1. Applicability

These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the "TC"). The Client shall be deemed to have accepted the present supply terms and conditions. For the purposes of the TC, Elsevier shall mean the company within the Elsevier group that is providing the Products or Services as set out on the Rate Card, which can be found here: Rate Card. The words "Elsevier", "we", "us", "our" used in this TC and any TCs are references to Elsevier and its approved agents, representatives and sub-contractors and shall include their successors in title and assigns.

2. Offer and acceptance

Acceptance of any offer by a Client other than as expressly agreed in writing by and signed as an authoritative signature of Elsevier. Nothing in the TC will exclude or limit Elsevier’s liability for fraudulent misrepresentation. Where Products are sold to the Client that contain third party software or such a same key may be subject to additional licence terms.

3. Price, taxes and currencies

Unless otherwise expressly agreed by Elsevier in writing, any purchase order for the Products or Services from Elsevier for its own account and use and not on behalf of any other person or entity. If Elsevier is a client, it is an employee, is represented and waives that it is purchasing the Products or Services from Elsevier for the account and use of no more than one identified institutional subscriber or as principal, if the entity is permitted to order personal subscriptions in a representative capacity, for the account and use of no more than one identified individual subscriber for valid personal use. Client acknowledges that violation of this representation and warranty will cause irremediable harm to Elsevier. Upon any violation of this representation and warranty, Elsevier shall be entitled to immediate injunctive relief requiring Client to declare all recipients of the Products and Services from Elsevier, including all actual recipients that have not previously properly identified by Client. Elsevier shall use commercially reasonable efforts to comply with descriptions of the Products and Services agreed by both the parties in the relevant order, including such things as format, printing processes, technical, size and kind of address, weights and the like. All drawings, descriptive matter, specifications and advertising issued by Elsevier or any descriptions or illustrations contained in Elsevier’s catalogues or brochures are issued as published for the sole purpose of giving an approximate description of the Products and Services described in them. They will not form part of the TC. Elsevier publishes, editing, including, but not limited to, typographical errors, having no significant effect on the editorial content or design characteristic of the Products and Services, cannot be considered a reason for requesting returns, as the case may be, under the terms of supply.

4. Feedback

Feedback may be solicited by Elsevier, either by direct inquiry or by asking Users or other third parties to comment on the Quality of Products and Services, unless otherwise expressly agreed by Elsevier in writing. Feedback is used for the purpose of improving the Products and Services. Elsevier reserves the right to publish feedback in any format, including, but not limited to, reports, articles, or advertisements. Feedback may be published on Elsevier’s website or through any other means of communication. Feedback is not confidential and is not subject to any non-disclosure agreement. Elsevier may use feedback in any manner it deems appropriate, including, but not limited to, improving the Products and Services, generating new products or services, or modifying existing products or services. Feedback is not subject to any warranty or representation, and Elsevier shall not be liable for any harm, damage, or expense arising from the use or dissemination of feedback.

5. Intellectual property

8. Liability and claims

The Client shall at all times during the term strictly comply with all applicable laws, ordinances, codes, regulations, standards and judicial or administrative order ("Applicable Laws") or "Laws") relevant to its duties, obligations and performance under this Agreement. The United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods ("INCOTERMS") for the interpretation or enforcement thereof. The Client has entered into this TC in the knowledge that the liability of Elsevier is to be limited in accordance with these terms and conditions and the charges have been agreed accordingly. The Client acknowledges that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations.

9. Force majeure

If by reason of labor dispute, strike, strain, or inability to obtain labor, materials, fire or other action of the elements, accidents, power or telecommunication failures, custom delays, governmental restrictions or appropriation or other causes beyond the control of the party, such party is unable to perform in whole or in part its obligations in this TC, then such party shall be relieved of those obligations to the extent it is thereby unable to perform, and such party shall not be liable to perform any such party. The party subject to an event of force majeure shall use good faith efforts to comply with any obligations that could be performed as closely as possible with the provisions of this TC and to avoid the effects of such event to the extent possible.

10. Advertising & Displays

Clients are responsible for ensuring that all advertising is reviewed by Elsevier in electronic form prior to publication. Elsevier reserves the right to reject any advertising or promotional material that does not comply with the requirements set forth in this TC. Elsevier reserves the right to reject any advertising or promotional material that does not comply with the requirements set forth in this TC. Clients shall be responsible for obtaining all necessary rights and permissions for the use of advertising or promotional material, including obtaining any required approvals from the relevant authorities. If the Client wishes to reject any advertising or promotional material, it must do so in writing within 14 days of receipt of the advertising or promotional material.

11. Audit

The Client shall be provided with a copy of the invoice for any order placed with Elsevier, unless otherwise agreed in writing. The Client shall be responsible for verifying the accuracy of the invoice. The Client shall be responsible for paying any taxes, duties, or charges imposed on the Products or Services. The Client shall be responsible for any errors or omissions in the invoice or the invoice number. The Client shall be responsible for any late payments, interest, or penalties.

12. Compliance with laws

The Client shall not engage in piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products or any other products of Elsevier or its affiliates, nor shall it directly or indirectly facilitate any other party to engage in those activities. The Client shall promptly notify Elsevier if it becomes aware of any piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products by any third party. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due in respect of its sales of the Products, exercising full control and strictly adhering to all of its own losses from any uncollected amounts. Delays or failures in obtaining such payments will not affect the Client’s obligation to make payments to Elsevier under this TC.

13. Cancellations & Returns

The Client shall be entitled to return any Products or Services that are defective, non-conforming, or otherwise不符合 quality standards. The Client shall notify Elsevier in writing of its intention to return any Products or Services within 7 days of delivery. Elsevier will issue a return merchandise authorization (RMA) number, which must be used to return the Products or Services. The Client will be responsible for all costs and expenses associated with returning the Products or Services, including the cost of return shipment and insurance. If the Products or Services are returned to Elsevier, Elsevier will inspect them and determine whether they meet the return criteria. If the Products or Services are found to be defective or non-conforming, Elsevier will issue a credit or refund to the Client in accordance with the return policy. If the Products or Services are not defective or non-conforming, Elsevier will charge the Client for the Products or Services at the purchase price and refuse the return.

14. General

The Client acknowledges that it has entered into this TC in the knowledge that the liability of Elsevier is to be limited in accordance with these terms and conditions and the charges have been agreed accordingly. The Client acknowledges that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations.
