prices charged by Elsevier. Where general terms and conditions of business are proposed by the Client, it is the Client’s obligation to ensure that any such variation to the TC and any representations about the Products and Services shall have no effect unless expressly agreed in writing and signed by an authorized signatory of Elsevier. Nothing in the TC will exclude or limit Elsevier’s liability for fraudulent misrepresentation. Where Products are sold to the Client that contain third party software or services such a sale may be subject to additional license terms.

offer and acceptance/ Description offer is issued by Elsevier or (if earlier) Elsevier delivers the Products or issues the invoice to the Client or commencement performance of the Services. For all other products Elsevier are subject to acceptance of the ordered Products. Unless otherwise expressly agreed in writing, whether by way of order acknowledgement or invoice. Where general terms and conditions of business are proposed by the Client, it is the Client’s obligation to ensure that any such variation to the TC and any representations about the Products and Services shall have no effect unless expressly agreed in writing and signed by an authorized signatory of Elsevier. Nothing in the TC will exclude or limit Elsevier’s liability for fraudulent misrepresentation. Where Products are sold to the Client that contain third party software or services such a sale may be subject to additional license terms.

Client shall at all times during the term strictly comply with all applicable laws, ordinances, codes, regulations, and governmental or other authority that any third party government or other authority, or any other third party having knowledge of any such piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products or any other products of Elsevier or its affiliates, shall not in any way or manner facilitate any other party to engage in those activities. The Client shall promptly notify Elsevier if it becomes aware of any piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products by any third party. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due in respect of its sales of the Products, exercising full credit control and solely bearing all of its own losses resulting from any uncollected amounts. Defaults or failures in obtaining such payments shall not affect the Client’s obligation to make payments to Elsevier under clause 12.5.

Copyright and other intellectual property rights to all Elsevier proposals, publications and other Products and Services shall remain with Elsevier unless otherwise agreed in writing. The Client is hereby advised that Elsevier offers a wide range of advertising options to Clients. Including the:

If by reason of labor dispute, strikes, inability to obtain labor or materials, fire or other action of the elements, war, accidents, or any other causes beyond the control of a party, such party is unable to perform in whole or in part or its obligations set forth in this TC, then such party shall be relieved of those obligations to the extent it is thereby unable to perform, and such failure to perform shall not make such party liable to any other party. The subject matter of an event of force majeure shall use good faith efforts to continue performances as close as possible with the provisions of this TC and to avoid the effects of such event to the extent possible.

2. Applicability

The Client agrees to indemnify Elsevier against all losses, claims, damages, costs, expenses, actions, settlements and judgments against Elsevier resulting from any violation of the TC. Any representation or warranty given by Elsevier or failure by Elsevier to perform in accordance with the TC will not be construed as a waiver of any of its rights under the TC. Failure or delay by Elsevier in enforcing any provision of the TC will not be construed as a waiver of any of its rights under the TC. The Client will be solely responsible for its own cost for completing any foreign-exchange-related procedures in the said territory that are necessary to enable the Client to make payment.

If the Client cancels an order either fully or partially, a cancellation fee may be charged. All cancellations must be made in writing. This fee will be calculated to cover any external or internal costs which have been incurred or committed up to and including the date of the Client’s request for cancellation. Orders for publications must be canceled in writing prior to the relevant date at space closing date, but in the event that any cancellations are made after such date, Elsevier shall be entitled to charge the full cost of the advertisement. Any returns of the products shall be subject to the relevant Elsevier company’s return policy applicable to the product at the time of return. Details of such policies will be published for the sole purpose of giving an approximate description of the Products and Services described in them. They will not form part of the TC. Publishing errors, including, but not limited to, typographical errors, having no significant effect on the editorial content or design characteristics of the Products and Services, cannot be considered a reason for republishing, and as such may be, where the case may be, non returnable.

3. Price terms and currencies

The Client shall not engage in piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products or any other products of Elsevier or its affiliates, nor shall it directly or indirectly facilitate any other party to engage in those activities. The Client shall promptly notify Elsevier if it becomes aware of any piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products by any third party. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due in respect of its sales of the Products, exercising full credit control and solely bearing all of its own losses resulting from any uncollected amounts. Defaults or failures in obtaining such payments shall not affect the Client’s obligation to make payments to Elsevier under clause 12.5.

5. Payment

The Client shall not be entitled to any reimbursement for the costs of any advertising content for which the Client has not paid or for which the Client was not charged. Where any proposal contains any material infringing copyright or any other intellectual property right, Elsevier reserves the right to refuse receipt of, or to cease any publication thereof. If the Client wishes to dispute any invoice or (part), the Client shall, as soon as reasonably practicable, but no later than the due date of such invoice, send full details of such dispute to Elsevier in writing. The Client shall remain liable for full payment of the disputed amount until the dispute has been resolved. If the Client disputes an invoice (or part) of which Elsevier has not notified the Client in writing of its intention to refuse to accept payment, Elsevier shall not be required to pay interest on the disputed amount to the Client.

2. Applicability

1. Applicability

The Client has entered into this TC in the knowledge that the liability of Elsevier is to be limited in accordance with these terms and conditions and the charges have been agreed accordingly. The Client acknowledges that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations.

12. Compliance with laws

The Client is responsible for ensuring that its sales of the Products, exercising full credit control and solely bearing all of its own losses resulting from any uncollected amounts. Defaults or failures in obtaining such payments shall not affect the Client’s obligation to make payments to Elsevier under clause 12.5.

The Client shall not engage in piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products or any other products of Elsevier or its affiliates, nor shall it directly or indirectly facilitate any other party to engage in those activities. The Client shall promptly notify Elsevier if it becomes aware of any piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products by any third party. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due in respect of its sales of the Products, exercising full credit control and solely bearing all of its own losses resulting from any uncollected amounts. Defaults or failures in obtaining such payments shall not affect the Client’s obligation to make payments to Elsevier under clause 12.5.

13. Cancellations & Returns

If the Client cancels an order either fully or partly, a cancellation fee may be charged. All cancellations must be made in writing. This fee will be calculated to cover any external or internal costs which have been incurred or committed up to and including the date of the Client’s request for cancellation. Orders for publications must be canceled in writing prior to the relevant date at space closing date, but in the event that any cancellations are made after such date, Elsevier shall be entitled to charge the full cost of the advertisement. Any returns of the products shall be subject to the relevant Elsevier company’s return policy applicable to the product at the time of return. Details of such policies will be published for the sole purpose of giving an approximate description of the Products and Services described in them. They will not form part of the TC. Publishing errors, including, but not limited to, typographical errors, having no significant effect on the editorial content or design characteristics of the Products and Services, cannot be considered a reason for republishing, and as such may be, where the case may be, non returnable.

The Client shall be entitled to charge the full cost of the advertising content in consultation with the Client or (ii) refund to Client a pro rata portion of the fee charged. Where copy is received late or not at all, Elsevier will make all payments due under the TC without any deduction whether by way of set-off, counterclaim, discount, abatement or otherwise unless the Client has a valid court order requiring an amount equal to such deduction to be paid by the Client to Elsevier. From the date of the invoice to the date of payment in full, interest at the rate of 5% may be charged to the Client on any amounts outstanding for more than the payments are made, and the amount actually extended to Elsevier by Elsevier shall be charged to the Client at Elsevier’s current rate of interest per annum. The Client is solely responsible for ensuring that the Client nor any of its officers, directors, employees or agents shall pay, offer, give, promise or authorize the payment, or the Client shall retain a complete copy of all materials delivered to Elsevier. Elsevier shall take reasonable care but shall not be liable for any accidental loss or damage thereto. Client is solely responsible for any legal liability arising out of or relating to any Client’s advertising or other content (the “Advertising Content”). Client represents and warrants that (i) Client holds the necessary legal rights to use, reproduce, distribute, or transmit the Advertising Content; (ii) the use, reproduction, distribution, or transmission of the Advertising Content will not violate any civil or criminal laws, rules or regulations or industry codes or any rights of any third party; (iii) the use, reproduction, distribution, or transmission of the Advertising Content will not misappropriate any copyright, patent, trademark, trade secret, music, image, or other proprietary or property right, false advertising, unfair competition, defamation, invasion of privacy or rights of publicity, violation of any anti- discrimination law or regulation, or any other right of any person or entity; (iv) Advertising Content contains with any applicable laws, rules, industry regulations and governmental or other authority that any third party government or other authority, or any other third party having knowledge of any such piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products or any other products of Elsevier or its affiliates, shall not in any way or manner facilitate any other party to engage in those activities. The Client shall promptly notify Elsevier if it becomes aware of any piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products or any other products of Elsevier or its affiliates. Any representation or warranty given by Elsevier or failure by Elsevier to perform in accordance with the TC will not be construed as a waiver of any of its rights under the TC. Failure or delay by Elsevier in enforcing any provision of the TC will not be construed as a waiver of any of its rights under the TC.
