1. Applicability
These terms and conditions apply to all offers, proposals, agreements made between the Publisher and any third party or its agent ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgment, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the "TC"). They supersede any previous agreement or representation, oral or written, between the Publisher and the Client. The Client shall acknowledge and agree to the terms contained in the order acknowledgment, and in the event of any breach of the TC, the Client shall be deemed to have been informed of any such breach of the TC and shall be deemed to have waived any right of action under the TC.

2. Compliance with laws
The Client shall not be entitled to assign the TC or any part of it without the prior written consent of Elsevier. Elsevier will be entitled to terminate this TC and take all necessary steps to enforce its rights if the Client breaches any of its obligations under the TC.

3. Advertising & Reprints
If the Client cancels an order either fully or partially, a cancellation fee may be charged. All cancellations must be notified in writing to Elsevier as soon as reasonably practicable, but no later than the due date of such invoice, such fee will be calculated to cover any external or internal costs which have been incurred or committed up to and including the date of such written cancellation notice.

4. Prices, taxes and currencies
If the Client cancels an order either fully or partially, a cancellation fee may be charged. All cancellations must be notified in writing to Elsevier as soon as reasonably practicable, but no later than the due date of such invoice, such fee will be calculated to cover any external or internal costs which have been incurred or committed up to and including the date of such written cancellation notice.

5. General
Nothing in the TC shall be construed as creating an obligation to indemnify the other party against the other party's own negligence or the negligence of its employees or other persons for whom the party is legally responsible. And (ii) neither party shall be responsible for death or personal injury (whether caused by the negligence of its employees or otherwise) and in relation to its dealings with any employee or official of a government agency or any other government owned, operated or controlled body, to any extent that is inconsistent with the extent and nature of its responsibility and obligations as set forth in the TC. The Client shall not acquire any intellectual property rights in the Products. No part of the Elsevier proposals, publications, data or products may be stored in any automated data file and/or reproduced, whether electronically, mechanically, by photocopying, recording or in any other manner or form, without the specific prior written permission of Elsevier.

6. Distribution
If the Client cancels an order either fully or partially, a cancellation fee may be charged. All cancellations must be notified in writing to Elsevier as soon as reasonably practicable, but no later than the due date of such invoice, such fee will be calculated to cover any external or internal costs which have been incurred or committed up to and including the date of such written cancellation notice.

7. Intellectual property
The Client shall not be entitled to assign the TC or any part of it without the prior written consent of Elsevier. Elsevier will be entitled to terminate this TC and take all necessary steps to enforce its rights if the Client breaches any of its obligations under the TC.

8. Liability and claims
The formation, existence, construction, performance, validity and all aspects of the TC shall be governed by the law of the corporate domicile of the Elsevier company which is providing the Products or Services. The parties agree to submit to the jurisdiction of the court located in that country. The Client shall not be entitled to assign the TC to a third party without Elsevier's prior written consent. Elsevier reserves the right to withhold supply of the Products or Services if the Client has exceeded its current credit limit. The Client shall not be entitled to apply any monies received by the Client, to clear any of the Client's outstanding debts to Elsevier.

9. Force majeure
The Client shall allow Publisher's authorized representative at any reasonable time to have access to Client's premises (or Client's premises) for the purpose of inspecting Client's facilities, books and records to verify Client's compliance with the TC.

10. Advertising & Reprints
The Client shall be entitled to apply any monies received by the Client, to clear any of the Client's outstanding debts to Elsevier. All products shall be delivered to the Client by such carrier as Elsevier may designate and the Client shall not be entitled to select its own carrier.

11. Applicability
If the Client cancels an order either fully or partially, a cancellation fee may be charged. All cancellations must be notified in writing to Elsevier as soon as reasonably practicable, but no later than the due date of such invoice, such fee will be calculated to cover any external or internal costs which have been incurred or committed up to and including the date of such written cancellation notice.

12. Compliance with laws
If the Client cancels an order either fully or partially, a cancellation fee may be charged. All cancellations must be notified in writing to Elsevier as soon as reasonably practicable, but no later than the due date of such invoice, such fee will be calculated to cover any external or internal costs which have been incurred or committed up to and including the date of such written cancellation notice.

13. Advertising & Reprints
If the Client cancels an order either fully or partially, a cancellation fee may be charged. All cancellations must be notified in writing to Elsevier as soon as reasonably practicable, but no later than the due date of such invoice, such fee will be calculated to cover any external or internal costs which have been incurred or committed up to and including the date of such written cancellation notice.
