2. Offer and acceptance/ Description

Each order for the Products or Services shall be deemed to be an offer by the Client to Elsevier to purchase the Products or Services subject to the TC. No order placed by the Client shall be deemed accepted until a written acknowledgement of order is issued by Elsevier or (if earlier) Elsevier delivers the Products or issues the invoice to the Client or commences performance of the Services for the Client.

3. Applicability

The TC are intended to be in addition to any other terms and conditions of supply which Elsevier may have agreed with the Client. The TC are also intended to be in addition to any previous specific agreement or quotation and, if any, to be subject to such terms, the Client's order and the TC. The TC and the Client's order shall be governed by the laws of the country where Elsevier is based.

4. Payment

Payment is non-refundable unless agreed otherwise in writing, and shall be due within thirty (30) days of the date of invoice. Payment for any service or service shall be made to Elsevier in the currency stated on the invoice.

5. Client's rights

The Client retains the right to make all such alterations to the Products or Services as are necessary or reasonable in the preparation of the Products or Services. The Client shall deliver all materials and other things necessary for the preparation of the Products or Services and shall comply with all rules and regulations and instructions specified by Elsevier.

6. Client's obligations

The Client shall ensure that all materials and other things necessary for the preparation of the Products or Services are delivered to Elsevier in time and in a satisfactory condition and that the Client has all necessary approvals from any third party for the use, reproduction, distribution or transmission of the Advertising Content.

7. Indemnification

The Client agrees to indemnify Elsevier and hold Elsevier harmless from and against any and all claims, suits, proceedings, expenses and liabilities, including court costs and reasonable legal fees and expenses, whether arising from the printed matter or from the performance of the Services.

8. Limitations on liability

Elsevier's liability for any loss or damage, whether in contract, tort (including negligence), or otherwise, shall be limited to the invoice value of the part of the TC to which the liability arises. To the maximum extent permitted by relevant laws Elsevier expressly excludes any liability for breach of any implied or express warranty of merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose. Nothing in this contract shall limit the Client's existing legal or statutory rights.

9. Termination

Either party may terminate the TC at any time by giving to the other party a written notice of cancellation. All payments and other sums due in respect of the Products and Services shall be due and payable in full on the date of cancellation. The TC shall not be affected by any such termination and the Client shall pay all sums due in respect of the Products and Services up to the date of cancellation. The Client shall pay for all Work done prior to the date of termination and shall indemnify Elsevier against all claims, losses, damages, costs and expenses incurred by Elsevier as a result of such termination.

10. Advertising & Reprints

If there is any breach of any of the Client's obligations Elsevier may cancel the order for the Products and Services without affecting its other rights.

11. Audit

Audit

The Client agrees to verify Elsevier's compliance with the TC. The Client shall, at the request of Elsevier, provide Elsevier with all such information, including invoices and records of receipts, as Elsevier may reasonably require to verify Elsevier's compliance with the TC.

12. Jurisdiction

The formation, existence, construction, performance, validity and all aspects of the TC shall be governed by the law of the corporate domicile of the Elsevier company which is providing the Products or Services. The parties agree to submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the relevant court in that country for the resolution of any dispute arising from the TC or the performance of the Services.

13. Governing law

The TC are subject to the laws of the country where Elsevier is based. The Client agrees to comply with all laws and regulations of the country where Elsevier is based and to obtain any necessary approvals or licenses required by such laws and regulations for the performance of the Services.

14. Disclaimers

Elsevier shall not be liable for any breach of any of its obligations under the TC, except in so far as such breach is attributable to the negligence of Elsevier or its employees. Elsevier shall not be liable for any loss or damage caused by circumstances beyond its control, including acts of God, war, riots, strikes, terrorist attacks, embargoes or other events beyond its control.

15. Force majeure

Force majeure shall be assigned, transferred or sublicensed without the prior written permission of Elsevier. The rights granted by Elsevier are restricted to use solely by the Client and may not be assigned, transferred or sublicensed without the prior written permission of Elsevier. The Client is solely responsible for ensuring proposed advertising copy is received at Elsevier in electronic form (or such other form as specified by Elsevier) and within the relevant deadline set by Elsevier (the "Closing Date"). Where copy is received late or not at all, Elsevier shall be under no obligation to include the copy in the relevant edition or in any other publication and shall not be liable for any failure to do so.

16. Advertisements

Advertisements may include, but are not limited to, text, graphics, images, audio or video content. Elsevier reserves the right to reject any advertising and/or advertisements that are not consistent with Elsevier's policies or standards and may at any time, at its sole discretion, refuse to accept any advertising or any part thereof.

17. Copyright

Copyright and other intellectual property rights to all Elsevier proposals, publications and other Products and/or Services remain with Elsevier unless agreed otherwise in writing. The Client shall not assign, transfer or sublicense any advertising content to any third party without the prior written permission of Elsevier.

18. Indemnification

The Client agrees to indemnify Elsevier and hold Elsevier harmless from and against all claims, losses, damages, costs and expenses incurred by Elsevier as a result of any breach of any of its obligations under the TC, including but not limited to, any infringement or misappropriation of any copyright, patent, trademark, trade secret, music, image, or other proprietary or property right, false advertising, unfair competition, defamation, invasion of privacy or rights of celebrity, violation of any anti-discrimination law or regulation, or any right of any person or entity; (ii) Any Advertising Content contains with any applicable laws, rules, industry standards and regulations; (iii) the Client agrees to indemnify Elsevier against any breach of any of the above;

19. Client's privacy

The Client shall maintain all necessary approvals from any third party for the use, reproduction, distribution or transmission of the Advertising Content. The Client shall ensure that all advertising content is received in electronic form (or such other form as specified by Elsevier) and within the relevant deadline set by Elsevier (the "Closing Date"). Where copy is received late or not at all, Elsevier shall be under no obligation to include the copy in the relevant edition or in any other publication and shall not be liable for any failure to do so.

20. Auditor

The Client or its designated auditor shall, if requested by Elsevier, verify Elsevier's compliance with the TC. Elsevier reserves the right to request the Client for any other advertising and/or advertisements that are not consistent with Elsevier's policies or standards and may at any time, at its sole discretion, refuse to accept any advertising or any part thereof.
