2. Offer and acceptance/ Acceptance Each order or request for a Product or Service from Elsevier shall be deemed to be an offer by the Client to purchase the Products and Services subject to the TC. No order placed by the Client shall be deemed accepted until a written acknowledgement of order is issued by Elsevier or (if earlier) Elsevier delivers the Products or issues the invoice to the Client or commences performance of the Services for the Client. All such orders are subject to acceptance by Elsevier. Unless otherwise expressly agreed in writing by Elsevier, the Client acknowledges that it is purchasing Products or Services from Elsevier for its own account and use and not on behalf of any other person or entity. If an agent is an entity, it represents and warrants that it is purchasing the Products or Services for Elsevier from Elsevier for the account and use of no more than one identified institutional subscriber or principal, if the agent is permitted to order personal subscriptions in a representative capacity, for the account and use of no more than one identified eligible individual subscriber for personal use. Client acknowledges that violation of this representation and warranty will cause irreparable harm to Elsevier. Upon any violation of this representation and warranty, Elsevier shall be entitled to immediate injunctive relief requiring Client to discontinue all recipients of the Products and Services from Elsevier, including all actual recipients that have not previously properly identified by Client. Elsevier shall use commercially reasonable efforts to comply with descriptions of the Products and Services agreed by both the parties in the order, including such things as formatting, printing processes, technical design, size and kind of address files, weights and the like. All drawings, descriptive material, specifications and advertising caused by Elsevier or any descriptions or illustrations contained in Elsevier’s catalogues or brochures are issued as published for the sole purpose of giving an approximate description of the Products and Services described in them. They will not form part of the TC. Publishing errors, including, but not limited to, typographical errors, having no significant effect on the editorial content or design characteristics of the Products and Services, cannot be considered a reason for returning the Products, as the case may be, unless the error is a material one.

3. Price, taxes and currencies Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing in the proposition for the Products and Services and Schedules to be delivered in Elsevier’s current price list (whether print or online). All such prices shall be exclusive of any handling, packing, loading, freight, insurance, transport and insurance charges unless otherwise agreed in writing, and shall also be exclusive of any taxes, import duties or other levies imposed on the sale or import of the Products or Services by local or national authorities, which shall be charged by Elsevier as applicable. Where applicable, Client shall provide to Elsevier Client’s VAT registration number or other evidence of tax exemption to Elsevier at the time of placing an order. If, under the laws of the territory in which Client is selling the Products, the Client is required to withhold any tax on the payment due to Elsevier under the TC, the Client shall deduct such tax and pay it to the appropriate taxing authority. The amount actually netted to Elsevier under the TC shall be reduced by an amount equal to such withholding tax. The Client agrees to refund to Elsevier any amounts withheld from the payment due to Elsevier with any interest accrued thereon.

4. Prices, taxes and currencies The Client shall not be entitled to assign the TC or any part of it without the prior written consent of Elsevier. The Client shall not be entitled to assign the TC or any part of it to any person, firm or company. If any provision of the TC is found by any court, tribunal or government agency; (3) are the subject of a claim asserted by an entity that owns or licenses, mark or other proprietary rights or (4) are otherwise objectionable to Elsevier. In such event, Elsevier may either (i) substitute substitute other Products or Services for the Products or Services originally ordered; (ii) require the Client to pay additional charges for any such Products or Services or (iii) cancel the TC and demand the return of all Products and Services delivered and paid for under the TC at the Client’s cost.

5. Payment Unless otherwise agreed in writing, payments shall be effected within thirty (30) days of the invoice date in the currency in which the invoice is issued. The time for payment of the deficit shall be deemed the date of cancellation. No new external costs will be incurred or committed/contracted from the date of receipt of written notice of cancellation by Elsevier. Orders for advertisements must be cancelled in writing prior to the relevant ad space closing date, but in the event that any cancellations are made after such date, Elsevier shall be entitled to charge the full cost of the advertisement. Any returns of the products shall be subject to the relevant Elsevier company’s return policy applicable to the product at the time of the return. Details of such policies will be provided to the Client at the time of ordering. Any amounts invoiced or otherwise due and not paid to Elsevier by the Client within thirty (30) days of the invoice date shall bear interest from that date at the rate of, per annum, until paid in full in accordance with the laws of the country where the Products or Services were supplied.

6. Delivery The Client shall not engage in piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products or any other products or services of Elsevier or its affiliates, nor shall it directly or indirectly facilitate any other party to engage in those activities. The Client shall promptly notify Elsevier if it becomes aware of any piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Services by any third party. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due in respect of its sales of the Products, exercising full control and strategy and ensuring all of its losses from any uncollected amounts. Delays or failures in obtaining such payments shall not affect the Client’s obligation to make payments to Elsevier under clause 5.

7. Intellectual property Copyright and other intellectual property rights in Elsevier proposals, publications or Products or Services and Schedules and any advertising or promotional materials are the property of Elsevier. The Client shall acknowledge that Elsevier is the owner of all such intellectual property rights and any modifications or updates to any such proprietary rights, and agrees that the Client shall have no right to copy, replicate, reproduce, distribute, display, translate, transmit, disassemble, decompile, reverse engineer, modify, adapt, or create derivative works based on any such intellectual property rights. The Client further agrees that it will not permit any intellectual property rights in the Products to be used, reproduced, or modified by any third party without the prior written consent of Elsevier. Subject to the terms and conditions of this TC, the Client shall not permit any modifications to the Products or Services or their packaging to be made by any third party and shall not permit any modifications to the Products or Services or their packaging to be made by any third party.

8. Liability and claims To THE MAXIMUM EXTENT PERMITTED BY LAW, (a) Elsevier’s liability shall be limited to the amount paid by the Client for the Products or Services; (b) Elsevier shall not be liable for any of the following which may arise by reason of any breach of this TC or any implied warranty, condition or other term, any representation or any warranty of any kind of any kind imposed on Elsevier by operation of law; (c) loss of anticipated profits or expected future business; (d) damage to reputation or goodwill; (e) any damages, costs or expenses payable to Elsevier by any third party; (f) loss of any order or contract; or (g) loss that was not foreseeable by the Client and Elsevier at the date Elsevier entered into this TC, entered into or which could not have been avoided by the exercise of reasonable care. In all cases Elsevier’s liability will be limited to; Elsevier’s liability shall be limited to the amount paid by the Client for the Products or Services; (b) to the extent of the loss, damage, cost or expense which was directly caused by Elsevier’s negligence or willful default or to any person, firm or company. If any provision of the TC is found by any court, tribunal or governmental body of competent jurisdiction to be wholly or partly illegal, invalid, void, voidable, unenforceable or unreasonably be deemed severable and the remaining provisions of the TC will continue in full force and effect. Elsevier shall be entitled to use all reasonable efforts to comply with the descriptions of the Products and Services agreed by both the parties in the order, including such things as formatting, printing processes, technical design, size and kind of address files, weights and the like. All drawings, descriptive material, specifications and advertising caused by Elsevier or any descriptions or illustrations contained in Elsevier’s catalogues or brochures are issued as published for the sole purpose of giving an approximate description of the Products and Services described in them. They will not form part of the TC. Publishing errors, including, but not limited to, typographical errors, having no significant effect on the editorial content or design characteristics of the Products and Services, cannot be considered a reason for returning the Products, as the case may be, unless the error is a material one.

9. Cancellations & Returns The Client will not be entitled to cancel any order or request for a Product or Service subject to the TC on any grounds, and in particular the Client will not be entitled to cancel any order or request for a Product or Service subject to the TC on the grounds of the Client’s failure to make payment, dissatisfaction with the order or the performance of the order or the quality of the Products or Services or for any other reason. Orders for advertisements must be cancelled in writing prior to the relevant ad space closing date, but in the event that any cancellations are made after such date, Elsevier shall be entitled to charge the full cost of the advertisement. Any returns of the products shall be subject to the relevant Elsevier company’s return policy applicable to the product at the time of the return. Details of such policies will be provided to the Client at the time of ordering. Any amounts invoiced or otherwise due and not paid to Elsevier by the Client within thirty (30) days of the invoice date shall bear interest from that date at the rate of, per annum, until paid in full in accordance with the laws of the country where the Products or Services were supplied.
