Clinical Nutrition

Overview

Clinical Nutrition, the official journal of ESPEN, The European Society for Clinical Nutrition and Metabolism, is an international journal providing scientific information on nutritional and metabolic care and the relationship between nutrition and disease both in the setting of basic science and clinical practice. Published bi-monthly, each issue combines original articles and reviews providing an invaluable reference for any specialist concerned with these fields. Nutrition and nutritional care have gained wide clinical and scientific interest during the past decades. The increasing knowledge of metabolic disturbances and nutritional assessment in chronic and acute diseases has stimulated rapid advances in design, development and clinical application of nutritional support. The aims of ESPEN are to encourage the rapid diffusion of knowledge and its application in the field of clinical nutrition and metabolism.

Being the journal of ESPEN with members from various interests, either focused on basic research or clinical disciplines, the journal reflects the scientific nature of this multidisciplinary background and encourages the coordination of investigation and research from these disciplines. The journal publishes guidelines, consensus statements, review papers, original articles, short communications, and letters to the Editor on those factors in acute and chronic diseases, which have metabolic and nutritional implications. It also publishes scientific works related to the development of new techniques and their application in the field of clinical nutrition.

1. Applicability
These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made between the Client and Elsevier ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the "TC"). They supersede any previous supply terms and conditions.

2. Offer and acceptance/Description
Any offer by Elsevier shall be considered as accepted when the Client places the order and places such order in writing. Any variations to the TC, whether oral or written, must be agreed to in writing by an authorized official of Elsevier. Any offer or order that is not conclusive for Elsevier shall be deemed rejected. Elsevier may refuse any order in whole or in part.

3. Execution and modification of the order
The Client agrees that any notices, reproductions, republications, reprints or any other content in print or electronic format, shall be at the Client's risk as from delivery. The Client shall make all payments due under the TC without any deduction whether by way of set-off, counterclaim, discount, abatement or otherwise unless the Client has a valid court order requiring an amount equal to such deduction to be paid to the Client. The Client has the exclusive responsibility to make payments to Elsevier under the TC, including without limitation all bank charges and foreign exchange charges.

4. Prices, taxes and currency
Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing the prices for the Products and Services shall not be construed as a waiver of any of its rights under the TC. The Client has entered into this TC in accordance with the relevant laws of the Client's jurisdiction. For the purposes of determining any applicable tax or other charge, the Client shall be responsible for ensuring that any tax or other charge is paid in full.

5. Advertising
If by reason of labor dispute, strikes, inability to obtain labor or materials, fire or other action of the elements, war, or appropriation or other causes beyond the control of a party, such party is unable to perform in whole or in part, the TC shall be extended for a period of time equal to the period of such inability.

6. Distribution
The Client hereby agrees not to assign, transfer, sell, license, sub-license, or otherwise dispose of the Client's rights under or with respect to the Products or Services or any part thereof, except with Elsevier's prior written consent.

7. Intellectual property
The Client hereby agrees not to assign, transfer, sell, license, sub-license, or otherwise dispose of the Client's rights under or with respect to the Products or Services or any part thereof, except with Elsevier's prior written consent.

8. Liability and claims
The maximum extent permitted by relevant laws, Elsevier shall not be liable for any breach of warranty, or any other representation or warranty, whether express or implied, made in connection with the Products or Services, or for any loss or damage caused by or arising out of the use of the Products or Services.

9. Force majeure
In the event of a breach of this TC by Client. Orders must specify a definite schedule of insertions, issues and sizes of space for a series of advertisements. If a Client fails to do so, Elsevier shall have the right to cancel the order. If a Client cancels more than 75% of the order before the Closing Date, copy run in previous issue may be inserted. Client shall retain a complete copy of all materials delivered to Elsevier. Elsevier shall take reasonable care but shall not be liable for accidental loss or damage thereto. The Client shall use reasonable care to protect all advertising content from the time it is given to Elsevier until the time it is published in the agreed period or for the agreed period. The Client shall bear all costs of printing the advertisement. Any returns of the products shall be subject to the relevant Elsevier company's return policy...of such policies will be provided to the Client upon request. Reprints cannot be returned once these have been printed.

10. Advertising & Reprints
If the Client wishes to dispute any invoice in part, the Client shall, as soon as practicable, but no later than the due date of such invoice, send Elsevier a detailed dispute of such invoice. Elsevier shall then provide the Client with a revised invoice. The Client shall retain the right to be refunded any undisputed part of each invoice. If the Client fails to make any payment in advance or to pay within thirty days of the date of invoice, Elsevier shall be entitled to discontinue such advertising.

11. Audit
For the purposes of determining any applicable tax or other charge, the Client shall be responsible for ensuring that any tax or other charge is paid in full. The Client hereby agrees that it will make all payments due under the TC without any deduction whether by way of set-off, counterclaim, discount, abatement or otherwise unless the Client has a valid court order requiring an amount equal to such deduction to be paid to the Client. From the due date of the invoice to the date of payment in full, interest at the rate of 5% per annum on any sum outstanding, together with any collection fees incurred by Elsevier. If the Client wishes to dispute any invoice in part, the Client shall, as soon as practicable, but no later than the due date of such invoice, send Elsevier a detailed dispute of such invoice. Elsevier shall then provide the Client with a revised invoice. The Client shall retain the right to be refunded any undisputed part of each invoice. If the Client fails to make any payment in advance or to pay within thirty days of the date of invoice, Elsevier shall be entitled to discontinue such advertising.
