ELSEVIER TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF SUPPLY

1. Applicability
These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the "TC"). They supersede any previous supply terms and conditions of Elsevier. The Client shall enter into an agreement with the Elsevier company that is granting the Products or Services set out on the Elsevier order acknowledgment for the purpose of these terms and conditions.

2. Acceptance and offer
Elsevier shall issue a written order acknowledgement for the Products and Services to the Client from Elsevier that the Client shall be entitled to effect by the Client to purchase the Products and Services subject to the TC. No order placed by the Client shall be deemed accepted until a written acknowledgement of order is issued by Elsevier or [further] Elsevier delivers the Products or issues the invoice to the Client or commencement of performance of the Services for the Client. All products and/or services are supplied on the basis of the Elsevier order acknowledgement. Until such acknowledgement is received, any order placed by the Client may be subject to additional terms and conditions.

3. Execution and modification of the order
The Client shall not be entitled to assign the TC or any part of it without the prior written consent of Elsevier. Elsevier reserves the right to change or cancel any order if, in the sole discretion of Elsevier, the Client is not creditworthy or if the products may not be available. No sub-contracting is permitted if the invoice is to be fulfilled by persons other than those nominated in the order acknowledgment. All changes in the TC, including modifications to the Products and Services, must be agreed in writing by both parties in the relevant order, including such things as non-disclosure agreements, technical design, code of address, files, weights and the like. All drawings, descriptive material, specifications and advertising by Elsevier or any descriptions or illustrations contained in Elsevier's catalogues or brochures are issued or published for the sole purpose of giving an overall impression of the description and Services described therein. They will form part of the TC. The publishing errors, including, but not limited to, typographical errors, having no significant effect on the editorial content or design characteristics of the Products and Services, cannot be considered a reason for requesting delivery or, as the case may be, modifying the quotations.

4. General and modification of the order
Any modifications to the order must be agreed in writing by both parties. Any changes in the TC shall be subject to the written agreement of both parties and, to the extent that the Client has already paid for the Products or services, the invoice value shall be reduced to reflect the changes agreed to by both parties.

5. Prices, taxes and currencies
Prices are quoted on an ex-works basis unless otherwise agreed in writing. Payment terms, currency and tax requirements are set out in the relevant order acknowledgment and, subject to any further agreement, payment will be secured by receipt of a deposit and the net balance paid within the time period specified. Payment does not include a payment of reasonable and bona fide expenditures, such as travel or lodging expenses, which are standardized. Elsevier reserves the right to adjust these terms as and when it deems necessary.

6. Distribution
The Client shall not engage in piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products or any other products of Elsevier or its affiliates, nor shall it distribute or otherwise facilitate any other party to engage in these activities. The Client shall promptly notify Elsevier if it becomes aware of any piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products by any third party. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers demands due amounts in respect of sales of the Products. Payment will be made upon receipt of a deposit and the invoice value paid. Payment shall be secured by receipt of a deposit and the remaining amount paid within the time period specified. Payment does not include a payment of reasonable and bona fide expenditures, such as travel or lodging expenses, which are standardized. Elsevier reserves the right to adjust these terms as and when it deems necessary.

7. Intellectual property
Copyright and other intellectual property rights to all Elsevier proposals, publications and other products or Services shall remain with Elsevier unless agreed otherwise in writing. The rights granted by Elsevier are non-exclusive and for the purpose expressly agreed upon. Any other use not required the prior written permission of Elsevier. The Client shall not acquire any intellectual property rights in the Products. No part of the Elsevier proposal, publications or products or Services may be reprinted, re-used, translated or adapted, reproduced, mechanically, by photocopying, recording or in any other manner or form, without the specific prior written permission of Elsevier.

8. Liability and claims
The Client acknowledges that the liability of Elsevier is to be limited in accordance with these terms and conditions and the Client agrees that any such limitation of liability shall apply to the maximum extent permitted by law. Nothing in the TC shall be construed as creating an obligation to indemnify the other party against the other party's own negligence. Elsevier's liability for any other loss or impairment is limited to the invoice value of the part of the TC which gives rise to the liability, to the extent that Elsevier or its employees or agents or any other party or entity ("the Party") is strictly liable for that party's own negligence. Nothing in the TC shall be construed as creating an obligation to indemnify the other party against any other loss or impairment for which the Party is legally responsible.

9. Force majeure
The Client acknowledges that in the event of any event or circumstances beyond its control, including but not limited to, acts of God, war, act of state, riot, civil commotion, governmental or regulatory action or strikes or lockouts, the Client is not liable for any consequence, including, but not limited to, the loss of profits, or other losses arising from the TC or its performance shall be in no event limited to the invoice value of the part of the TC which gives rise to the liability, to the extent that Elsevier or its employees or agents or any other party or entity ("the Party") is strictly liable for that party's own negligence. Nothing in the TC shall be construed as creating an obligation to indemnify the other party against any other loss or impairment for which the Party is legally responsible.

10. Terms and conditions
The Client shall not engage in piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products or any other products of Elsevier or its affiliates, nor shall it adapt, translate, modify or alter in any manner or form the Products provided by Elsevier unless agreed in writing. The Client shall promptly notify Elsevier if it becomes aware of any piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products by any third party. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers demands due amounts in respect of sales of the Products. Payment will be made upon receipt of a deposit and the invoice value paid.
