1. Applicability
The provisions of this Term of Contract (the “TC”) shall apply exclusively to any order placed by the Client. The Client shall acquire none of the products or Services unless and until such order is accepted by Elsevier. Elsevier reserves the right to withdraw any order at any time prior to acceptance by Elsevier. Orders for products or Services shall be deemed accepted when Elsevier has issued an invoice. In the event that the Client cancels an order either fully or partially, a cancellation fee may be charged. All cancellations must be notified to Elsevier in writing and signed by an authorized signatory of Elsevier. Nothing in the TC will exclude or limit Elsevier’s liability for fraudulent misrepresentation. Where Products are sold to the Client that contain third party software or other such media such media may be subject to additional license terms.

2. Offer and acceptance/ Description
Each order for products or Services from Elsevier shall be deemed to be an offer by the Client to purchase the Products and Services subject to the TC. No order placed by the Client shall be deemed accepted until a written confirmation of order is issued by Elsevier or (if earlier) Elsevier delivers the Products or issues the invoice to the Client or commences performance of the Services for the Client. All Products are subject to availability to accept the order. Unless otherwise expressly agreed in writing by Elsevier, the Client shall be responsible for compliance with any Product or Service purchased from Elsevier for his own account and use and not on behalf of any other person or entity. If the Client is a government or governmental body, the Client represents and warrants that it is purchasing the Products or Services from Elsevier for the account and use of no more than one identified institutional subscriber as principal or, if the Client is an entity registered for value added tax or VAT purposes, for the account and use of no more than one identified eligible individual subscriber for value added tax purposes.

3. Price, taxes and currencies
Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing in the price proposals for the Products and Services shall be set out in Elsevier’s current price list(s) (whether print or online). All such price lists shall be exclusive of any handling, packaging, loading, freight, transport and insurance charges unless otherwise agreed in writing, and shall also be exclusive of any taxes, import duties or other taxes imposed on the sale or import of the Products or Services by local or national authorities, which shall be charged by Elsevier as applicable. If the Client provides to Elsevier a VAT registration number or other evidence of tax exemption to Elsevier at the time of placing its order, if, under the laws of the territory in which Client is selling the Products, the Client is required to withhold any tax on the purchase price of the Products or Services, Then Elsevier shall not be liable for such taxes.

4. Prices, taxes and currencies
Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing in the price proposals for the Products and Services shall be set out in Elsevier’s current price list(s) (whether print or online). All such price lists shall be exclusive of any handling, packaging, loading, freight, transport and insurance charges unless otherwise agreed in writing, and shall also be exclusive of any taxes, import duties or other taxes imposed on the sale or import of the Products or Services by local or national authorities, which shall be charged by Elsevier as applicable. If the Client provides to Elsevier a VAT registration number or other evidence of tax exemption to Elsevier at the time of placing its order, if, under the laws of the territory in which Client is selling the Products, the Client is required to withhold any tax on the purchase price of the Products or Services, Then Elsevier shall not be liable for such taxes.

5. Payment
Unless otherwise agreed in writing, payments shall be effected within thirty (30) days of the invoice date in the currency of the applicable elsevier’s invoice. The Client shall be responsible for any and all charges, duties, taxes, or fees levied by any government authority, or introduced to or charged by the Client for any reason, including any mandatory withholding taxes.

6. Distribution
The Client shall not engage in piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products or any other products or Services of Elsevier’s or its affiliates or shall not directly or indirectly facilitate any other party to engage in those activities. The Client shall promptly notify Elsevier if it becomes aware of any piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products by any third party. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due in respect of its sales of the Products, exercising full control and shall bear all of its losses from any uncollected amounts. Delays or failures in obtaining such payments will not affect Elsevier’s obligation to make payments to Elsevier under clause 12.7.9.

7. Intellectual property
Copyright and other intellectual property rights to all Products, promotions and other Services or Services shall remain with Elsevier unless otherwise agreed in writing. The rights granted by Elsevier are restricted to use solely by the Client and may not be assigned, transferred or sublicensed without the prior written permission of Elsevier. Elsevier will not be liable for the timely appearance or delivery of any advertising material, including alternative Advertising Content introduced by Elsevier, unless agreed upon. Any other use shall require the prior written permission of Elsevier. The Client shall not acquire any intellectual property rights in the Products. The Client’s use of the Products, promotions or other Services shall be subject to the turn around time of Elsevier and will be subject to the limitations of any agreements with third parties.

8. Liability and claims
The Client shall not be liable for any of the following losses which may arise by reason of breach of this TC or any implied warranty, condition or other term, any representation or any warranty of any kind imposed on Elsevier by operation of law: (a) any loss of anticipated profits or expected future business; (b) any damage to reputation or goodwill; (c) any damages, costs or expenses payable to Elsevier by any third party; (d) loss of any order or contract; or (e) loss that was not foreseen at the time of订立 the Client and Elsevier, including foreseeable losses. The Client is entitled to be paid at the time and in the place agreed by Elsevier. The Client will not be liable for any harm caused to the Client or any other party whether by the Client’s breach of the TC or by any default, act or omission of Elsevier.

9. Force majeure
If a force majeure event occurs, then the party affected by such event shall not be liable for any failure or delay in the performance of its obligations set forth in this TC, such party shall be relieved of such obligations and such inability to perform shall not make such party liable to any other party. The party subject to an event of force majeure shall use good faith efforts to continue performance to the extent possible with the assistance of the party and to avoid the effects of such event to the extent possible.

10. Advertising & promotion
Client is solely responsible for ensuring proposed advertising copy is received at Elsevier in electronic form (other than in any form specified by Elsevier) and within the relevant deadline set by Elsevier (the “Closing Date”). Where a Client is not responsible for the production of the advertising copy, it shall be the Client’s responsibility to ensure that the copy is received in a form acceptable to Elsevier, together with any relevant instructions. In any event, Regardless of whether the Client is responsible for the production of the advertising copy or not, Elsevier shall not be responsible for any errors or omissions in the advertising copy, unless such errors or omissions were caused by Elsevier.

11. Audit
Elsevier reserves the right to verify Client’s compliance with the TC. Elsevier may require information from the Client to verify compliance with the TC and may also request that the Client provides details of the client’s dealings with any employee or official of a government agency or any other government owned, operated or managed universities, hospitals and libraries, or political parties or candidates (jointly “Government Official”). Neither Elsevier nor any other party shall be responsible for any harm caused to the Client or any other party whether by the Client’s breach of the TC or by any default, act or omission of Elsevier, unless agreed upon. Any other use shall require the prior written permission of Elsevier. The Client shall not acquire any intellectual property rights in the Products. The Client’s use of the Products, promotions or other Services shall be subject to the turn around time of Elsevier and will be subject to the limitations of any agreements with third parties.

12. Compliance with laws
 Verification, where it is acting as a consumer. The parties agree that the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods (CISG) shall apply to the Client’s purchase of the products and Services and shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the “Contract”). The Contract shall be governed by the laws of the country of residence or incorporation of Elsevier and all disputes between the parties regarding the Contract shall be subject to the jurisdiction and courts of such country. The Client acknowledges that Elsevier is not registered for value added tax purposes and that it is not liable for any value added tax that may arise on the provision of the Products or Services. The Client shall be responsible for any and all taxes, duties, or fees levied by any government authority or introduced to or charged by the Client for any reason, including any mandatory withholding tax.

13. Responsibility
In the event that the Client is unable to perform in whole or in part its obligations set forth in this TC, then such party shall be relieved of such obligations and such inability to perform shall not make such party liable to any other party. The party subject to an event of force majeure shall use good faith efforts to continue performance to the extent possible with the assistance of the party and to avoid the effects of such event to the extent possible.

14. General
The formation, existence, construction, performance, validity and all aspects of the TC shall be governed by the law of the corporate domicile of the company which is providing the Products or Services. The parties agree to submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of such corporate domicile. The Client acknowledges that Elsevier is not registered for value added tax purposes and that it is not liable for any value added tax that may arise on the provision of the Products or Services. The Client shall be responsible for any and all taxes, duties, or fees levied by any government authority or introduced to or charged by the Client for any reason, including any mandatory withholding tax.

15. Cancellation & Return
If the Client cancels an order either fully or partially, a cancellation fee may be charged. All cancellations must be made in writing. This fee will be calculated to cover any external or internal costs which have been incurred or committed up to and including the date of cancellation and shall be subject to any cancellation terms agreed in writing between the parties. Orders for advertising or advertising copy must be cancelled in writing prior to the relevant ad space closing date, but in the event that no such cancellation is made after such date, the Client shall be entitled to charge the full cost of the advertisement. Reprints of the products of the Client will be subject to the relevant Elsevier company’s return policy applicable to the product at the time of return. Details of such policies will be provided to the Client by Elsevier. The Client is responsible for any and all costs incurred by Elsevier in the event of any cancellation.
