Reproductive Biomedicine Online

Overview

This journal covers the formation, growth and differentiation of the human embryo. It is intended to bring to public attention new research on biological and clinical research on human reproduction and the human embryo including relevant studies on animals. It is published by a group of scientists and clinicians working in these fields of study, and independently of any publishing house. Its audience comprises researchers, clinicians, practitioners, academics and patients.

Web and paper versions of this journal bring up-to-date news on the clinical and scientific aspects of this topic, in two volumes per annum with a minimum of three issues per volume. New information, in the form of research papers and comment are presented in English, rapidly and responsibly, together with publishing-associated activities including articles, reviews, abstracts, editorials, commentaries, letters, opinions, case reports, patient information, conference reports, items relevant to counselling, interviews, ethics and law for patients, and other items. The journal is hyperlinked with websites of two charities covering pregnancy and miscarriage, and IVF and infertility.

Every attempt is made to publish rapidly and responsibly. Abstracts are posted on web soon after receipt, with a strong disclaimer stating that this material has not yet been peer-reviewed. Refereeing time is kept to a minimum, and full texts are presented on web immediately the refereeing and adjudicating process is ended. Fully proofed papers are subsequently published in web and paper versions. Submitted items including editorials, comment, news from wider sources, short communications, matters of legal, ethical and counselling importance will be placed on web as soon as possible after their arrival in the office and at the Editor's discretion. The Editor reserves the right to publish certain papers on web that have been criticised by the referees.

The internet version of papers enables data about reproductive health to be made rapidly available to men and women worldwide. Conference proceedings and reports, as well as book chapters discussing matters relevant to the journal's activities will be published. The journal headquarters are located in Cambridge. Articles can be sent to editors in the UK, Europe, India and the USA. Copyright is held by Reproductive Healthcare Ltd.

1. Applicability

These terms and conditions shall apply to offers, proposals, and agreements made by Elsevier and by any third party or its agent ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgment, shall form the entire agreement between the parties for the "TC". These terms supersede any previous agreement between the parties for the "TC". If the Client makes any request or requires any change in the contents of an order, the Client is required to notify Elsevier in writing. Any variation to the TC and any representations about the Products and Services shall have no effect unless expressly agreed in writing and signed by an authorized signature of Elsevier. Nothing in the TC will exclude or limit Elsevier's Liability for fraud or fraudulent misrepresentation. Where Products are supplied under the TC, the Client shall not assign any third party product or software in such a way that it may be subject to additional terms.

2. Notices and communications/Descriptions/Execution and modification of the order

Any modification of the order, description of the Products, Services or software, data, subject to the order acknowledgment, may result in an adjustment to the final price and/or delivery schedule at Elsevier's discretion. If at the request of the Client, Elsevier reads additional information, this will be for free.

3. General

In connection with the performance of the TC, shall be the name, to the record of, and at the direction of the Client. Any dates specified by Elsevier for delivery of the performance of the Products and Services are intended to be an estimate and the delivery/performance cannot be held for failure of delivery by Elsevier. Where Products are supplied under the TC, the Client shall not assign any third party product or software in such a way that it may be subject to additional terms.

4. Payment

Payment includes any payment due under the TC at any time, and all costs of collection, including legal fees and expenses incurred by Elsevier in connection with enforcing recovery of such amounts. Payment does not include a payment of reasonable and bona fide expenditures, such as travel or lodging expenses, which are otherwise payable under the TC, from the Client. Such payments shall be made at the exclusive discretion of Elsevier. If any such payments, for any reason, are not made in accordance with the provisions of the TC, Elsevier shall have the right to suspend further delivery of the services or the performance of the contract provided that such payments are permissible under the applicable law.

5. Audit

The Client shall allow Publisher’s authorized representative at any reasonable time to have access to Client’s premises (or such premises as specified by Elsevier) and within the relevant timeframe, to inspect Client’s facilities, books and records to verify Client’s compliance with the TC. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due in respect of the sale of the Products, exercising control and safely keeping of all excess returns or unsold material from the sale of the Products, without the prior written permission of Elsevier. The right granted by Elsevier is not assignable or transferable, assigned, subleased or sublicensed within the prior written permission of Elsevier. The right granted by Elsevier is non-exclusive and for the purpose expressly agreed upon. Any other use shall require the prior written permission of Elsevier. The Client shall not acquire any intellectual property rights in the Products. No part of the Elsevier proposals, publications or services may be copied, transferred or reproduced in any manner or form, without the specific prior written permission of Elsevier. Elsevier may not be able to arrange for such copy to be published on the agreed date or for the agreed period. Payment...
