1. Applicability

These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent (the “Client”) relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier (the "Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgment, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the “TC”). They supersede any previous supply terms and conditions. For the purposes of the TC, Elsevier means the company within the Elsevier group that is providing the Products or Services as set out on the order acknowledgment and any other company within the Elsevier group and its respective subsidiaries, unless otherwise agreed in writing and signed by an authorized signatory of Elsevier. Nothing in the TC will exclude or limit Elsevier’s liability for fraud or fraudulent misrepresentation. Where Products are sold to the Client that contain third party software or hardware such a sale may be subject to additional licence terms.

2. Offer and acceptance

Acceptance of an order is made by Elsevier when it delivers the Products or Services to the Client or commences performance of the Services for the Client. The Client is bound by the TC upon receipt of the order acknowledgment. A copy of the TC will be issued to the Client upon request. Reprints cannot be returned once these have been printed.

3. Prices, taxes and currencies

Prices quoted by Elsevier are exclusive of any value added tax (VAT) or other tax that may be payable to Elsevier under the TC. The Client will be charged at the appropriate tax rate for the relevant jurisdiction and the TC will reflect any increase in fullysoftmax, such as the amount actually remitted to Elsevier by the Client.

4. Payment

Unless otherwise agreed in writing, payments shall be effected within thirty (30) days of the invoice date in the currency stated. If the Products or Services are delivered to the Client in more than one lot, payments shall be made by the Client in respect of each lot at the time when each lot is delivered. Elsevier retains the right to suspend supply of the Products or Services to the Client if the Client fails to make payments to Elsevier in accordance with the terms of the TC.

5. Cancellations & Returns

If the Client wishes to cancel an order or any part thereof, the Client shall be entitled to receive payment for the Products or Services not performed by Elsevier under the TC, subject to an appropriate deduction for any expenses incurred by Elsevier in connection with the cancellation. The Client shall not be entitled to receive a refund if any of the Products or Services have been delivered to the Client or have been used, consumed, or otherwise disposed of by the Client.

6. Intellectual property

Copyright and other intellectual property rights to all Elsevier proposals, publications and other Products and/or Services shall remain with Elsevier unless otherwise agreed in writing. In the event that Elsevier is held to be infringing any intellectual property rights, the Client shall at all times during the term strictly comply with all applicable laws, ordinances, codes, regulations, rules and/or any agreements entered into by or on behalf of Elsevier in connection with the Client’s use of the Products and Services. In the event of any such infringement, the Client shall forthwith destroy or return all of the Products and/or Services to Elsevier

These terms and conditions contain all the representations and understandings between the parties in relation to the subject matter of the TC. In the event of any dispute or dissatisfaction with the Products or Services, the Client shall give Elsevier thirty (30) days’ written notice of such dispute or dissatisfaction. The Client shall be entitled to seek redress in the manner provided for in this TC, provided that the Client first engages in good faith with Elsevier to resolve the issue or dispute. The Client shall not be entitled to seek redress in any other manner or forum for any dispute or dissatisfaction with the Products or Services unless the Client has first engaged in good faith with Elsevier to resolve the issue or dispute. The Client shall not be entitled to seek redress in any other manner or forum for any dispute or dissatisfaction with the Products or Services unless the Client has first engaged in good faith with Elsevier to resolve the issue or dispute.

8. Governing law

The TC and the disputes arising out of or related to the TC shall be governed by the laws of England. The Parties agree that the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods shall be excluded from application of this TC.

9. Jurisdiction

Any legal action or proceeding against Elsevier arising out of or related to the TC shall be brought in the State of New York, United States of America, and in such event Elsevier hereby irrevocably submits to the exclusive jurisdiction of the New York State and Federal Courts in New York City, and waives any objection to personal jurisdiction or venue in such courts. The Client hereby irrevocably waives and consents to service of process in any such suit, action or proceeding by any method permitted by law.

10. Force majeure

If by reason of labor dispute, strikes, strike, lock out or other actions of the Client, accidents, power or telecommunications failure, customs delays, governmental restrictions or actions other than the Client’s control, the Client is unable to perform any of its obligations under the TC, the Client shall give Elsevier written notice of such event and the TC shall be temporarily suspended or terminated until such time as the Client is able to fully perform its obligations under the TC. The Client’s suspension or termination of the TC may not exceed one hundred and twenty (120) days in the aggregate. If the Client suspends or terminates the TC for a period exceeding one hundred and twenty (120) days, Elsevier may terminate the TC.

11. Audit

Elsevier will have the right to inspect the Client’s records at any time to verify the Client’s compliance with the terms and conditions of the TC. The Client shall at all times during the term cooperate with Elsevier in connection with any such inspection.
