1. Applicability

These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals, agreements made by Elsevier and any third party and/or its “Client” relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier (“the Products and/or Services”) and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the “TC”). They supersede any previous understandings, agreements or communications between the parties, unless otherwise expressly agreed in writing. Any variation to the TC and any representations about the Products and Services shall have no effect unless expressly agreed in writing and signed by an authorized signature of Elsevier. Nothing in the TC will exclude or limit Elsevier’s Liability for fraud or fraudulent representation.

2. Offer and acceptance

Offers for the sale of the Products and Services by the Client from Elsevier shall be deemed to be offer to sell the products and services subject to the TC. No order placed by the Client shall be deemed accepted until written acknowledgement of order is issued by Elsevier or [Elsevier] deliver the products or issue the invoice to the Client or confirms performance of the Services for the Client. All products are subject to availability and until performance has been completed or the TC is cancelled. Elsevier may refuse to accept any order, in whole or in part, because of the unsuitability of the products or services, or due to shortage of raw materials, work or labour.

3. Execution and modification of the order

If by reason of labor dispute, strikes, inability to obtain labor or materials, fire or other action of the elements, or appropriation or other causes beyond the control of a party, such party is unable to perform in whole or in part, such party shall forthwith give written notice of the fact thereof to the other party. [Elsevier] may thereby, in its discretion, cancel or modify any such order. The following causes are exempted for the purpose of this provision: war, act of God, fire or other similar calamities, strikes, lockouts, or other labor disturbances, which may be beyond the control of a party. [Elsevier] will not be liable for any delay in delivery or performance due to any of the aforesaid causes.

4. Prices, taxes and currencies

4.1 Prices, taxes and currencies

Prices may be subject to local sales tax or value added taxes, which will be payable by the Client. All orders are subject to the terms of delivery and payment unless otherwise agreed in writing. If a Client’s order is placed for a product or service that is delivered in multiple lots or phases, a payment may be required against each lot or phase of delivery. If a Client’s account is subject to an open account or time bill terms, a Client shall pay any and all amounts due under the TC in accordance with the terms agreed upon. Invoices for the products shall show the applicable prices, the lessor of due date, and in the case of services, the agreed fee for the performance of the services.

5. Payment

5.1 Payment

Payment does not include a payment of reasonable and bona fide expenditures, such as travel or lodging expenses, which are directly necessary and reasonable to the performance of the Services or the execution or performance of a contract provided that such payments are permissible under the applicable law. Payments are due within thirty (30) days of the invoice date. Payment shall be made by bank transfer to Elsevier’s account in a bank located in the country where the Services are provided. All amounts are payable in the currency of the account, unless otherwise agreed in writing. The Client shall pay all reasonable and bona fide legal and enforcement fees, if any, including attorney’s fees, incurred by Elsevier in connection with the enforcement of this TC. Any payment to Elsevier that is returned or not accepted by Elsevier or is otherwise rejected by a financial institution or any other party shall be considered as returned and shall be charged to the Client’s account.

6. Distribution

6.1 Distribution

The Client shall not, except as otherwise permitted in writing by Elsevier, reproduce or copy the Products in whole or in part, store any copies of the Products in any medium or in any form, or make and/or distribute any copies of the Products to any third party, or divert the Products to any other use. Elsevier reserves the right, in its discretion, to immediately cease all distribution or use of the Products if the Client fails to comply with any of its obligations under the TC.

7. Intellectual property

7.1 Intellectual property

Copyright and other intellectual property rights to all Elsevier proposals, publications and other Products and Services shall remain with Elsevier unless agreed otherwise in writing. The rights granted by Elsevier are not assignable, transferable or sublicensable to any third party without Elsevier’s prior written consent. The Client shall be solely responsible for protecting its own intellectual property rights in the Products and Services and for ensuring that all necessary steps are taken to protect such rights. The Client shall not, without the prior written consent of Elsevier, reproduce, translate, modify, create derivative works of, or distribute any of the Products or Services in whole or in part in any medium or in any form, or make any copies or adaptations thereof. The Client shall not sublicense or otherwise transfer any rights or interests it has in the Products or Services to any third party.

8. Liability and claims

8.1 Liability and claims

These terms and conditions shall apply to all offers, proposals and agreements made by Elsevier and any third party and/or its “Client” relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier (“the Products and/or Services”) and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the “TC”). They supersede any previous understandings, agreements or communications between the parties, unless otherwise expressly agreed in writing. Any variation to the TC and any representations about the Products and Services shall have no effect unless expressly agreed in writing and signed by an authorized signature of Elsevier. Nothing in the TC will exclude or limit Elsevier’s Liability for fraud or fraudulent representation.

10. Compliance with laws

10.1 Compliance with laws

The Client shall at all times during the term strictly comply with all applicable laws, ordinances, codes, regulations, and other governmental requirements to which the Client is subject in respect of any of the Products or Services received from Elsevier under the TC. The Client shall maintain, at all times, adequate records and information as to the identity of any person to whom any payment to Elsevier under the TC has been made or to whom any copy of the Product has been supplied, or to whom it has been made or delivered, or to whom the Products or Services were made available.

11. Audit

11.1 Audit

At any time while the TC is in effect, Elsevier shall have the right, upon reasonable prior notice, to inspect the Client’s premises and accounts, and to examine any of the Products and Services, and to inspect any documentation, records, or books of account pertaining to the same. Elsevier shall also have the right to require the Client to disclose to Elsevier all the information, accounts, records, and books of account pertaining to the same.

12. Force majeure

12.1 Force majeure

If no dates are so specified, delivery/performance will be within a reasonable time. Catalogues or brochures are issued or published for the sole purpose of giving an approximate description of the Products. No guarantee is made as to the accuracy of any such description or of the Products, and no penalty will be incurred if delivery or performance is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of Elsevier, including, but not limited to, labor disputes, strikes, inability to obtain labor or materials, fire or other action of the elements, appropriation or other causes beyond the control of a party, or the failure of a third party to deliver such items in accordance with the order. When impossibility of performance is caused by any breach on the part of Elsevier; AND (ii) NEITHER PARTY SHALL BE RESPONSIBLE FOR death OR PERSONAL INJURY ... OWN NEGLIGENCE OR WILFUL INTENT OR THE NEGLIGENCE OF ITS EMPLOYEES OR OTHERS FOR WHOM THE PARTY IS LEGALLY RESPONSIBLE.

14. General

14.1 General

[Elsevier] shall not be responsible for any unsolicited or uninvited submissions for which no payment has been received. The Client shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless Elsevier, its employees, officers, directors, agents, successors and assigns from and against any and all claims, suits, demands, actions, and judgments or other actions or proceedings which are brought or threatened against [Elsevier] or any of its officers, directors, agents, successors and assigns as a result of any action or inaction by the Client in connection with its obligations hereunder.
