents and warrants that it is purchasing the Products from Elsevier for the account and use of no more than one identified institutional subscriber or principal or, if the agent is permitted to order personal subscriptions in a representative capacity, for the account and use of no more than one identified individual subscriber for personal use.

(b) Client acknowledges that violation of this representation and warranty will cause irreparable harm to Elsevier. Upon any violation of this representation and warranty, Elsevier shall be entitled to immediate injunctive relief requiring Client to discontinue all recipients of the Products and Services from Client, including all actual recipients that have not been previously properly identified by Client. Elsevier shall use commercially reasonable efforts to comply with descriptions of the Products and Services agreed by both parties in the relevant order, including such things as format, printing, processes, design, size and kind of address file, weight, and the like. All drawings, descriptive matter, specifications and advertising issued by Elsevier or any descriptions or illustrations contained in Elsevier’s catalogues or brochures are issued as published for the sole purpose of giving an approximate description of the Products and Services described in them. They will not form part of the TC. Publishing errors, including, but not limited to, typographical errors, having no significant effect on the editorial content or design characteristics of the Products and Services, cannot be considered a reason for rejecting the shipment as the case may be, except for the stated price.
