ELSEVIER TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF SUPPLY

1. Applicability

These terms and conditions shall apply to all proposals, offers and agreements made by Elsevier and any third party or its agent ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the "TC"). They supersede any previous orders or quotations from Elsevier. For the purposes of this TC, "force majeure" means any event beyond the control of Elsevier (including but not limited to computer virus, DDoS attack and other such acts of God) which makes it impractical or impossible for Elsevier to fulfill its obligations under the order. Any modifications to the agreed product or service description, budget or schedule, as set out in the order acknowledgement, may result in an adjustment to the final price and/or delivery schedule at Elsevier's discretion. If, at the request of the Client, Elsevier renders additional Services or delivers additional Products to the Client, additional charges may become payable. If the order is cancelled, Elsevier reserves the right to retain a purchase price for the products or services rendered.

2. Acceptance and description

For the purpose of these terms and conditions, "Products" shall mean any such physical products, where physical delivery is required, or any digital products, where digital delivery is required, including any copies of any such digital products. Furthermore, the Client agrees that the Client is responsible for the reasonable costs of any additional delivery charges. By signing the purchase order, the Client agrees to accept the delivery terms and conditions.

3. Liability and claims

Notwithstanding any other term of the TC, Elsevier shall be liable only as provided in the standard terms of the applicable liability and compensation policy. The limitations on liability set forth in this section shall apply whether the damages are claimed under any theory of liability, whether or not there was any negligent, reckless or intentional act, omission or other fault by Elsevier.

4. Prices, taxes and currencies

Elsevier may at any time, and from time to time, change any prices, taxes or currencies that appear in the price list. Any change in the prices, taxes or currencies that appear in the price list shall be binding on the Client as of the date when Elsevier gives notice of the change to the Client.

5. Warranties and representations

The Client acknowledges that it is responsible for collecting from its customers amounts due and owing, for ensuring that the Products or Services are delivered to the Client in accordance with the TC and for ensuring that the Client complies with all applicable laws, regulations, standards and policies. The Client further agrees that it will indemnify, defend and hold Elsevier harmless from any and all claims, demands, costs, expenses, damages or other liabilities, including attorneys' fees, arising out of or in connection with any breach of the TC by the Client, or any violation of any law or regulation by the Client or any of its employees, agents or contractors. The Client acknowledges that it is responsible for obtaining all necessary licenses, permits, consents and approvals required by law to use any Products or Services.

6. Distribution

The Client shall not, without the prior written consent of Elsevier, either assign, sub-license, permit or otherwise transfer any of its rights, interests or obligations under the TC or any part thereof to any third party. Any such transfer shall be void and have no effect when made.

7. Force majeure

The Client acknowledges that, in the event of a force majeure event, Elsevier shall not be liable for any failure to perform its obligations under the TC. Force majeure events shall include, but not be limited to, acts of God, acts of terrorism, strikes or other labor disputes, wars, hostility, requisition, nationalization or confiscation, epidemics, or any other event beyond Elsevier's control.

8. Payment

The Client shall pay all amounts due and owing to Elsevier in accordance with the TC. Any payment by the Client shall be made free of any deduction or offset, except as authorized in writing by Elsevier. Any payments received by Elsevier shall be applied to the Client's account in accordance with the TC, with the amount of any payment being applied first to the amount of the Client's outstanding balance, and then to any other amounts owed to Elsevier.

9. Risk of loss

The risk of loss of the Products shall pass to the Client at the point of delivery or the point of dispatch as specified in the TC. If the Client is responsible for the transport of the Products, the Client shall be responsible for the receipt of the Products at the point of delivery or the point of dispatch as specified in the TC.

10. Force majeure

If by reason of labor dispute, strikes, inability to obtain labor or materials, fire or other action of the elements, or for any other cause beyond the reasonable control of Elsevier, it shall be unable to perform in whole or in part its obligations under the TC, Elsevier's liability shall be limited to the extent of such delay, unless otherwise agreed between the parties.

11. Legal basis

The TC is intended to be an estimate and time for delivery/performance shall not be made of the essence by notice. The Client agrees to accept delivery of the Products or Services as set out on the Elsevier order acknowledgement or invoice. The Clients acknowledge that any additional charges or costs incurred by Elsevier in connection with the performance of the TC, Elsevier shall act in the name of, to the account of, and at the risk of the Client. The Client acknowledges that a higher price would be payable for the Products or Services but for such limitations.

12. Dispute resolution

Any disputes between the parties shall be resolved by arbitration in London, England. The arbitration shall be conducted in accordance with the rules of the London Court of International Arbitration, and the arbitration shall be conducted in English.

13. Governing law

The TC and any arbitration hereunder shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of England and Wales, without regard to conflict of laws principles. The Client agrees to submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of England for any such action or proceeding.

14. General

The Client acknowledges that it is responsible for obtaining all necessary licenses, permits, consents and approvals required by law to use any Products or Services. The Client further agrees that it will indemnify, defend and hold Elsevier harmless from any and all claims, demands, costs, expenses, damages or other liabilities, including attorneys' fees, arising out of or in connection with any breach of the TC by the Client, or any violation of any law or regulation by the Client or any of its employees, agents or contractors. The Client acknowledges that it is responsible for obtaining all necessary licenses, permits, consents and approvals required by law to use any Products or Services.
