1. Applicability
Terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the "TC"). They supersede any previous supply terms and conditions. For the purposes of the TC Elsevier means the company within the Elsevier group that is providing the Products or Services as set out in the Elsevier order acknowledgement or order acknowledgement.

2. Acceptance and offer
Each order for the Products and Services to be supplied by Elsevier shall be deemed to be accepted by Elsevier and the Client agrees to be bound by the terms and conditions of the TC. No agreement for the sale of the Products or Services shall be created except with written acknowledgement by Elsevier.

3. Price
All prices are quoted Ex Works (Inc. VAT). Products and Services are delivered free of charge to the Client, with the Client responsible for all transportation, insurance and/or storage charges. Prices are subject to change at any time without prior notice.

4. Payment
Unless otherwise agreed by written amendment to the TC, payment shall be due upon or before delivery of the Products or Services. Payment shall be made in full and without deduction or set-off, and in the currency agreed. Payment is due at the earlier of the date of delivery or the invoice date. Elsevier reserves the right to charge interest on overdue balances at the rate of 9% per annum from the due date of the invoice to the date of payment in full, in the currency at the rate of the Client's bank charged on the Client's monthly financial statements for any overdue amounts. Elsevier may also charge a collection fee to Client to cover all collection costs.

5. Delivery
Any delivery dates quoted are approximate only and are not guaranteed. Elsevier reserves the right to make any changes to agreed delivery dates. The Client shall allow Publisher's authorized representative at any reasonable time to have access to Client's premises (or other relevant premises) for the purpose of inspecting Client's facilities, books and records to verify Client's arrangements for the delivery of the Products or Services. The Client agrees to permit Elsevier to use, process, store and use Client Information in connection with any delivery of the Products or Services and shall not be liable to the Client for any failure to do so.

6. Force majeure
If by reason of labor dispute, strikes, inability to obtain labor or materials, fire or other action of the elements, accidents, power or telecommunications failure, custom delayed, governmental restrictions or appropriation or other cause beyond the control of a party, such party is unable to perform in whole or in part its obligations hereunder, the relevant party shall be released from its obligations to the extent it is thereby unable to perform, and in such inability to perform shall not make such party liable to any other party. The subject party's absence from force majeure shall give good faith efforts to promptly resolve any existing problems as soon as is practical with the provisions of the TC and to avoid the effects of such event to the extent possible.

7. Intellectual property
Elsevier shall own all right, title and interest in and to the Products and the Related Materials. Elsevier shall have the right to use the Products and the Related Materials for its internal use and for the purpose of providing the Products or Services to any other person.

8. Liability and claims
Client represents and warrants that (i) Client holds the necessary rights to permit the use of the Advertising Content by Elsevier; (ii) Client's use of the Advertising Content will not violate any copyright, patent, trademark, trade secret, music, image, or other proprietary or property right, false advertising, unfair competition, defamation, invasion of privacy or rights of publicity, violation of any anti-discrimination law or regulation, or any other right of any person or entity; (iii) Advertising Content complies with any applicable laws, rules, industry codes, regulations and generally prevailing custom and practice. Client agrees to indemnify Elsevier and to hold Elsevier harmless from, and against any and all claims, actions, losses, damages, costs, or causes of action, including reasonable legal fees and expenses incurred by Elsevier, arising out of or in relation to the Advertising Content or Elsevier's breach or alleged breach of any of the foregoing representations and warranties. Elsevier reserves the right to make any changes to the Advertising Content or to otherwise modify the TC as necessary to correct any errors or omissions.

9. Force majeure
If by reason of labor dispute, strikes, inability to obtain labor or materials, fire or other action of the elements, accidents, power or telecommunications failure, custom delayed, governmental restrictions or appropriation or other cause beyond the control of a party, such party is unable to perform in whole or in part its obligations hereunder, the relevant party shall be released from its obligations to the extent it is thereby unable to perform, and in such inability to perform shall not make such party liable to any other party. The subject party's absence from force majeure shall give good faith efforts to promptly resolve any existing problems as soon as is practical with the provisions of the TC and to avoid the effects of such event to the extent possible.

10. Advertising & Repro Client is solely responsible for ensuring proposed advertising copy is received by Elsevier in electronic form or on such other form as specified by Elsevier and within the relevant deadline set by Elsevier ("the Closing Date"). When copy is received late or not at all, although Elsevier endeavours to do so, Elsevier shall not be liable to the Client for any loss or expense occasioned by failure to advertise as specified. When copy is received late or not at all, although Elsevier endeavours to do so, Elsevier shall not be liable to the Client for any loss or expense occasioned by failure to advertise as specified. When copy is received late or not at all, although Elsevier endeavours to do so, Elsevier reserves the right to make any changes to agreed delivery dates. The Client shall allow Publisher's authorized representative at any reasonable time to have access to Client's premises (or other relevant premises) for the purpose of inspecting Client's facilities, books and records to verify Client's arrangements for the delivery of the Products or Services. The Client agrees to permit Elsevier to use, process, store and use Client Information in connection with any delivery of the Products or Services and shall not be liable to the Client for any failure to do so.

11. Compliance with law
Client shall at all times during the term strictly comply with all applicable laws, ordinances, rules, regulations, standards and judicial and administrative orders ("Ordinance") applicable to the Products or Services, Client agrees that, under the law of the corporate domicile of the Elsevier company which is providing the Products or Services, the Client is responsible for ensuring that the Client is in compliance with all applicable laws, ordinances, rules, regulations, standards and judicial and administrative orders. Elsevier has the right to refuse to perform any work that is in violation of any applicable law or Ordinance.

12. General
The formation, existence, construction, performance, validity and all aspects of the TC shall be governed by the law of the corporate domicile of the Elsevier company which is providing the Products or Services. The parties agree to submit to the jurisdiction of the courts of the corporate domicile of the Elsevier company which is providing the Products or Services. The Client shall not be entitled to assign the TC to any person or persons without the prior written consent of Elsevier. Elsevier may assign the TC in whole or in part to any person, firm or company. If any provision of the TC is found by any court, tribunal or administrative body of competent jurisdiction to which the parties shall apply for the purpose of interpretation or enforcement to be invalid or unenforceable, the remainder of the provisions of the TC and the remainder of such provision shall continue in full force and effect. Failure or forbearance by Elsevier in enforcing or partially enforcing any provision or rescission of any breach of the TC will not be construed as a waiver of any of its rights under the TC.
