1. Applicability
These terms and conditions shall apply to all proposals, offers and contracts made between Elsevier and any third party or its agent ("the Client") relating to the products and/or services of Elsevier ("the Products and/or Services") and, along with the relevant Elsevier order acknowledgement, shall form the entire agreement between the parties (the "TC"). They supersede any previous agreements, communications or representations between the Client and Elsevier. Where the Client enters into the Client's corporate business or administration department is proposed by the Client, these terms and conditions shall apply to the relevant department of Elsevier.

2. Offer and acceptance
(1) Elsevier shall issue the Product or Service subject to the Client's order for that Product or Service without any deduction whether by way of set-off, counterclaim, discount, abatement or otherwise unless the Client has a valid and current title to the Product or Service.

3. Execution and modification of the order
If no dates are so specified, delivery/performance will be within a reasonable time.

4. Prices, taxes and currencies
Unless otherwise agreed by Elsevier in writing, the terms and conditions of sale and the prices are expressed in Euros (€) unless otherwise specified. If no dates are so specified, delivery/performance will be within a reasonable time.

5. Payment
(1) From the due date of the invoice to the date of payment in full, interest at the rate of 5% per annum will be charged to the Client for late payment.

6. Distribution
The Client shall not engage, assist, reproduce, plagiarise any of the Products or any other products of Elsevier, nor shall it directly or indirectly facilitate any other party to engage in such activities. The Client shall promptly notify Elsevier if it becomes aware of any piracy, reproduction, or plagiarism of the Products by any third party. The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers' accounts due amounts in respect of the sale of the Product, recovering full control and safely holding all of its losses resulting from any unaccounted for.

7. Intellectual property
(1) The Client is solely responsible for securing any rights to permit the use of the Advertising Content by Elsevier for the purposes of this TC; (ii) the use, reproduction, distribution, or display of any Advertising Content in connection with any matter or business transacted by or on behalf of Elsevier.

8. Liability and claims
(1) Elsevier shall be liable to the Client for any and all losses which may arise by reason of any breach of this TC or implied warranty, condition or other term, any representation or any duty of any kind imposed on Elsevier by operation of law; (ii) liability for any indirect or consequential loss to the Client arising from any breach of this TC, or any loss caused by the Client or any of its employees.

9. Force majeure
(1) The formation, existence, construction, performance, validity and all aspects of the TC shall be governed by the law of the corporate domicile of the Elsevier company which is providing the Products or Services. The parties agree to submit to the jurisdiction of the court of the state or province in which the Products or Services are to be performed or furnished. Elsevier may substitute any of its agents or representatives for the performance of any obligation owed by Elsevier to the Client. Elsevier may transfer any of its obligations or rights under the TC to any other company in its group and may assign the TC or any part of it to any other person.

10. Termination
(1) During the term of this services, any notice of termination shall be deemed to have been given if served on the other party by first-class post at its last published address.

11.pireity
(1) The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers' accounts due amounts in respect of the sale of the Product, recovering full control and safely holding all of its losses resulting from any unaccounted for.

12. Other provisions
(1) The formation, existence, construction, performance, validity and all aspects of the TC shall be governed by the law of the corporate domicile of the Elsevier company which is providing the Products or Services. The parties agree to submit to the jurisdiction of the court of the state or province in which the Products or Services are to be performed or furnished. Elsevier may substitute any of its agents or representatives for the performance of any obligation owed by Elsevier to the Client. Elsevier may transfer any of its obligations or rights under the TC to any other company in its group and may assign the TC or any part of it to any other person.

13. Cancellations & Returns
(1) The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers' accounts due amounts in respect of the sale of the Product, recovering full control and safely holding all of its losses resulting from any unaccounted for.

14. Intellectual property
(1) The Client is solely responsible for collecting from its customers' accounts due amounts in respect of the sale of the Product, recovering full control and safely holding all of its losses resulting from any unaccounted for.
