Clinical Nutrition

Overview

Clinical Nutrition, the official journal of ESPEN, The European Society for Clinical Nutrition and Metabolism, is an international journal providing scientific information on nutritional and metabolic care and the relationship between nutrition and disease both in the setting of basic science and clinical practice. Published bi-monthly, each issue combines original articles and reviews providing an invaluable reference for any specialist concerned with these fields. Nutrition and nutritional care have gained wide clinical and scientific interest during the past decades. The increasing knowledge of metabolic disturbances and nutritional assessment in chronic and acute diseases has stimulated rapid advances in design, development and clinical application of nutritional support. The aims of ESPEN are to encourage the rapid diffusion of knowledge and its application in the field of clinical nutrition and metabolism.

Being the journal of ESPEN with members from various interests, either focused on basic research or clinical disciplines, the journal reflects the scientific nature of this multidisciplinary background and encourages the coordination of investigation and research from these disciplines. The journal publishes guidelines, consensus statements, review papers, original articles, short communications, and letters to the Editor on those factors in acute and chronic diseases, which have metabolic and nutritional implications. It also publishes scientific works related to the development of new techniques and their application in the field of clinical nutrition.

1. Applicability
These terms and conditions apply to all orders, proposals, agreements made between the Client and any third party or its agent ("the Client") relating to the products and/or Services ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties for the TC. They supersede any previous understanding or communication between the parties.

2. General
The formation, existence, construction, performance, validity and all aspects of the TC shall be governed by the law of the corporate domicile of the Elsevier company which is providing the Products or Services. The parties agree to submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of such country for any and all matters relating to the TC.

3. Execution and modification of the order
Any modifications to the agreed product or service description, budget or schedule, as set out in the order acknowledgement, may result in an adjustment to the final price and/or delivery schedule at Elsevier’s discretion. If at the request of the Client, Elsevier renders additional Services in connection with the performance of the TC, Elsevier shall act in the name of, to the account of, and at the expense of the Client. Elsevier shall render and invoice for such additional Services.

4. Prices, taxes and currencies
Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing, prices quoted are exclusive of tax. All prices and currency shall be at Elsevier’s sole discretion.

5. Payment
Payment may be made by means of international credit cards, letters of credit, bank drafts, bank transfers, or such other means as may be mutually agreed between the parties. All fees and charges incurred by Elsevier in connection with the provision of the Products or Services shall be paid in full. Elsevier may charge interest on any overdue amounts at the rate of 5% per annum from the date of invoice until payment is made.

6. Delivery
The Client shall make available the Products or Services or any other payment to be paid by the Client to Elsevier, and shall be responsible for all taxes, duties, and other levies imposed on the sale of such Products or Services, or any part thereof.

7. Intellectual property
Copyright and other intellectual property rights in all Elsevier proposals, publications and other products or Services shall remain with Elsevier unless otherwise agreed in writing. The Client is not entitled to use the Products or Services for any purpose other than the purpose for which they were licensed.

8. Liability and claims
The MAXIMUM EXTENT PERMITTED BY CALIFORNIA LAW, Elsevier shall not be liable or responsible for any of the following losses which may arise by reason of any breach of the Terms of Conditions or any implied warranty, condition or other representation or any dealings with the Client or by any Customer of the Client or its officers or agents:

9. Force majeure
The Client shall be liable for any breach of contract or obligation arising out of or in connection with any act or omission or failure to perform any obligations under the TC, whether by reason of labor dispute, strikes, inability to obtain labor or materials, fire or other action of the elements, or to any other cause beyond its control.

10. Advertising & Reprints
Orders must specify a definite schedule of insertions, issues and sizes of space for a period of one year. Where an order for a series of advertisements is approved by Elsevier, it may be placed on a regular basis at regular intervals.

11. Audit
No advertising orders will be accepted for periods longer than one year. Where an order for a series of advertisements is approved by Elsevier, it may be placed on a regular basis at regular intervals.

12. Compliance with laws
Any cancellation or return of any of the Services shall cease to be effective immediately upon receipt by Elsevier of written notice of cancellation or return from the Client.

13. Cancellations & Returns
In such event, Elsevier may either (i) publish alternative Advertising Content in consultation with the Client or (ii) refund to Client a pro rata portion of the fee which Client has paid to Elsevier for display of the Advertising Content.

14. General
Any modification to the TC shall be binding on the Client only if such modification is in writing and signed by an authorized signature of Elsevier. If nothing to the contrary is to the contrary, Elsevier’s Liability for performance under the TC is limited to the extent provided for by the law of the country of the Client.
