1. Applicability

These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals, made and agreed, or any other third party or agent (the "Client") relating to the products and services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between Elsevier and the Client and supersedes all prior agreements, oral or written, between the parties. If any clause of these terms and conditions is held to be invalid or unenforceable, the remaining clauses shall remain in full force and effect.

2. Applicability of the rules

The Client acknowledges that violation of this representation and warranty will cause irreparable harm to Elsevier. Upon any violation of this representation and warranty, Elsevier shall be entitled to intervene unilaterally in order to resolve all issues which have been properly identified by Elsevier. Elsevier shall exercise reasonable measures to comply with the definitions and the Products and Services agreed upon by both parties in order to resolve such issues, including such steps as: formalizing, proceeding, preconception design, test, and any kind of details, forgotten and the like. All drawings, descriptive matter, specifications and advertising issued by Elsevier or any description or illustrations contained in Elsevier's catalogues or brochures are issued or published for the purpose of giving an appropriate description of the products and services described therein. They shall be in full form of the TC. Publishing errors, including, but not limited to, typographical errors, having no significant effect on the editorial content or design characteristics of the Products, cannot be considered a reason for rejecting delivery or, as the case may be, modifying the agreed price.

3. Acceptance and offer

Any modifications to the agreed delivery terms of the order shall be made in writing and confirmed by both parties. The Client's obligations to make payments to Elsevier under the TC, including, without limitation, all bank charges and foreign exchange charges.

4. Prices, taxes and currencies

Unless otherwise agreed in writing, payment shall be effected within thirty (30) days from the invoice date in the currency invoiced. The Client may not set off any amounts due to Elsevier against any other amounts due to the Client.

5. Payment

Unless otherwise agreed in writing, all payments shall be made net of any applicable taxes, duties or other levies imposed on the sale or impact of the Products or related services. In the event that any amounts due to Elsevier are in a currency other than the currency invoiced for the Products and Services, the Client shall be responsible for any foreign exchange-related procedures in the currency that is necessary to make payments to Elsevier under the TC, including, without limitation, all bank charges and foreign exchange charges.

6. Price, taxes and costs

In the event of any return of the Products, the Client shall be solely responsible for payment of any fees or costs related to the return of the Products, including any handling, packing, and shipping charges. Reprints cannot be returned once these have been printed.

7. Intellectual property

The Client acknowledges that Elsevier shall have no liability for any infringement of intellectual property rights in the Products unless such infringement is caused by the Client's failure to comply with its obligations under clause 6.3.

8. Liability and claims

The Client acknowledges that Elsevier will not be liable for any loss, damage, or injury resulting from any infringement of intellectual property rights in the Products by any third party. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due to Elsevier for the Products and Services. Delays or failures in obtaining such payments will not affect Elsevier's obligation to make payments to Elsevier under the TC.

9. Force majeure

If Elsevier cancels an order either fully or partially, a cancellation fee may be charged. All cancellations must be made in writing and confirmed by both parties. The Client is not entitled to reject delivery or, as the case may be, modify the agreed price.

10. Compliance with laws

The Client shall at all times during the term strictly comply with all applicable laws, ordinances, codes, regulations, standards and judicial and administrative orders (jointly "Applicable Law") relevant to its duties, obligations and performance under this Agreement, including, without limitation, the United States Foreign Corrupt Practice Act and the UK Bribery Act as they are then in force in the countries where Elsevier is located.

11. Force majeure

In the event that Elsevier is unable to deliver the Products or perform the services due to any reason beyond its control, including, without limitation, acts of God, armed conflicts, governmental regulations, labor disputes, or any other cause which is beyond the control of Elsevier, Elsevier shall be entitled to extend the scheduled delivery date or to cancel the order if such an event shall continue beyond a reasonable time.

12. Arbitration

If the Client cancels an order either fully or partially, a cancellation fee may be charged. All cancellations must be made in writing and confirmed by both parties. The Client is not entitled to reject delivery or, as the case may be, modify the agreed price.

13. Taxation

The Client acknowledges that Elsevier shall have the right to deduct any amounts due to the Client from any other amounts due to Elsevier under the TC or any other agreements between the parties.

14. General

The Client acknowledges that Elsevier shall have the right to deduct any amounts due to the Client from any other amounts due to Elsevier under the TC. The Client acknowledges that Elsevier will not be liable for any loss, damage, or injury resulting from any infringement of intellectual property rights in the Products by any third party. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due to Elsevier for the Products and Services. Delays or failures in obtaining such payments will not affect Elsevier's obligation to make payments to Elsevier under the TC.

15. Intellectual property

The Client acknowledges that Elsevier shall have no liability for any infringement of intellectual property rights in the Products unless such infringement is caused by the Client's failure to comply with its obligations under clause 6.3.
