1. Applicability

These terms and conditions shall apply to all proposals, quotations, agreements made between Elsevier and any third party ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties for each TC. These terms supersede any previous agreement between the parties for the TC. The Client agrees that, by placing products or services with the Company, the Client is accepting all of the terms and conditions set out in the Elsevier TC and any relevant order acknowledgment.

2. Offer and acceptance/ Description

Each order shall be subject to the terms and conditions set out in the Elsevier TC for the TC in force at the time of placing the order. Any variations to the TC and any representations about the Products and Services shall have no effect unless expressly agreed in writing and signed by an authorized signature of Elsevier. Nothing in the TC will exclude or limit Elsevier's Liability for fraudulent misrepresentation.

3. Prices, taxes and currencies

Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing the price(s) for the Products and Services shall be subject to change. Elsevier shall be entitled to add value added tax (if relevant) on the whole or any part of the purchase price. Invoices will be made out in sterling. Invoices will be paid in sterling only.

4. Payment

All payments shall be made to Elsevier in accordance with the payment terms and conditions stated in the invoice or order acknowledgement. If the Client does not pay any sum when due, Elsevier may charge interest on the outstanding sum from the due date until payment is made at the rate of 5% per annum or such other rate as may be specified in the Elsevier TC or agreed between the parties. Elsevier reserves the right to suspend delivery of the Products or Services until such outstanding sum has been paid.

5. Disposition

The Client shall ensure that the Clients proposals, publications and other content of any product or service, if used, shall be used only in accordance with these terms. The Client agrees that the Client shall not store, reproduce or otherwise use any content provided by Elsevier, without the prior written consent of Elsevier. The Client shall not reproduce, copy, distribute, republish, resell, or make any other use of the Products and/or Services, in whole or in part, except as expressly provided in these terms and conditions. The Client shall not resell the Products before ownership has passed to it provided that any sale shall be effected in the ordinary course of the Client's business at full market value and any such sale shall be a sale of the Client's property on the Client's own behalf and shall be as principal when making such a sale. Elsevier shall be entitled to recover payment for the copies of the Product notwithstanding that the Client has not purchased the Product. Elsevier reserves the right to exercise all its rights of action and enforcement related to these terms and conditions if the Client is in breach of these terms and conditions.

6. Force majeure

The Client acknowledges that after due diligence on the part of the Client, the Client is responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due from the sale of the Products and Services, including full control and timely resolution of any disputes. The Client shall pay any costs and/or expenses (including reasonable legal fees) incurred by Elsevier in connection with the Clients delinquent account.

7. Audit

Elsevier shall be entitled to apply any monies received by the Client, to clear any of the Client's outstanding debts to Elsevier. In the event of a dispute arising in relation to any invoice, payment or delivery, a single arbitrator shall be agreed upon. The Client acknowledges that the Client shall not acquire any intellectual property rights in the Products. No part of the Elsevier proposals, publications and other content shall be used by the Client in any manner whatsoever.

8. Liability and claims

To the extent that Elsevier is at fault (including any negligence), or liable for any breach of contract, tort (including any negligence), including, any negligent misrepresentation or fraudulent misrepresentation, Elsevier's entire liability for all claims shall be limited to the invoiced value of the part of the TC or Services that is the subject of the claim or dispute. Elsevier's liability for all other losses resulting from any event or occurrence shall be limited to the invoiced value of the part of the TC or Services, or part of the Services, that is the subject of the claim or dispute. Elsevier's entire liability for any claim for breach of contract, tort (including negligence), or any other form of liability (whether in contract, tort or otherwise) for any loss or damage to the Client or its property or to any persons or property or for any injury to the Client or any other person or property or for any loss or damage whether direct or indirect, or any loss of profit or contract, or any loss or damage whatsoever or howsoever caused and whether in tort or otherwise, shall be limited to the invoiced value of the part of the TC or Services, or part of the Services, that is the subject of the claim or dispute. Elsevier's liability shall be limited. Legal and beneficial title in any tangible Products supplied by Elsevier to the Client shall remain with Elsevier until the Client has paid the invoice value. The Client acknowledges that Elsevier's liability is to be limited in accordance with these terms and conditions and the knowledge that the liability of Elsevier is to be limited in accordance with these terms and conditions and the applicable laws and regulations of the country where the business is being operated or controlled entity (including, without limitation, state run universities, hospitals and libraries), or any subsidiary, representative or agent of Elsevier, or any individual acting on behalf of Elsevier, is acting as a representative or agent of Elsevier.

9. Jurisdiction

In the event of any dispute, claim or controversy arising out of or relating to these terms and conditions, the Client and Elsevier agree that the parties will attempt to resolve any such dispute, claim or controversy immediately and in good faith by negotiation and that in the event of such dispute, claim or controversy the Client and Elsevier will continue to perform all of their obligations under the TC and, to the extent possible, to avoid any suspension of the distribution of the Products or Services or the provision of any Service. The Client agrees that any claim or controversy arising out of or relating to these terms and conditions and any transaction between the Client and Elsevier, whether in contract or tort or otherwise, shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the courts of the State of Delaware, USA ("the Court") and the Client agrees to submit to the personal jurisdiction of the Court and to the venue and jurisdiction of the Court in connection therewith. The Client agrees to be bound by the judgment of the Court. If any provision of these terms and conditions is found to be invalid, unenforceable or void, then such provision(s) shall be severable and the remainder of these terms and conditions shall remain in full force and effect. All failure or delay in enforcing any provision of the TC or the TC as a whole shall not constitute a waiver of any of its rights under the TC.

10. Advertising & Reprints

The Client shall agree to market its products, including reproductions of the Products and other products of Elsevier, as set forth in the TC, as set forth in the TC, and to distribute, reproduce, publish, advertise, sell, resell, or otherwise dispose of the Products and/or Services in accordance with these terms and conditions. All rights granted by Elsevier are non-exclusive and for the purpose expressly agreed upon. Any other use that requires the prior written permission of Elsevier. The Client shall not acquire any intellectual property rights in the Products. The Client acknowledges that Elsevier has been given a discounted rate for volume by Elsevier, and the Client does not order the quoted volume, Elsevier shall have the right to cancel the order for that advertisement, if the alterations requested are unacceptable, unless such changes are accepted by Elsevier at its sole discretion.

11. Applicability of law

Each order shall be subject to the terms and conditions set out in the Elsevier TC for the TC in force at the time of placing the order. Any variations to the TC and any representations about the Products and Services shall have no effect unless expressly agreed in writing and signed by an authorized signature of Elsevier. Nothing in the TC will exclude or limit Elsevier's Liability for fraudulent misrepresentation.

12. Client shall be responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due from the sale of the Products and Services, including full control and timely resolution of any disputes. The Client shall pay any costs and/or expenses (including reasonable legal fees) incurred by Elsevier in connection with the Clients delinquent account.

13. Audit

Elsevier shall be entitled to apply any monies received by the Client, to clear any of the Client's outstanding debts to Elsevier. In the event of a dispute arising in relation to any invoice, payment or delivery, a single arbitrator shall be agreed upon. The Client acknowledges that the Client shall not acquire any intellectual property rights in the Products. No part of the Elsevier proposals, publications and other content shall be used by the Client in any manner whatsoever. The Client's use of any such content is at its own risk and Elsevier shall not be liable for any loss or damage that may result from the Client's use of any such content. The Client acknowledges that Elsevier's liability is to be limited in accordance with these terms and conditions and the applicable laws and regulations of the country where the business is being operated or controlled entity (including, without limitation, state run universities, hospitals and libraries), or any subsidiary, representative or agent of Elsevier, or any individual acting on behalf of Elsevier, is acting as a representative or agent of Elsevier.
