1. Applicability
These terms and conditions shall apply to all proposals, quotations, orders and orders of work to be done by any third party or its agent ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier (the "Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the "TC"). They supersede any previous representations or agreements made by Elsevier. For the purposes of this TC, acknowledgement means an official acknowledgment by Elsevier that the order, as set out on the Elsevier order acknowledgement or invoice. Where general terms and conditions of business are proposed by the Client, these shall not apply and the TC shall prevail. Any variation to the TC and any representations about the Products and Services shall have no effect unless expressly agreed in writing and signed by an authorised signature of Elsevier. Nothing in the TC will exclude or limit Elsevier’s Liability for fraudulent misrepresentation.

2. Offer and acceptance/Description
Each order for the Products and Services to be supplied by Elsevier from the Client shall be deemed to be an offer by the Client to purchase the Products and Services subject to the TC. No order placed by the Client shall be deemed accepted unless written acknowledgement of order is issued by Elsevier or [Elsevier] Elsevier delivers the Products or issues the invoice to the Client or confirms performance of the Services for the Client. All products are offered on acceptance of standard terms and conditions of sale and delivery. No order is accepted unless satisfied by delivery or performance of the Products or Services and payment of invoice or delivery advice as the case may be. Where products are subject to change, the third party product or software such change may be subject to additional terms.

3. Prices, taxes and currencies
Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing the prices for the Products and Services are: (i) exclusive of any taxes or other Government levies, (ii) exclusive of any taxes or other Government levies unless the Client’s home country law or tax regulations require Elsevier to charge such taxes, duties or other Government levies on the provision of the Products and Services and (iii) exclusive of any taxes or other Government levies unless the Client’s home country law or tax regulations require Elsevier to charge such taxes, duties or other Government levies on the provision of the Products and Services.

4. Payment

(a) Payment shall be made within thirty (30) days of the invoice date in full. Failure to make payment within thirty (30) days of the invoice date shall result in late payment fees being charged to the Client. Late fees shall be charged at a rate of 1% per month on the outstanding amount.

(b) Payment may be made by bank transfer, direct debit, credit card or any other method agreed in writing between the Client and Elsevier.

(c) The Client agrees to pay in full for all Products and Services supplied by Elsevier in accordance with the TC.

(d) The Client acknowledges that any failure to make payment within thirty (30) days of the invoice date may result in legal action being taken against the Client.

(e) The Client acknowledges that any failure to make payment within thirty (30) days of the invoice date may result in the suspension of any further deliveries or services to the Client.

5. Legal and beneficial title
Until payment in full has been made for the Products or Services, legal and beneficial title (whether of a current, specific or general nature) to the Products or Services shall remain with Elsevier.

6. Insurance
The Client shall投保 insurance to cover the Products and Services in transit and during storage. The Client shall provide Elsevier with details of the insurance policy and name of the insurer.

7. Return of Products
All Products and Services returned to Elsevier must be returned in their original condition and packaging. Elsevier reserves the right to charge the Client a restocking fee for returned Products and Services.

8. Cancellations & Returns
Any cancellation of an order shall be made in writing by the Client to Elsevier. Cancellations of orders for custom printed Products or Services will not be accepted. Cancellations of orders for non-custom printed Products or Services will be accepted up to thirty (30) days after the date of issue of the invoice for such Products or Services. Cancellations of orders for non-custom printed Products or Services will be accepted up to thirty (30) days after the date of issue of the invoice for such Products or Services, provided that the Client has paid in full for the Products or Services and is not in breach of any of the terms of the TC. Cancellations of orders for custom printed Products or Services will not be accepted. Cancellations of orders for non-custom printed Products or Services will be accepted up to thirty (30) days after the date of issue of the invoice for such Products or Services, provided that the Client has paid in full for the Products or Services and is not in breach of any of the terms of the TC. Cancellations of orders for custom printed Products or Services will not be accepted. Cancellations of orders for non-custom printed Products or Services will be accepted up to thirty (30) days after the date of issue of the invoice for such Products or Services, provided that the Client has paid in full for the Products or Services and is not in breach of any of the terms of the TC. Cancellations of orders for custom printed Products or Services will not be accepted. Cancellations of orders for non-custom printed Products or Services will be accepted up to thirty (30) days after the date of issue of the invoice for such Products or Services, provided that the Client has paid in full for the Products or Services and is not in breach of any of the terms of the TC.

9. Force majeure
The Client shall not be relieved of any of its obligations under the TC by reason of any inability to perform, whether in whole or in part, due to circumstances beyond its reasonable control, such as war, strike, lockout, riots, civil commotion, acts of God, vandalism, failure of public utilities, Government requisitioning, order, embargo or other cause not caused or contributed to by the Client’s default or negligence. The Client is not entitled to cancel the TC as a result of force majeure.

10. Advertising & Reprints

(a) The Client acknowledges that the liability of Elsevier is to be limited in accordance with these terms and conditions and the Client accepts the risk of any loss or damage which may be suffered by the Client in connection with the TC.

(b) The Client acknowledges that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations.

(c) The Client acknowledges that nothing in the TC shall be construed as creating an obligation to indemnify the other party against the other party’s own liability. In no event shall Elsevier be liable for any indirect or consequential loss or damage.

(d) The Client acknowledges that anything in the TC shall not create a cause of action against Elsevier. THE CLIENT ACKNOWLEDGES THAT NOTHING IN THE TC SHALL BE CONSTRUED AS CREATING ANY OBLIGATION TO INDEMNIFY THE OTHER PARTY AGAINST THE OTHER PARTY’S OWN LIABILITY.

(e) The Client acknowledges that neither Elsevier nor any of its employees or agents, nor any of its licensors, shall be liable for any damages or losses, including but not limited to, direct, indirect, special, exemplary, incidental or consequential damages, or other damage (including any statutory damages, lost profits, business interruption, loss of information, for any breach of this TC or product, or other loss or injury, whether in an action based on contract, tort or any other legal theory, and whether or not the parties knew or should have known of the possibility of such damages), arising out of the provision of the Products or services of Elsevier.

(f) The Client acknowledges that the Client’s liability to Elsevier shall be limited to the amount paid by the Client to Elsevier under the TC.

(g) The Client acknowledges that the Client’s obligations to Elsevier are personal and that the Client shall not assign or otherwise transfer any of its obligations under the TC without Elsevier’s prior written consent.

(h) The Client acknowledges that any breach of any of the terms of the TC by the Client shall result in immediate termination of the Client’s rights to receive Products or Services and in disposition of the Client’s rights under the TC.
