Travel Medicine and Infectious Diseases

Overview

Travel Medicine and Infectious Disease publishes original papers, reviews and consensus papers on all aspects of travel medicine and infectious disease. Focus areas include epidemiology and surveillance of travel-related illness, vaccine-preventable disease, malaria prevention and treatment, travellers’ diarrhoea, migrant health, wilderness and expedition medicine, sports, aviation and maritime medicine, environmental and psychological hazards of travel, global policy/regulations for disease prevention and control and practical clinical issues for travel and tropical medicine practitioners. The journal also covers areas of controversy and debate in travel medicine particularly where this may inform guidelines and policy pertinent to travel medicine and the prevention of infectious disease.

Travel Medicine and Infectious Disease aims to publish cutting edge papers and offers a fast peer-review process with early on-line publication of accepted manuscripts.

6. Distribution

The Client shall not engage in piracy, reproduction, or plagiary of the Products of any other products or Services of Elsevier or its affiliates, nor shall it directly or indirectly facilitate any other party to engage in those activities. The Client shall promptly notify Elsevier if it becomes aware of any piracy, reproduction, or plagiary of the Products by any third party. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due in respect of its sales of the Products, exercising full control and strictly adhering to all of its losses from such unpaid amounts. Default or deficiencies in obtaining such payments may result in Elsevier's obligation to make payments to the Client under clause 14.3.

5. Intellectual property

Copyright and other intellectual property rights to any Elsevier Products, publications and other Products or Services shall remain with Elsevier unless otherwise agreed in writing. The rights granted by Elsevier to be used are solely for the purpose of supplying the Products or Services under the current order. A Client or any other party shall not be entitled to assign, transfer, or sublicense the right to use the Products or Services. The Client shall not further assign, transfer or sublicense the right to use the Products or Services.

3. Execution and modification of the order

Any modifications to the agreed product or service description, budget, or schedule shall be in writing in the case of any order. Amendments, modifications, or extensions to any order shall be in writing and signed by an authorized signatory of Elsevier. Nothing in the TC will exclude or limit Elsevier's liability for fraudulent misrepresentation. Where Products are sold to the Client that contain third-party products or software such a sale may be subject to additional license terms.

2. Offer and acceptance/ Description

Each order placed by the Client shall be deemed to be an offer by the Client to purchase the Products and Services subject to the TC. No order placed by the Client shall be deemed accepted until a written acknowledgement of order is issued by Elsevier or (if earlier) Elsevier delivers the Products or issues the invoice to the Client or commences performance of the Services for any of the Products. All orders are subject to acceptance by the orderer of the Products. Unless otherwise expressly agreed in writing, the Client shall be responsible for the payment of all such additional costs and for the payment of all such additional amounts. Any such payments shall be made in accordance with these terms of purchase.

2. Offer and acceptance/ Description

The Client and Elsevier acknowledge that the TC is intended to be a binding agreement in respect of all future transactions between the Client and Elsevier. The Client and Elsevier agree that the TC, together with any relevant orders, confirmations, invoices, and other agreements, are the complete and exclusive statement of the agreement between the Client and Elsevier.
