World Neurosurgery

Overview

Aims and Scope: To create a principal international information conduit for establishing modernity of neurosurgical practice for the global community through contemporary and innovative journalistic communication technologies and channels. To serve as a forum for scientific, clinical, educational, social, cultural, economic, and political ideas and issues for global neurosurgery. To act as a primary intellectual catalyst for the field. To enhance and move toward complete global communication related to all aspects of current and future neurosurgical practice, research, and progress.

Contact your sales representative for all digital advertising rates and opportunities.
1. Applicability

These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent (the “Client”) relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier (“the Products and/or Services”) and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the “TC”). No variation to these supply terms and conditions shall be effective unless specifically agreed in writing by an authorized signatory of Elsevier. Nothing in the TC will exclude or limit Elsevier’s liability for fraudulent misrepresentation. Where Products are sold to the Client that contain third party software or a service such a sale may be subject to additional licence terms.

2. Offer and acceptance/ Description

Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing, the formation of a legal offer by Elsevier will be deemed to be an offer by the Client to purchase the Products and Services subject to the TC. No order placed by the Client shall be deemed accepted until a written acknowledgement of order is issued by Elsevier (or its agent) Elsevier delivers the Products or issues the invoice to the Client or commences performance of the Services for all Client orders. All Client orders are accepted subject to availability of the ordered Products. Unless otherwise expressly agreed by Elsevier in writing, Client represents and warrants that it is purchasing Products or Services from Elsevier for its own account and use and not on behalf of any other person or entity. If Client is an agent, it represents and warrants that it is purchasing the Products and Services for Elsevier from the account and use of no more than one identified institutional subscriber as principal or, if the agent is permitted to order personal subscriptions in a representative capacity, for the account and use of no more than one identified eligible individual subscriber for personal use. Client acknowledges that violation of this representation and warranty will cause irreparable harm to Elsevier. Upon violation of this representation and warranty, Elsevier shall be entitled to immediate injunctive relief requiring Client to discontinue all receipts of the Products and Services from Elsevier, including all actual products that have not been previously properly identified by Client. Elsevier shall use commercially reasonable efforts to comply with the provisions of the TC and agree by both parties, including such things as format, printing processes, technical design and size and kind of address file, weights and the like. All drawings, descriptive matter, specifications and advertising issued by Elsevier or any descriptions or illustrations contained in Elsevier’s catalogues or brochures are issued or published for the sole purpose of giving an approximate description of the Products and Services described in them. They will not form part of the TC. Publishing errors, including, but not limited to, typographical errors, having no significant effect on the editorial content or design character of the Products and Services, cannot be considered a reason for renegotiation of the TC, as the case may be, merely on the ground of such errors.

3. Payment

Unless otherwise agreed in writing, payments shall be effected within thirty (30) days of the invoice date in the currency specified in the invoice. Time for payment shall be of the essence. Elsevier may and will charge any late payment interest on any overdue amounts. Late payment interest shall accrue from the due date of the invoice to the date of payment in full, interest at the rate of 2% per month in any currency in which any sums are or which become due from Elsevier to the Client. The Client may require Elsevier to refund any payments made before the Client has received the Products or Services. The Client shall pay for the Products or Services at the increased or full rates, as the case may be, unless the Client has a valid and written order requiring an equal amount to be deducted from the invoice price. Elsevier may refuse to supply any Client who has exceeded its credit limit. Legal and beneficial title in any tangible Products supplied by Elsevier to the Client shall remain with Elsevier until Elsevier has received in full (net or cleared funds) all sums due to it in respect of the Products and all other sums which are or which become due from Elsever to the Client on account of any Products or Services. Elsevier shall be entitled to retain title to such Products until all sums due to it have been paid in full.

4. Privacy, terms and conditions

Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing, the Client shall not under any circumstances sell or lease or assign the Client’s personal data to third parties without the Client’s written consent. The Client agrees that any personal data relating to the Client that is collected, used or processed by Elsevier in the context of the TC is owned by Elsevier and is subject to the applicable terms of the TC. Elsevier shall maintain and process the personal data it collects in accordance with applicable laws, regulations and industry codes and standards. The Client agrees that Elsevier may exchange personal data with third parties with whom Elsevier has entered into an agreement. The Client agrees that Elsevier may use personal data to improve the accuracy and reliability of its order fulfillment processes and to improve the effectiveness of its marketing and communication activities. Elsevier may disclose personal data to its agents or third parties who are engaged by Elsevier for the purposes of the TC. Unless otherwise agreed in writing, personal data remains the property of the Client. Elsevier does not accept any liability for the Client’s personal data and the Client shall be responsible for maintaining the accuracy of all personal data.

5. Intellectual property

Copyright and all other intellectual property rights relating to the Products, publications or other works of Elsevier and/or Client are reserved unless otherwise stated in writing. The Client shall not reproduce, distribute, translate or reproduce in any other manner any part of the Products or Services, including any advertising supplied by the Client, without the prior written permission of Elsevier. The Client shall comply with all applicable laws, regulations and industry codes and standards in connection with the use, processing or transfer of electronic or other personal data.

6. Distribution

The Client shall not engage in piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products or any other products of Elsevier or its affiliates, nor shall it directly or indirectly facilitate any other party to engage in such activities. The Client shall promptly notify Elsevier if it becomes aware of any piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products or Services by any third party. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due in respect of its sales of the Products, exercising full control over and retaining all such monies and shall attend to any defaults by the Client’s customers.

7. Compliance with laws

The Client shall at all times during the term strictly comply with all applicable laws, codes, regulations, standards and judicial or administrative orders (jointly “Applicable Laws” or “Laws”) relevant to its duties, obligations and performance under this TC. Any breach of this TC by the Client will be deemed a material breach and in such an event Elsevier shall have the right to terminate this TC with immediate effect. The Client shall indemnify Elsevier against all losses, costs, damages and expenses incurred by Elsevier as a result of any such breach.

8. Liability and claims

To the Maximum extent permitted by the terms of this TC and the relevant Applicable Laws, nothing in this TC shall limit the Client’s existing legal or statutory rights or those of any person or corporation to whom the Client is responsible. Nothing in this TC shall limit Elsevier’s liability for death or personal injury caused by negligence. Elsevier’s liability for any other loss (whether direct or indirect) or damage attributable to it shall in any event be limited to the invoice value of the part of the TC to which the liability arises. To the maximum extent permitted by relevant laws Elsevier expressly excludes all liability for breach of any implied warranty or express warranty relating to the quality of the Products or Services and any loss or damage suffered therefrom. Nothing in this TC shall limit Elsevier’s existing legal or statutory rights or those of any person or corporation to whom the Client is responsible. For the avoidance of doubt, Elsevier shall not be liable for any indirect or consequential loss or damage, howsoever caused, or any loss of profit, anticipated or otherwise, suffered by the Client, third parties or any other person or corporation.

9. Force majeure

If a cause of force majeure shall occur, neither party shall be under any liability to the other for failure or delay in performance, but the performance of the TC shall use good faith efforts to comply as closely as possible with the provisions of this TC and to avoid the effects of such event to the extent possible. Elsevier shall not be liable for any indemnity or compensation which would arise in case of force majeure even if Elsevier had been previously properly identified by Client. Elsevier shall use commercially reasonable efforts to comply with the provisions of the TC and agree by both parties, including such things as format, printing processes, technical design and size and kind of address file, weights and the like. All drawings, descriptive matter, specifications and advertising issued by Elsevier or any descriptions or illustrations contained in Elsevier’s catalogues or brochures are issued or published for the sole purpose of giving an approximate description of the Products and Services described in them. They will not form part of the TC. Publishing errors, including, but not limited to, typographical errors, having no significant effect on the editorial content or design character of the Products and Services, cannot be considered a reason for renegotiation of the TC, as the case may be, merely on the ground of such errors.

10. Transfer of rights

If any part of this TC is held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be wholly or partly illegal, invalid, void, voidable, unenforceable or unreasonableness be deemed severable and the remaining provisions of this TC shall continue in full force and effect. Failure or delay by Elsevier in exercising or enforcing any right or under any part of the TC will not be construed as a waiver of any of its rights under the TC.
