2. Applicability These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent (“the Client”) relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the “TC”). The TC supersede any previous supply terms and conditions. For the purposes of the TC, Elsevier shall mean the company within the Elsevier group that is providing the Products or Services as set out in the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement (the “Elsevier Company”). In the event of any conflict between the TC and any other agreement or term of trade, the provisions of this TC shall take precedence to the extent of such conflict.

3. Offer and acceptance/ Description Each offer by Elsevier to the Client shall be deemed to be an offer by the Client to purchase the Products and Services subject to the TC. No order placed by the Client shall be deemed accepted until a written acknowledgement of order is issued by Elsevier or (if earlier) Elsevier delivers the Products or Issues the invoice to the Client or commences performance of the Services. For all Client orders, the Client is accepted subject to valid orders from Elsevier. Unless otherwise expressly agreed by Elsevier in writing, failure to procure the Products is not a representation of their unavailability or Elsevier’s inability to procure such products or Services, from Elsevier for the account and use of no more than one identified institutional subscriber or, if applicable, without prior written consent of the relevant subscriber (in such capacity), for the account and use of no more than one identified individual subscriber (specifically for personal use). Elsevier acknowledges that violation of this representation and warranty will cause impairable harm to Elsevier. Upon the violation of this representation and warranty, Elsevier shall be entitled to immediate injunctive relief requiring Client to discontinue all receipts of the Products and Services from Elsevier, including all actual and latent products that have not previously been properly identified by Client. Elsevier shall use commercially reasonable efforts to comply with all representations and warranties set forth by the Client in the relevant order, including such things as format, printing processes, technical design, size and kind of address file, weights and the like. All drawings, descriptive matter, specifications and advertising issued by Elsevier or any descriptions or illustrations contained in Elsevier’s catalogues or brochures are issued and published for the sole purpose of giving an approximate description of the Products and Services described therein. They will not form part of the TC. Publishing errors, including, but not limited to, typographical errors, having no significant effect on the editorial content or design characteristics of the Products and Services, cannot be considered a reason for rejection or return, as the case may be, of the said products.

4. Notice of modification and the order Each modifications to the agreed product or service description, budget, schedule, or set out in the order, an acknowledgment, may result in an adjustment to the final price and/or delivery schedule at Elsevier’s discretion. If, at the request of, Elsevier renders additional Services in connection with the performance of the TC, Elsevier shall not act in the name of, or on behalf of, and will not be considered to be acting on behalf of, the Client.

5. Price, terms and currency Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing the prices for the Products and Services shall be set out in Elsevier’s then current price list (whether print or online). All such prices shall be exclusive of any handling, packing, loading, freight, insurance, insurance and transport charges and insurance unless otherwise stated and, shall be exclusive of any taxes, import duties or other taxes imposed on the sale or import of the Products or Services by local or national authorities, which shall be charged by Elsevier as applicable. Where applicable, Client shall provide to Elsevier Client’s VAT registration number or other evidence of tax exemption to Elsevier at the time of placing its order. If, under the laws of the territory in which Client is selling the Products, the Client is required to withhold any tax on the payment due to Elsevier under the TC, then the Client shall so notify Elsevier and shall deduct the amount actually withheld to Elsevier from the remittance to Elsevier and shall be responsible for the payment of such withheld amount to the government or taxing authority. All amounts actually remitted to Elsevier shall be payable to Elsevier at the rate of exchange ruling at the time of remittance.

6. Payment Unless otherwise agreed in writing, payments shall be effected within thirty (30) days of the invoice date in the currency stated. In time for payment shall be the essence. Elsevier may at any time and for any valid reason, require that any such payment be made in full or in part separately or jointly. Where payment is not made by the Client for any reason, including the Client’s failure to observe any of the terms of the TC, Elsevier reserves the right to suspend or discontinue performance of the Services. In the event that the Client is subject to any government authority or court order to stop the remittance, this will be deemed to be full and final settlement of all amounts due and payable under this TC, and the Client shall pay Elsevier for all amounts due prior to the date of suspension or discontinuation. Failure or delay by Elsevier in exercising a right under this clause shall not be construed as a waiver of any of its rights under the TC.

7. Intellectual property

1. Applicability of the TC and the remainder of such provision shall continue in full force and effect. Failure or delay by Elsevier in ... any provision (or prosecuting any breach) of the TC will not be construed as a waiver of any of its rights under the TC. 8. Liability and claims

2. Use of the Products: Client is solely responsible for ensuring proposed advertising copy is received at Elsevier in electronic form (or such other form as specified by Elsevier) and within the relevant deadline set by Elsevier (the “Closing Date”). Where copy is received late or not at all, the Client shall have no right to cancel the order for that advertisement, or to receive any refund in respect of the cost of the advertisement, or to receive any refund in respect of the cost of the advertisement, and shall remain liable to Elsevier for the full cost of the advertisement. If the Client cancels an order either fully or partially, a cancellation fee may be charged. All cancellations must be made in writing by the Client, which shall be binding on Elsevier. Where cancellations are made after such cut-off date, Elsevier shall be entitled to charge the full cost of the advertisement. Returns of the products within the relevant order, including such things as format, printing processes, technical design, size and kind of address file, weights and the like. All drawings, descriptive matter, specifications and advertising issued by Elsevier or any descriptions or illustrations contained in Elsevier’s catalogues or brochures are issued and published for the sole purpose of giving an approximate description of the Products and Services described therein. They will not form part of the TC. Publishing errors, including, but not limited to, typographical errors, having no significant effect on the editorial content or design characteristics of the Products and Services, cannot be considered a reason for rejection or return, as the case may be, of the said products.
