1. Applicability
These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals made by Elsevier to any third party or its agent (the "Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties for the TC. These terms supersede any previous verbal or written representations made between the Client and Elsevier for the provision of Products and/or Services. The Client shall be entitled to rely upon the provisions of this TC in the absence of any representation or undertaking expressed or implied by Elsevier. Any variation to the TC and any additional obligations of the Client shall be confirmed in writing signed by Elsevier and delivered to the Client. The Client is solely responsible for ensuring proposed advertising copy is received at Elsevier in electronic form (or such other form as specified by Elsevier) and within the relevant deadline set by Elsevier (the "Closing Date"). Where copy is received late or not at all, Elsevier will endeavour to do so, provided that Elsevier is reasonably satisfied that the Client has the right to use the advertisement at the time of its publication. Elsevier reserves the right to reject any amendments to a published advertisement by the Client.

2. Offer and acceptance
Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing, all offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent shall be subject to the terms and conditions set out in this TC. The Client acknowledges that the non-acceptance of an offer, proposal or agreement by Elsevier shall not affect Elsevier's rights in respect of the offer, proposal or agreement and shall not be deemed a rejection of the offer, proposal or agreement.

3. Execution and modification of the order
Any modifications to the agreed product or service description, budget or schedule, as set out in the order acknowledgement, may result in an adjustment to the final price and/or delivery schedule at Elsevier's discretion. If, at the request of the Client, Elsevier rendered additional services outside the scope of the order, the Client shall be invoiced for such additional services.

4. Prices, taxes and currency
Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing, the prices for the Products and/or Services shall be as specified in Elsevier's price list or rate card, together with any applicable taxes and duties. Any quotations are subject to acceptance by the Client and may be withdrawn at any time and without giving any reason. Any variation to the prices, taxes and currency shall be set out in a written amendment signed by an authorised signatory of Elsevier.

5. General and modification of the order
The Client shall not sell, assign, license, transfer, disclose or otherwise dispose of the Products and/or Services or any part of them, without the prior written consent of Elsevier. The Client shall comply with all applicable laws, regulations and industry codes and any rights of any third parties including, but not limited to, infringement rights.

6. Distribution
The Client shall not engage, employ, engage or compensate any of its employees or agents to compete with Elsevier in connection with the promotion and distribution of the Products and/or Services. The Client shall not resell the Products and/or Services to any person or entity other than the Client, without the prior written consent of Elsevier. Any such re-sale shall be subject to the terms of this TC.

7. Compliance with laws
The Client further agrees that he/she will not accept any payment or other benefit in money or in kind from any person or entity other than the Client's own employees. The Client's employees shall not be employed or controlled by any third party, or any director, employee or agent of Elsevier shall have any right to receive any payment or other benefit in money or in kind from any person or entity other than his/ her own employees.

8. Liability and claims
The Client acknowledges that Elsevier is not liable for any of the following losses which may arise by reason of any breach of this TC or any implied warranty, condition or other term, any representation or any duty of any kind imposed on Elsevier by operation of law (by any act of default of profit or expected future benefit); (b) damage to reputation or goodwill; (c) any damages, costs or expenses (including but not limited to any damages, costs or expenses caused by third parties) suffered by the Client as a result of the breach of this TC; (d) any breach of contract; (e) any breach of warranty; or (f) any breach of any other obligations or duties of Elsevier to the Client.

9. Force majeure
If by reason of labor dispute, strikes, inability to obtain labor or materials, fire or other action of the elements, war, insurrection, revolution, or appropriation or other causes beyond the control of a party, such party is unable to perform in whole or in part its obligations set forth in this TC, then such party shall be relieved of those obligations to the extent it is thereby excused from performance.

10. Audit
If any audit is carried out by an auditor who is not a member of the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales or of an equivalent body in any other country, the Client shall pay the fees and expenses of such auditor. The Client shall provide Elsevier with full and complete access to all relevant books and records in connection with any such audit, and Elsevier shall have the right, at any time, to remove the Client's access to Elsevier's premises and property in the event of a breach of this TC by the Client.

11. Audit
If at any time during the term of this TC, Elsevier shall have reasonable cause to believe that the Client has failed to comply with the provisions of this TC or has failed to make payments to Elsevier under clause 5.

12. Compliance with laws
Any returns of the products shall be subject to the relevant Elsevier company's return policy. Any returns not complying with such policies will be provided to the Client upon request. Reprints cannot be returned once these have been printed.

13. Cancellations & Returns
Any modifications to the agreed product or service description, budget or schedule, as set out in the order acknowledgement, may result in an adjustment to the final price and/or delivery schedule at Elsevier's discretion. If, at the request of the Client, Elsevier rendered additional services outside the scope of the order, the Client shall be invoiced for such additional services.

14. Prices, taxes and currency
Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing, the prices for the Products and/or Services shall be as specified in Elsevier's price list or rate card, together with any applicable taxes and duties. Any quotations are subject to acceptance by the Client and may be withdrawn at any time and without giving any reason. Any variation to the prices, taxes and currency shall be set out in a written amendment signed by an authorised signatory of Elsevier.

15. General and modification of the order
The Client shall not sell, assign, license, transfer, disclose or otherwise dispose of the Products and/or Services or any part of them, without the prior written consent of Elsevier. The Client shall comply with all applicable laws, regulations and industry codes and any rights of any third parties including, but not limited to, infringement rights.

16. Distribution
The Client shall not engage, employ, engage or compensate any of its employees or agents to compete with Elsevier in connection with the promotion and distribution of the Products and/or Services. The Client shall not resell the Products and/or Services to any person or entity other than the Client, without the prior written consent of Elsevier. Any such re-sale shall be subject to the terms of this TC.

17. Compliance with laws
The Client further agrees that he/she will not accept any payment or other benefit in money or in kind from any person or entity other than the Client's own employees. The Client's employees shall not be employed or controlled by any third party, or any director, employee or agent of Elsevier shall have any right to receive any payment or other benefit in money or in kind from any person or entity other than his/her own employees.

18. Liability and claims
The Client acknowledges that Elsevier is not liable for any of the following losses which may arise by reason of any breach of this TC or any implied warranty, condition or other term, any representation or any duty of any kind imposed on Elsevier by operation of law (by any act of default of profit or expected future benefit); (b) damage to reputation or goodwill; (c) any damages, costs or expenses (including but not limited to any damages, costs or expenses caused by third parties) suffered by the Client as a result of the breach of this TC; (d) any breach of contract; (e) any breach of warranty; or (f) any breach of any other obligations or duties of Elsevier to the Client.

19. Force majeure
If by reason of labor dispute, strikes, inability to obtain labor or materials, fire or other action of the elements, war, insurrection, revolution, or appropriation or other causes beyond the control of a party, such party is unable to perform in whole or in part its obligations set forth in this TC, then such party shall be relieved of those obligations to the extent it is thereby excused from performance.

20. Audit
If any audit is carried out by an auditor who is not a member of the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales or of an equivalent body in any other country, the Client shall pay the fees and expenses of such auditor. The Client shall provide Elsevier with full and complete access to all relevant books and records in connection with any such audit, and Elsevier shall have the right, at any time, to remove the Client's access to Elsevier's premises and property in the event of a breach of this TC by the Client.
